could mortgage the real estate without the signature of the other. Personally it is my feeling that the bill now before us comes nearer to meeting the situation than Mr. Guerin's bill, although personally I would be glad to have the chance to vote for a bill that had some of the features of both and some features that neither one has. To my mind the important thing to do is to safeguard the homestead where the family lives, to safeguard the homestead where the title is in the husband or the wife, and that the homestead property could not be mortgaged unless both the husband and the wife have knowledge of the transaction. There have been a great many cases of hardship where the property being in the name of the husband was mortgaged without the wife's knowledge, and sometimes, in case of death, the wife thinking the property clear of mortgages, has been surprised to find mortgages placed on the property without her knowledge. Mrs. Pitt's bill would relieve that situation and make it so that neither could mortgage without the knowledge and consent of the other. It may be urged that in some cases the real estate is used in the business of the husband, and is not the homestead, and if it is business property, he should be given the right to mortgage without the wife's consent, or that similarly the wife may own business property and that she should be given the right to mortgage without the consent of the husband. It may be that some day we will reach a definition as to what the homestead is, so that we can except homestead property from the operation of this law. We have not got that far yet, and it seems to me that my colleague from Philadelphia, Mrs. Pitts, is to be commended for bringing this general proposition here so that we have an opportunity by our votes to put forth the married man and the married woman on the same plane of equality with regard to real estate. As the matter is a matter of general legal importance, I feel that even at this late hour I ought to take up the time of the House with some explanation as to the difference between these two bills. Personally I shall vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE

TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1923.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. T. L. Eyre) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for another blessed day of life; we are glad that we have the health and the strength and the disposition to do something worth while. Thou knowest how many laggards and slackers there are in the world; forbid that we should be numbered among them; may we redeem the time; may we do with our might what our hands find to do and may we strive to make a record that we shall not be ashamed of when we come to the end of life. May Thy richest blessing rest upon our Commonwealth, upon our Governor, upon the Lieutenant-Governor, upon the presiding officer of this morning's session, upon all who are in places of influence and authority. May Thy special blessing rest upon the Senators as they enter upon the duties of this new day, guide us in all that we do and say in Thy honor and glory. We ask it in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RECESS.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, on Wednesday, March 14, in my remarks in reference to Senate Bill No. 99, before the Senate at that time, on page 565, of the Journal, I am reported as saying that I met a certain minister coming out of a soloon. What I meant by that remark was that as I was coming out of a saloon I met him.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1 P. M. until Monday evening, March 26, 1923 at nine o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1923.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

O, Lord, Thou who art above all, according to Thy mighty power hath created all things and then dedicated all from the heights of Thy throne to the depths of the earth for good and use of man,having created him but a little lower than Thyself and appointed him steward over these abundant stores. We pray Thy blessing to rest upon us, that we may realize in a very high and sacred sense the sacred trust of this stewardship. To this end, bless the members of this House, and as the stewards of the manifold blessings of God, may they so administer that which Thou hast dedicated to the use and good of the people of this Commonwealth that the greatest good to the greatest number and everlasting and eternal glory to Thy name may result.

We ask it in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Morrison, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal approved.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act fixing the pay of election officers and clerks in cities of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at all elections in the cities of the first class the pay of judges of election shall be twenty-five dollars and the pay of inspectors and clerks shall be ten dollars

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. EDMONDS. I would like to ask the sponsor of the bill what change this law proposes in the salary of election officers.

Mr. DUNN. It changes the pay of the judges from fifteen to twenty-five dollars and of the inspectors and clerks from five to ten dollars.

Mr. EDMONDS. Has this increase, if I may ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, been requested by any of the authorities that have the supervision of elections in Philadelphia?

Mr. DUNN. It has been endorsed by the county commissioners of Philadelphia.

Mr. EDMONDS. By the registration commissioners?

Mr. DUNN. Not exactly the registration commissioners, because the registration commissioners have nothing to do with the election officers.

Mr. EDMONDS. That is all, I thank you very much. Mr. Speaker, it is always a great pleasure to me to agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, who is my near neighbor, and a very sincere gentleman, and when I disagree with him, it is only on the occasions when I am obliged to disagree. This bill proposes an increase of the salaries of election officers applying only to the city of Philadelphia. The bill increases the cost of elections, I should imagine, about $25,000. It makes the salary of the election judge $25. Now, when the bill was before the committee, one of the arguments presented for it was that the number of voters in the election divisions of Philadelphia had increased so greatly in some cases that it put a heavy burden upon the election judges. It is perfectly true that when we had a primary election in 1921, when there were something like one hundred fifty candidates for the office of magistrate, it kept the election officers till an early hour in computing the results, but I submit that that is not a justification for making an increase like this, such as is proposed in this bill. In Philadelphia at the present time there are six hundred seventy-three election divisions with less than two hundred fifty registered voters; there are five hundred sixty-four divisions with from two hundred fifty to three hundred fifty registered voters; there are one hundred sixty-three divisions with from three hundred fifty to four hundred fifty voters: there are thirty divisions with from four hundred fifty to five hundred fifty voters, and there are three divisions with five hundred fifty to six hundred fifty voters. Now, I think clearly the remedy in these election districts would be to divide these big divisions which would make it easier for the voters to vote, and it would give a greater opportunity to mark the ballots, and would relieve the pressure on the judges. The judge under the present law is getting five dollars a day, but in Philadelphia he is assumed to do three days' work, a day for collecting the ballots, a day for returning the boxes and a day to get his salary, so that he gets fifteen dollars. In addition to that, if more than two hundred votes are cast, he receives an extra bonus of one dollar for each one hundred. It seems to me that is adequate, and it would be a mistake to make an increase of this kind.

There is a second reason, Mr. Speaker, why I am opposed to this bill. It is not merely a matter of $25,000 which would fall upon the city of Philadelphia, but it is the general widespread feeling that government costs too much, and the amount of money that has to be taken from the taxpayers now to maintain the functionaries of government is too great. This is a bill which illustrates that tendency. The tendency was very strong in the last Legislature, and it was possible to make the most pathetic and reasonable arguments for various classes of employes, but when we take all those arguments together, the net result is that it is calling upon the taxpayer to surrender entirely too much. It seems to me that it is worth while for us to put our veto upon a proposition of this kind at this session. If put into effect in Philadelphia, it will spread unquestionably into adjoining counties and other neighborhoods of the state. If the judge in Philadelphia is to get twenty-five dollars, it would be an argument to increase it in other adjacent communities. When this increase is considered, the net result is an increase in the cost of government, and with the increase in the cost of government, there must come an increase in taxation. Therefore, it seems to me this would be a good bill to defeat.

Mr. GUERIN. Mr. Speaker, I am surprised to hear these arguments from my colleague, Mr. Edmonds, because he has been, as we understand in Philadelphia, associated with independent politics, men who are striving to make the elections better. He knows, and all the men who take a hand in politics know, that the inspector of elections would be there before 7:00 o'clock to prepare the room and the facilities for the voters and in the majority of the precincts in the city of Philadelphia, it is very seldom that the election officers get out before 12:00, and many of them before 8:00 o'clock the next morning. If I were particularly interested in clean politics to the extent of having the selection and choosing of those who had charge of it and desired to have better results, I would increase the pay of the election officers rather than retard them, because there is no man in this House who will stand these hours for five dollars, and what the natural result would be, somebody would naturally be inclined to help the man out privately. Pass this bill and don't leave them in the position that they will have to seek assistance privately.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I am very much surprised at my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, at finding fault with this bill. I am more surprised on account of the fact that Mr. Edmonds belongs to a class of people which always, more or less, is finding fault with the Philadelphia organization. We all know that it is a hardship on each and every man who acts as an election officer to do so for the salary which he gets at the present time.

For instance, I want to quote you one instance. Two years ago, we elected a majority and a minority inspector in the division in which I reside. Those gentlemen were workmen, having a fair knowledge of school education. When the election came along, neither of those gentlemen wanted to serve. They said, "Why, it is impossible for us to serve on that board for five dollars. We have to make a living for our families, and we are making eight to nine dollars in our shop." It is a fact which each and every person knows who works at daily labor that he cannot afford to give his time to the county of Philadelphia for the paltry sum of five dollars when he can receive this daily and even double the amount. Now, then, what is the consequence? We have to secure men in a case of that kind, we must take most anybody we can get. I want to say this, in all fairness to the citizens of Philadelphia, if we want clean elections, if we want to have election boards which make proper returns, we must have men who are capable of doing this work. Therefore, I am very much surprised with Mr. Edmonds' finding fault with this bill. In fairness to this bill and in fairness to the citizens of Philadelphia, in all earnestness to support this bill.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. DUNN. I would like to ask Mr. Edmonds whether he has ever been represented in a party organization in the ward in which he is located?

Mr. EDMONDS. If that is a question of my personal biography, my answer would be, that personally, I never have. But, as a matter of fact, the party with which I am affiliated has carried my division at every election.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether any changes have been made, I am only going into his own division now, have any changes been made there in the election officers from the primary election of 1922 to the general election of 1922?

Mr. EDMONDS. It is my recollection that one of the election officers resigned and that a woman was appointed to take his place and performed the duty admirably well and to the universal satisfaction of the people of the district.

Mr. DUNN. Is the gentleman aware of the fact that three of them resigned and that three new ones were appointed between the time of the primary election until the general election in his own division?

Mr. EDMONDS. Then, it must have been two women.

Mr. DUNN. Now, is the gentleman aware of the fact that only two of them stayed on the job, a Democrat and one woman?

Mr. EDMONDS. That may be so, but we had a most excellent election board, and everybody was satisfied.

Mr. DUNN. Does the gentleman know how many are assessed in his division?

Mr. EDMONDS. That again, is a question of personal biography, and I am afraid, within one or two, I cannot answer it, The object of the interrogatory is to get information for the House, and if you have it, you give it.

Mr. DUNN. Four hundred fifty-two. Have you any idea how many I registered in your division?

Mr. EDMONDS. I think I had those figures in mind at one time, Mr. Dunn, but if I had them, I have forgotten them. Suppose you give them.

Mr. DUNN. Seven hundred twenty. Four hundred fifty registered, four hundred fifty assessed, two hundred twenty registered, and it cost one hundred twenty dollars for the two hundred twenty registered outside of the expenses. Furthermore, you know a change was made in your judge in the primary election and the one in the general election of 1922.

Mr. EDMONDS. I have no doubt that you asserted as a fact and that it is perfectly true, but I do not remember that there was a change in the judge at that time.

Mr. DUNN. The judge resigned and the court appointed a judge for the general election. Do you know how many women acted as election officers in your ward in 1922 after the primaries?

Mr. EDMONDS. I could not answer that, but it was quite a large number.

Mr. DUNN. Out of seventy-two divisions in your ward, fifty had no women as election officers, twenty-two had forty-five acting as election officers and they became disgusted at the primary election and only eighteen came back at the general elections and served in your own division, the independent division of the twenty-second ward in which you are located. On your registration board also, do you know how many changes were made there where they are getting ten dollars a day for their services?

Mr. EDMONDS. I could not answer that specifically, I think the board was almost the same in 1922 as in 1921.

Mr. DUNN. The registration board changed them. And in the election, the primary election and in the general election and on the registration board, two members of one family served on the whole three of them by the name of Francis G. Wallon and Charles J. Wallon, served on the primary election, served on the registration board and served in the general election and for a man to serve on the registration board and on the election board is contrary to the law.

Mr. EDMONDS. If you are questioning me on my knowledge of the law, that is a different question entirely. Why don't you move into the division if that is what you want to do?

Mr. DUNN. No, I have got a good division of my own producing good, satisfactory Republican results, without a question of doubt as to the honesty of the election in that division for thirty years that I have lived there. But, gentlemen of this House, and I believe the people who are outside of Philadelphia will agree with me, that for years we had been hearing through the press of Philadelphia that all election machinery was corrupt, and generally elections come out as being corrupt. Now, we want to join as organization men. While I have come here as a member of the Legislature, I am not ashamed to serve in my ward on the executive committee as a division worker, and for thirty years I have represented my division as a division worker on the executive committee. I ought to know the work of an election officer. I want to say to you who are outside of Philadelphia that, as organization men, we want to clear the election, the conducting of an election in Philadelphia so that there will not be any question of doubt when the result is announced either at the primaries or at the general elections.

I am surprised at my good friend who is classified as an independent man in this Hopse, as an independent man in his ward, that he doesn't join with us to try to get efficient, capable men to act as our election officers in conducting the elections in the way that they think is right. Very often as election officers or workers in the division, and I believe, probably, thirty-eight of the forty-one from Philadelphia are workers in their division, very often our election board was manned by one and two men or women up until three or four o'clock in the afternoon, and then when somebody comes from work, we asked them to go in and assist the election board to hold the election, and it has now almost become a custom that it is almost necessary to pay the election board out of your own pocket to stay there to conduct the election for the satisfaction of Philadelphia and the honesty of the ballot. Now, that is only fair compensation for the judge. Five dollars seems little enough for the requirements of his office. He must go down and get the ballots, he must return the ballot boxes, he must then make the returns to the prothonotary, he must go down and collect the pay and deliver the pay of the election officers at a rate of five dollars a day, and anybody that wants honest elections in Philadelphia, and especially the men who are outside of it, I believe will vote for this bill because we, as organization men, want to show the people of the State that we can conduct honest elections with efficient men.

Mr. EDMONDS. I count it as a field day for myself if I succeeded in surprising three of my colleagues from Philadelphia at one time. I hope that I may succeed in shocking them and I hope that their hearts are strong, because my hope is that they will receive something new along the same line of treatment a little later on. There is a practical question submitted here, and the question is, is twenty-five dollars a day necessary for a judge in order to secure an honest election in Philadelphia? I say emphatically, that you can get honest men, honest men to serve as judges of elections and you have had them in Philadelphia, but when you raise the pay to twenty-five dollars you make that position financially attractive, and instead of getting the man that is best fitted for judge, you make it one of the spoils of political warfare. I am opposed to that practice. I am opposed to saddle the extra taxes and charges upon the people of localities without giving them a chance to pass upon questions of this kind. We have had entirely too much interference with the local government in the way of piling up the costs, of local government, and we do that without any expression of opinion from the people who represent those localities. I am opposed to this bill because I think it has a tendency to increase the cost of government in counties. I am opposed to it because of political reasons, and that I believe it will result in making these positions political spoils rather than securing the best man for the job. It would be an unjust interference with locally constituted affairs to ask for this expenditure of money, and so far as I know the people don't want it.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information. My good friend, Mr. Dunn, has said that the judge of elections is to receive twenty-five dollars for five days work, and Mr. Edmonds said this bill provides for twenty-five dollars a day. The Bill does not state whether it is by the day or by the job. It says he shall receive twenty-five dollars, if this bill provides for twenty-five dollars a day and there are five days involved in this duty connected with the holding of elections in Philadelphia that means one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

Mr. EDMONDS. The answer is that the bill provides for one hundred and twenty-five dollars for the job. Mr. Dunn has stated it took four or five days. Personally I don't think it takes anything of the kind. When we go to get the ballot boxes it takes three or four hours; when we return them it takes three or four hours, and in going down for your pay you know how long that takes.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmunds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmunds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Have you acted as judge in your district?

Mr. EDMONDS. I have acted as Republican Inspector, and as judge under the primary act of 1907.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Then you mean to tell this House it only takes three of four hours to deliver the ballot boxes.

Mr. EDMONDS. It depends of course on the location of your polling place.

However, for most of them I would say it would take less. I have seen a great many cases where the ballot boxes were returned before midnight from divisions in the heart of Philadelphia where the votes have been counted within half an hour after the polls are closed.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. You mean to say a man delivered ballot boxes to City Hall from Germantown in that time?

Mr. EDMONDS. I would not say from Germantown, but when you take the major part of the city which is in close proximity you can do it within a very short time.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I speak from my own experience, I stood in City Hall for six hours waiting to get in before I could deliver the ballot boxes, and I say this, if I work for a daily wage, even if it only takes an hour to collect my money I must lose that day, and then I am out for that day. I claim it is no more than fair and just to each and every man who works for a daily wage that we shall compensate him because we expect to get good election boards, we expect them to do their duty, and therefore they should be compensated in accordance with their duty. Therefore, I claim the arguments of Mr. Edmonds are unreasonable, unfair and unjust. It seems to me that the organization to which he belongs wants both the penny and the cake.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, at the first glance we may think that this is a Philadelphia measure alone because the discussions have all been by the gentlemen from Philadelphia. I look upon this bill as highly important to the people of the whole Commonwealth as well. Since coming to the Legislature and being on the committees, the lax method, in the election methods and the conduct of elections in our large cities has been a revelation to me, and anything that will go toward the betterment of these elections, I am in favor of. In our rural districts we know no such conditions. Our election boards meet at 7 o'clock in the morning and they stay there until 7 o'clock in the evening. We know no such thing as a corrupt board, or anything of that kind. The elections in Philadelphia often mean statewide importance and I think it is high time that the conditions that exist in these large cities, which elect or defeat our candidate for Governor, and our candidates for all other state offices, are made better. Therefore, if this raise in salary will bring about any betterment in conditions in these large cities, of which I have heard so much, I am in favor of it and will vote for it today. It is high time for something else to be done in Philadelphia so that we may have better officers, prehaps by the vote of the great cities of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. Did I understand your statement of a few moments ago to be a public confession here that conditions in the Philadelphia elections were really corrupt up to this time?

Mr. DUNN. No, only accused of being corrupt.

Mr. SARIG. Well, did you assume that accusation to be correct?

Mr. DUNN. No.

Mr. SARIG. If not, then why ask for this increase in order to make conditions better if the corruption which always has been denied is not there? Then why ask for this increase in order to make better conditions in Philadelphia?

Mr. DUNN. We do not say it was corrupt, that was in the newspapers, newspapers of our city, they claimed it was corrupt.

Mr. SARIG. If you claim it is not corrupt, then why demand a betterment of conditions there? If the conditions there are satisfactory to you, as you say, why come to the Legislature with a bill, claiming that this bill makes conditions better than now?

Mr. DUNN. It gives the condition power to select more efficient men, a better choice, and the electorate in that division generally selects the best men for the place. It is an elective position, and the voters of these divisions know the people and know their qualifications, and we should not go back of what the voters think are the proper ones to represent them on the election board.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, this of course is a Philadelphia bill and I have no desire, so far asPhiladelphia is concerned, to interfere with their legislation, but we all realize that it affects us all. Once the news gets out that in Philadelphia a judge is paid $25.00 to serve on an election board, every election board throughout the state will set out on our trail and will be asking us to increase their pay also. Now several years ago, in 1919, we had a bill here increasing the pay in rural districts, but the governor—Governor Sproul was then governor of Pennsylvania—vetoed that bill on the ground that it was a patriotic duty to serve on election boards. Now, I feel that if you make these increases, if you tempt them with a higher rate of pay for these positions, you are drawing to them the very element that you do not want. I believe the same thing applies to the school boards. We have always held to the idea that there should be no compensation attached to the position of school director because a man in that position ought to serve out of patriotic motives rather than for the sake of the emolument attached to the office. If we go on increasing the emoluments of these positions, we will only draw to them that element which looks only for the dollars and not the people who will see to it that justice is done to the voters in counting the ballot and that a fair return is made of them. In this matter there is something more involved than simply the compensation or emoluments of the office. I believe it will be a sad day for Pennsylvania or for any state when we begin to look upon such positions as judges and inspectors of elections simply from a mercenary point of view, when there is no patriotic duty or civic pride, when they simply look to the compensation which is attached to them. Now I for my own part feel that it would be a mistake for this House to go on record as increasing this compensation because I know what it will mean throughout the state. If it will cost the city of Philadelphia $25,000.00, it means ten times that much thoughout the state because if he news gets out that we have raised the pay of the judges in Philadelphia to $25.00, every judge and inspector throughout rural Pennsylvania will be on our heels and will be demanding the same thing.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, if this discussion keeps up awhile longer we will fully believe the things that were charged in the yellow newspapers, not only in Philadelphia, but in other papers throughout the state, of the corrupt conditions in the city of Philadelphia. One of our most noted men said at one time, or should have said, if he were correctly quoted, that Philadelphia was corrupt and condemned. I do not hear any denial on the part of the citizens of Philadelphia; probably they do not like to be quoted. Today there seems to be a spirit of animous coming from the members of the legislature, and they seem to be anxious, and we want to take them at their word, that hereafter they want clean elections in the city of Philadelphia, and therefore, in order to secure such an election it becomes necessary to raise or increase the pay of the election officers. As for myself, if the increase to $25.00 would accomplish that purpose, I would be heartily in favor of the bill. But I do not believe, my friends, that any sum that you might name, let it be $100.00 or $1000.00, would have any effect upon the electorate of Philadelphia if what has been alleged is only partly true. Where is the patriotism in the city of Philadelphia, in that great city of the Father of this Commonwealth, William Penn. Shades of these great men! Shades of Franklin, shades of those men who fought so gallantly at Brandywine, in order that they might establish in this state and nation a government of the people, for the people and by the people. If it is only partly true, what has been charged, then conditions are deplorable, not only in the city of Philadelphia but in other great cities of the Commonwealth. I do not believe in subsidizing men in order to have them serve on the election board. If the citizenship of the state or the city has fallen to such a low ebb that it is necessary to practically bribe men and women in order that they might do their duty with which they are charged under this great system of government, and they themselves are the government and they must help to administer the government for which they are responsible, then I say, my friends, it does not matter how much you increase the salaries of these men and women, the result will be necessarily the same.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker I ask for a verification of the roll.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that the members of a family should live in peace and contentment within their own ranks, and I think there is nothing so conducive to good fellow-ship and peace and contentment in the family than when the various members of that family well understand each other. I entered no protest nor voiced any sentiment of my own on the bill during the discussion because I felt that it was drifting far afield from the real issue. I sat in my seat and I worried and trembled with the fear for my colleagues in the other districts because of their fear and trembling for the good city of Philadelphia and for its citizenship. Ah, how consistent are my good friends, and I like every one of them, the Democrats. I have never seen it fail that when a discussion arose in the House between two factions of the Republican party, if there are factions in the Republican Party, that the Democrats did not take the floor and even call upon the Almighty, if necessary, to guide the great Republican Party through its terrible battles in its own ranks. Let me say, as a citizen of Philadelphia, with the newspapers to the contrary notwithstanding, there is not a finer, cleaner, better city from the point of politics, civics, or economics or any other point of view than our great city of Philadelphia, and it always appeals to my sense of humor to have a Democrat, like my colleague, Mr. Schleiter, call upon the great Republican, Abraham Lincoln, to guide the Republican Party through the channels of strife. Now I want to say on behalf of the city of Philadelphia and the membership here that it is the unanimous opinion of the membership of the Philadelphia delegation that here is nothing more corrupt in Philadelphia politics than there is corruption in the politics of any other city or county in Pennsylvania. I believe that corruption in politics in Pennsylvania is at a minimum and is just as clean as the politics of any other state in the Union, and on behalf of my comrades from Philadelphia I want to extend a cordial invitation to the Democrats and to every other member of this House to come to Philadelphia and visit us and at all times they will be perfectly safe on the highways and by-ways, and I will assure them that Mr. Dunn and Mr. Edmonds and all other members of the delegation will see that you are propertly protected when in our city.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has concurred in the Resolution of the House of Representatives, as follows:

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 51, file folio 849, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is the general deficiency bill. The amendments have been made in there at the request of the Governor and have been carefully gone over by the Committee and are satisfactory to the Committee. I trust you will concur in the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 605, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of article two of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws, twenty), entitled, "An Act for the government of cities of the second class," as amended, by changing the name of the Department of Charities to the Department of Public Welfare.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have an explanation of the bill from the sponsor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Little, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LITTLE. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker. I would like to have the sponsor make some explanation of his bill.

Mr. LITTLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of the bill is very plain as read off, so that everybody will understand it. The main purpose of the bill is to get away from the odious name of the Department of Charity, and in order that the scope of its work may be better defined, as many of its activities include the uplifting and betterment of people that cannot be construed as charity. Since Philadelphia and the State have long ago dispensed with the name "charity" in this department, I believe that cities of the second class in Pennsylvania should fall in line and adopt this progressive and more pleasant idea of dispensing good amongst their people.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEAMER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill requests us to put the office of county treasurer on a salary basis in counties of the sixth class. As a Representative from Bucks County, also a county of the sixth class, I desire to voice my disapproval of this bill. There are nine counties in this State in the sixth class. Some of these counties have two or three offices in a row, in one. In the county of Bucks, we have an individually elected official in each office, and if you pass this bill you will reduce the salary of our county treasurer, but it has no provision to provide any more salary where the officers are on a fee basis for the rest of the row, and I consider it unfair to reduce the one particular office in salary for services rendered and not take care of the rest of them. There are a number of counties in this State which have about twice as large a population as the county of Bucks, but the majority of them in counties of the sixth class should have their county treasurers on a commission basis. I think if it is a fair system in counties of that class with a population twice as large, it is also a fair system in counties of the sixth class. I, therefore, appeal to you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with all deference to my colleague from Bucks, I wish to call the attention of the House to the fact that this bill received the unanimous approval of all the members of the Sixth Class County League, which were present at the meeting Each one of the twenty-four members of said league, representing sixteen counties having been given notice by letter placed in the mail box.

These counties, as you all know, represent a population from 50,000 to 100,000. We passed through this House, by a unanimous vote, a few weeks ago, the Van Alen measure, placing the county treasurers in fifth class counties on a salary. This is a companion bill, framed entirely as was the Van Alen measure permitting the fees that are now received by the county treasurers from the State for the dog license, the hunting license, the fish license and the merchantile tax percentage to be received by the treasurer and making a salary of $3,500. As a simple illustration of what the county treasurers will draw under this, we have computed for our own county that the county treasurer will have a clear margin, or a net earning, after all of his supplies are furnished and after all of his deputies are paid by the counties of somewhere between $5,000 and $6,000. Remember, please, members of the House, that this is absolutely net as his clerk hire is taken care of.

I call your attention to the fact that in my own county, the treasurer who retires from offices last January made a total earning of over $50,000 in the four-year period, and the present treasurer has received in county fees over $11,000 for the past year, and his total earning for the year will be over $15,000 on the basis of the calculation as to this return from the percentages that he receives from State fees. Now, I submit to you, members of the House, that the county treasurers ought to receive fair salaries, and I submit to you that in the county represented by my colleague, Mr. Weamer, his county treasurer will make at least $6,000 clear, although I have not computed the fees.

I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks as to the population of his county.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Weamer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEAMER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WONER. What is the population of your county?

Mr. WEAMER. Some eighty-two thousand.

Mr. WONER. That is five thousand more than the population of Butler County. I judge, then, that the return would be about the same, that your treasurer will clear absolutely, after all of his clerk hire is paid, and all of the bond is paid by the county, as the bond is paid by the county and all of his supplies are paid by the county, he will clear at least $6,000. I submit to you members of the House that that is sufficient money for any county treasurer to receive.

Now, in answer to his statement that we should have included all county offices, I submit to the members of the House that it was not our purpose in presenting this bill, as the League of Sixth Class Counties to ask that all county officers be included. I asked the gentleman, my colleague, Mr. Weamer, if he desires to present such a bill that will carry all of the county officers in the county, we will work with him, and we will work for him, and we will do all we can to frame a bill that will give a fair and an honest salary to every county official in the sixth class counties. That proposition I make to him, and that proposition I am qualified to make to him as a member of his league. Members of the House, I ask of you the courtesy of disassociating this bill with any other bill for county salaries, stating to you that if it is desired to put the salaries of other county officials in this bill or any bill, that it should be done in a separate bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. WEAMER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I have here a communication from the Governor which I would like to have the Clerk read.

The Clerk read the communication, as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 20, 1923.

Hon. Warren Clyde Harer, Chairman, Appropriation Committee, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Harer: I have given much consideration to the request that House Bill No. 109, making appropriations for State-aid Hospitals, be replaced by separate appropriation bills for each hospital. Nothing has shaken my confidence in the constitutionality of the lump sum idea, or in the fact that it would be the most efficient and economical way to appropriate for these institutions, but in view of the strong desire of the beneficiaries to know the maximum on which they may depend, I am willing to have the lump sum of $3,600,000 provided for in Bill No. 109, allocated by maximum amounts to the State-aid Hospitals if the following principles to maintain efficiency and economy in the use of the funds appropriated are observed:

1. That the right of any hospital, whether appropriated for or not, to share in State-aid shall depend on whether it attains and maintains a standard to be fixed by law.
2. That, within the maximum appropriated, each hospital shall receive quarterly an amount based on the number of days of medical or surgical service it has given to indigent sick or injured patients.
3. That the per diem allowance for such service shall be determined for each hospital by its classification at the beginning of each quarter based on the number of beds for patients it maintains and its locality as to population, as determined by law.
4. That the quarterly requisitions, computed on the basis of classification and service to indigent patients, shall be subject to the approval of the Department of Public Welfare.

I attach a suggested form for the individual appropriation bills, and have asked the Commissioner of Public Welfare to prepare a list of those hospitals which have already applied to that Department for State-aid, and also for a suggestion of how the $3,600,000 might equitably be divided between these hospitals.

The Standards Bill for hospitals will be ready tomorrow morning, and the Classification and Per Diem Bill within two days.

If you desire assistance in rewriting or amending appropriation bills for State-aid hospitals, I am sure the Legislative Reference Bureau and the Attorney General's office will co-operate to facilitate the work.

Sincerely yours,
GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that letter is thoroughly understood by all, and that its meaning is clear.

Sometime ago the Rules Committee brought in a rule fixing the last day for handing in bills as March 28th. Some of you members have already handed in appropriation bills for separate institutions, and it will not be necessary for you to hand in additional bills, but any members who are interested in institutions and want appropriations for them will be compelled to have bills drawn. The Legislative Reference Bureau has stated that they will assist in drawing up these bills, but they cannot do it by March 28th. If we keep the date of March 28th as the last day for the introduction of bills, it will be impossible for members of the House to present such bills which means that their senators will get more or less of the credit for appropriation bills. If it is the opinion of this House to carry the time forward to April 4th, I will make a motion to that effect to reconsider the vote by which the report of the Rules Committee that March 28th be the last day for the introduction of bills be reconsidered. That will give the Legislative Reference Bureau one more week to prepare the bills.

Mr. STEEDLE. Would the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee, who presented this letter from his Excellency, the Governor, permit it to lie over for a day, so that we all might have a chance to read this proposed change of procedure?

Mr. HARER. In reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, so far as the letter is concerned it can lie over as long as you want it to, but if the members of the House desire to submit their bills we must get them in as soon as possible, and the Legislative Reference Bureau cannot get them ready before March 28th.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 551, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 312), entitled, "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," by adding an additional sub-section to section nine of article seven of chapter six thereof to empower boroughs without petition of property owners, to grade, pave, curb, macadamize or otherwise improve public streets, or parts thereof, and assess the entire cost thereof against the owners of the property abutting thereon when said streets or parts thereof do not exceed one thousand feet in length and connecting two streets theretofore paved and improved.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Moffatt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MOFFATT. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BREWSTER. Simply for a matter of information, which I do not have at hand, I would like to ask the gentleman just what change this makes in the existing law.

Mr. MOFFATT. Under the act of 1897, boroughs were given the privilege of paving streets under the same conditions as this, for a distance of 500 feet. That act was amended by the act of 1907 to 1000 feet. In the reenactment of the borough law in 1915, I am advised that it was thought that this provision was included in the borough code, but they found that it was not so included. This bill was introduced at the same time or almost the same time, when another bill was introduced with the same conditions, at the instance of the Borough Association. They both went to the Municipal Corporations Committee, and this bill happened to the reported out first, so that this bill, or one exactly similar, has the endorsement of the Borough Association. The purpose of the bill is to permit the borough to pave the short streets or streets which may be between two paved streets, assessing that cost on the abutting property. The proposition is also to allow the borough to carry out a plan of paving, as I understand it.

Mr. BREWSTER. I think the act is a good one. Does it refer to cross streets, connecting or cross streets alone?

Mr. MOFFATT. Only such streets which are to be paved hereafter which do not exceed 1000 feet in length and which connect two streets.

Mr. BREWSTER. The property owners have to pay the entire bill?

Mr. MOFFATT. That is the purpose of it. It is to take care of streets which come in between paved streets, and the purpose is to divide the cost between the abutting property owners, and is to cover streets undertaken, which do not cross these other streets.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RECESS.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am informed by the Speaker that were this House to adjourn now until tomorrow morning, we would have some 45 bills on third reading; more than we could even approach clearing tomorrow, and would likely necessitate a Thursday session. Therefore, at the suggestion of the Speaker, I move that this House do now recess until 8:30 o'clock this evening.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to, and, at 6:20 o'clock P. M. the House took a recess until 8:30 o'clock this evening.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8:30 o'clock, P. M.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. SOWERS, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed House Bill No. 833, entitled:

An Act conferring the right on the courts of Common Pleas of various counties to permit amendment of charters of corporations of the first class, so as to permit any institution of learning, which shall have been incorporated as a corporation of the first class, to confer appropriate degrees to any person who shall have satisfactorily passed a required course of study of such institution of learning.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 571, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and twenty-five of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" changing the compensation of township auditors

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Albert,	Hoover,	Johnson,	Stavitski,
Fields,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to say that when House Bill 413 was on the final passage this afternoon, the tally sheet handed to the Speaker showed that 106 voted in the affirmative. A check of the tally sheet shows that there should have been 96 members voted in the affirmative. The error was made by both clerks; they agreed in their tally, but both appear to have been wrong. The Chair withdraws the statement that 106 members voted in the affirmative, and his order that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrance, and states that 96 members having voted in the affirmative, and 59 having voted in the negative, less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the bill falls.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill, House Bill No. 413, file folio 1011, was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

I make this motion merely in order that this bill may have fair treatment. At the time the bill was under consideration, there was a good deal of confusion in respect to the same, and after speaking to the sponsor of this bill I am informed that in the event the House extends this courtesy to the sponsor of the bill that the same will be postponed. I, therefore, ask the House to extend the courtesy to the sponsor of the bill. I, personally, have no interest in the bill; it does not affect my county, and I am merely doing this because I believe this bill should receive the treatment that any other bill should have accorded to it.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will second that motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar. In making such a motion I desire to state that I have conferred with the gentleman who proposed the measure, and we have decided to reach some sort of a satisfactory agreement.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. I rise at this time on the question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to the banquet which is to take place tomorrow evening, I would like to say that I called upon the Governor today and he has promised to be present tomorrow evening, and has set the hour at 8:30 o'clock in the ball room of the Penn-Harris. Out of courtesy to his Excellency I would like every gentleman who intends to attend the banquet to be there on, or before, that hour, to be there at 8:30 when the Governor arrives.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 528, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven, article six, of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, (P. L. 568) entitled, "An Act providing for the incorporation, regulation and government of cities of the third class; regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein; and repealing, consolidating, and extending existing laws in relation thereto".

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

State of ..... that he exhibited to me the enclosed ballot (or ballots) and that the same was unmarked that he before me at the same time and place marked his ballot (or ballots) but in such manner that I did not see his vote that he then folded and enclosed said ballot (or ballots) so marked in the proper envelopes and that he then and there made out subscribed and swore to the affidavits according to law

Section 11 Such ballot or ballots and envelopes shall then be securely sealed in the third envelope which the voter shall send by registered mail to the prothonotary or county commissioners in sufficient time to reach its destination on or before the day such election is held In case the ballot was voted at a general or municipal election it shall be sent to the prothonotary if voted at a primary election it shall be sent to the county commissioners of the county in which such voter is a resident The postage and cost necessary to transmit and register such envelopes shall be paid by the voter

Section 12 The prothonotary or county commissioners upon receipt of such registered letter shall safely keep and preserve the same unopened in their office until the return board canvasses the vote according to law at which time the said return board shall open such registered letter and after examining the certificate of qualification and the affidavit and jurat shall compare the signature of said absent voter as written on the affidavit with the signature of such voter on the application blank given to the county commissioners If the return board is satisfied that the signatures correspond and that the affidavit and jurat are sufficient they shall announce the name of the voter of such absent voter's ballot and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge the same in like manner and for the same causes as such voter could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to cast his ballot If there are no challenges they shall open the second envelope in such manner as not to destroy the certificate of qualification and the affidavit and jurat as printed thereon which envelope shall be kept in the prothonotary's or commissioner's office for a period of one year thereafter All envelopes on which are printed the words "Absent Voter's Ballot" and containing the ballots shall be put into one depository at one time and said depository well shaken and the envelopes containing the ballots mixed before any ballot is taken therefrom The return board shall then break the seals of such envelopes and record the said ballots in the same manner as the election officers record votes and in so canvassing said votes the return board shall count the votes of all absent voters taken as herein provided and add the same to the total result of the election in the county district precinct or ward accordingly as designated on each ballot

Section 13 The ballots after being opened and duly counted by the return board shall be safely kept in the custody of the prothonotary or the county commissioners as the case may be for the period of one year and in case of a contested election the same may be opened and counted as in other cases

Section 14 Any voter who has received an absent voter's ballot and who shall return to his properly designated election district on or before the day for holding the election for which such ballot was issued shall be permitted to vote upon presenting himself at his regular polling place in the same manner as he could have voted had he not received such absent voter's ballot Provided however That in any such case such voter shall surrender to the judge of election of such district his absent voter's ballot or ballots unmarked and the envelopes in which they were contained before being permitted to vote Such fact shall be noted by the judge of election on the back thereof and the ballot or ballots and envelopes shall be returned to the county commissioners

Section 15 If any person voting an absent voter's ballot shall wilfully swear falsely to the affidavit herein provided for or shall vote any ballot other than one properly issued to him or vote or attempt to more than once at any such election or who shall violate any other provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding two years or both at the discretion of the court

If any official authorized to administer oaths within this Commonwealth prothonotary county commissioners or member of a return board shall neglect or refuse to perform any of the duties prescribed by this act or shall reveal or divulge any of the details of any ballot casting in accordance with the provisions of this act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term of one year or both at the discretion of the court.

Section 16 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BEHNEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BEHNEY. Will Mr. Ludlow kindly explain the purposes of this measure. I cannot understand it.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the Houes, this bill is introduced at the request of the banking commissioner in order to meet a situation where certain cooperative associations have come into Pennsylvania and deposited with the State a fund of $100,000 which fund,if anything should happen to the parent company outside of Pennsylvania, could be taken away entirely from the State without any recourse, without Pennsylvania creditors of the association having anything on which they have a priority. In several states, I am informed by the banking commissioner, it is always provided that whatever fund is placed as security with the local banking commissioner it shall first be subject to the claims of local state creditors before it shall be allowed to go out of the State, and the purpose of this act is to Pennsylvanians the first right to that fund left with us by way of security, and so that it may not be taken out by a concern of this kind should fail. It is in the interest of Pennsylvania to have a fund now or hereafter on deposit with our banking commissioner. This is introduced at his request and amends the present law to bring about that very desirable end, and the Banks and Banking Committee unanimously reported it out. Does that answer your inquiry?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 — 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7 — HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923. — No. 29.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this beautiful morning; for every spiritual, social and temporal blessing which we enjoy continuously from Thy hand.

We pray that Thou wouldst grant the continuance of Thy divine favor upon the members and officers of this Assembly. Bless them with health and strength of body and of mind, that they may faithfully discharge their duties and obligations toward the people of this great Commonwealth. Bless the Speaker of this House and the Governor of the Commonwealth, and all who have to do with the affairs of this State.

We ask it in Christ's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

To The Woman Members of The Pennsylvania Legislature:

The Pennsylvania Society of Washington, D. C. which includes in its membership more than a thousand Pennsylvanians now in the Capitol City, request your presence as honor quests at the "Daughters of Pennsylvania Night," April 16th in the New Willard Hotel ball room. The Pennsylvania members of the Daughters of the American Revolution will also be honor guests on that occasion. It was necessary to fix April 16th, in order to accord with the plans of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

While I understand that this night is one set aside for meeting of the Legislature, I trust you will be able to be with us as it will be of great value in showing Pennsylvania's active support of woman suffrage and the place she gives to women in public affiairs.

Counting on your presence, and with all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
Clyde Kelly,
President.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be spread upon the Journal.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE EXTENDED TO WOMEN MEMBERS.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, this is a signal honor and the courtesy extended to the lady members of this body, I have been informed that the lady members intend or desire to attend this convention on April 16, providing some arrangement could be made for leave of absence.

I move you, Mr. Speaker, that leave of absence be granted the lady members of the House for April 16th, that they may attend this convention.

The SPEAKER. Leave of absence for the lady members has been ask by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McKim. If there are no objections, leave is granted. The Chair hears none and leave is granted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, yesterday a communication was read from the Governor relative to appropriation bills which has raised an inquiry in the minds of some of the members as to whether there is sufficient time for the preparation and introduction of these bills prior to March 28th, being the date fixed by this House as the last day for the introduction of bills at this session. That inquiry I think is answered by a letter which I have from the Governor and which I will ask the Clerk to read.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the communication as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 21, 1923.

Hon Nelson McVicar, Chairman, Rules Committee, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pa.

My dear Mr. McVicar: The question has been raised whether we can have the Administration measures ready for introduction on or before March 28th. We can and will, and we need no extension of the time fixed as the last day for the introduction of bills.

With reference to appropriation bills, I am assured that all necessary bills in the form required can be prepared for the use of the members of the House in ample time for their introduction on or before March 28th, as fixed by the rules as the last day for the introduction of bills.

Sincerely yours,
GIFFORD PINCHOT.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be spread upon the Journal.

A number of years taxes or rates of different kinds if payable to the same plaintiff may be included in one claim Municipal claims shall likewise be filed within said period where any appeal is taken from the assessment for the recovery o- which such municipal claim is filed In such case the lien filed shall be in the form hereinafter provided except that it shall set forth the amount of the claim as an undetermined amount the amount thereof to be determined by the appeal taken from the assessment upon which such municipal claim is based pending in a certain court (referring to the court and the proceeding where such appeal is pending) Upon the filing of such municipal claim the claim shall be indexed by the prothonotary upon the judgment index and upon the locality index of the court and the amount of the claim set forth therein as an undetermined amount

If final judgment is not obtained upon such appeal within five years from the filing of such municipal claim the claimant in the lien shall within such period of five years file a suggestion of non-payment in the form hereinafter set forth which shall have the effect of continuing the lien thereof for a further period of five years from the date of filing such suggestion Such municipal claim shall be revived in a similar manner during each recurring period of five years thereafter until final judgment is entered upon said appeal and the undetermined amount of such municipal claim is fixed in the manner hereinafter provided

When the final judgment is obtained upon such appeal the court in which said municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order fixing the undetermined amount claimed in such claim at the amount determined by the final judgment upon said appeal which shall bear interest from the date of the verdict upon which final judgment was entered and thereafter the amount of said claim shall be the sum thus fixed Proceedings upon said municipal claim thereafter shall be as in other cases

Where on final judgment upon said appeal it appears that no amount is due upon the assessment for the recovery of which such claim is filed the court in which such municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order striking such municipal claim from the record and charge the costs upon such claim to the plaintiff in the claim filed

Where such appeal is discontinued the court in which such municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order fixing the undetermined amount claimed at the amount of the original assessment which shall bear interest from the date that such assessment was originally payable and thereafter the amount of such claim shall be the sum thus fixed

Section 10 Said claim shall set forth

1. The name of the municipality by which filed
2. The name of the owner of the property against which it is filed
3. A description of the property against which it is filed
4. The authority under or by virtue of which the tax was levied or the work was done
5. The time for which the tax was levied or the date on which the work was completed in front of the particular property against which the claim is filed or the date of completion of the improvement where the assessment is made after completion or the date of confirmation by the court where confirmation is required done
6. If filed to the use of a contractor the date of and parties to the contract for doing said work and
7. In other than tax claims the kind and character of the work done for which the claim is filed and if the work be such as to require previous notice to the owner to do it when and how such notice was given

Said claim must be signed by the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant and in the case of a use plaintiff must be accompanied by an affidavit that the facts therein set forth are true to the best of his knowledge information and belief

The eleventh section was read as follows:

Section 11 The property described in tax claims shall include the whole property against which the tax is levied The property described in municipal claims may include the whole contiguous property or it may include only the lot in front of or upon which the work is done or to which service is supplied of such depth as is usual in properties of the same kind or character in the particular neighborhood No municipal claim or tax claim shall be invalid by reason of including therein property to a greater depth than as above provided but the court in which the same is filed may at any time prior to judgment thereon but not afterwards upon it appearing that such claim includes property to a greater depth than is hereby made subject to such claim limit the lien thereof to the proper depth Where any owner or owners of property abutting on a highway conveys a strip of land abutting on said highway which strip is too narrow to be used as a site for the smallest width dwelling allowed by law to be erected thereon such conveyance shall be deemed to be made for the purpose of evading liability for the municipal improvements made or to be made in such highway and in such cases the assessment may be made at the option of the municipality against the lot as it existed before the division and the lien may be filed against the entire lot as thus assessed joining the owners of both the rear lot and the strip in the claim In all cases where a tax is levied on or filed against separate and distinct properties in one amount covering all the proper public authority shall if tendered with all costs if any accept payment of the portion of the whole amount of said tax chargeable upon each or any of the separate and distinct properties so charged together according to the tax rate and assessed valuation thereof and payment and satisfaction of any one portion may be made with out prejudice to the claim against the remainder

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 11, page 12, line 20 by striking out the word "by" which is the last word in said line.

Amend Section 11, page 13 by striking out the bracket "]" after the word "owner"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 12 Any person having an interest in the property whensoever acquired may after ten days' prior notice in writing by leave of court intervene as a party defendant and make defense thereto with the same effect as if he had been originally named as a defendant in the claim filed And the claimant may by writing filed at his costs strike off the name of any defendant therein and may substitute as a defendant and issue a scire facias against any person who may have any interest therein as owner or who is the personal representative of an owner who has died either before or after filing the claim but such substitution shall always be without prejudice to any intervening rights

Section 13 In all cases where a tax or municipal claim is levied on or filed against separate and distinct properties as one estate it shall and may be lawful for the proper public authority either before or after filing a claim therefor to apportion the same ratably upon the separate and distinct properties so assessed together And the court in which the claim is filed on proof that the properties were separate and distinct at the time the tax was levied or the work was done shall at any stage of the proceedings apportion the charge against such properties When apportioned they shall be treated and considered in all respects as if separate and distinct claims had been filed and payment and satisfaction of any one portion may be made without prejudice to the claim as against tne rest

Section 14 Any defendant named in the claim or any person allowed to intervene and defend thereagainst may at any stage of the proceedings present his petition under oath or affirmation setting forth that he has a defence in whole or in part thereto and of what it consists and praying that a rule be granted upon the claimant to file an affidavit of the amount claimed by him and to show cause why the petitioner should not have leave to pay money into court and in the case of a municipal claim to enter security in lieu of the claim whereupon a rule shall be granted as prayed for Upon the pleadings filed or from the claim and the affidavit of defense and without a petition where an affidavit of defense has been filed the court shall determine how much of the claim is admitted or not sufficiently denied and shall enter a decree that upon payment by such petitioner to the claimant of the amount thus found to be due with interest and costs if any thing be found to be due or upon payment into court if the claimant refuses to accept the same and upon payment into court of a sum sufficiently to cover the balance claimed with interest and costs or upon the entry of approved security in the case of a municipal claim that such claim shall be wholly discharged as a lien against the property described therein and shall be stricken from the judgment index Thereafter the material disputed facts if any shall be tried by a jury without further pleadings with the same effect as if a writ of scire facias had duly issued upon said claim to recover the balance thereof but the jury shall be sworn to try the issues between the claimant and the parties who paid the fund into court or entered security and verdict judgment and payment or execution shall follow as in other cases The same course may be pursued at the instance of any owner where the claim has not in fact been filed and if in that event the petitioner complies with the decree made the money paid into court or security entered shall stand in lieu of the claim and the latter shall not be filed and if filed shall be stricken off upon motion

The fifteenth section was read as follows:

Section 15 Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said properties until fully paid and satisfied Provided however That either a suggestion of non-payment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed in cases of tax claims either before or after judgment on the scire facias and in cases of other than tax claims after judgment on the scire facias or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scire facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of non-payment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and averment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And now .....the claimant by.....his solicitor suggests of record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for non-payment thereof The prothonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and averment on the municipal lien or the proper docket of the claim and also to index it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and averment must be signed by the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and averments directed therein and for such services shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim The filing and indexing of such suggestion and averment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scire facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing of any prior suggestion and averment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purposes of continuing and preserving the lien of the claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment or judgment of revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levari facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levari facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continuing by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and averment of default the claimant may at any time within five years therefrom issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and averment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

If a claim be not filed within the time aforesaid or if it be not prosecuted in the manner and at the time aforesaid its lien on real estate shall be wholly lost

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 15, page 17, line 7 by striking out the word "lssued" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "issued"

Witness the Honorable.....President Judge of our said court this.....day of.....A.D. 1.....

.....Prothonotary

(SEAL)

The claimant when he files his praecipe for the writ of scire facias may direct the prothonotary to add and insert the names of any persons whom the claimant may know to have an interest in the premises and the scire facias shall be issued containing such additional names But the parties to the claim may agree upon an amicable scire facias upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the same effect as if a scire facias in the form aforesaid had been duly issued served and returned or the defendants or any of them may waive the issue of a scire facias and appear with like effect as if the scire facias had been issued and served

Section 18 The sheriff to whom the scire facias is given for service shall add to the writ as parties defendant all persons other than those named therein who may be found in possession of the property described or any part thereof and in case no one is found in possession by the sheriff he shall post a true copy of the writ on the most public part of said property and he shall add to the said writ the names of any persons not already named therein whom he may ascertain to have an interest in the property described or any part thereof which writ shall then be further served as follows

(a) By serving as in the case of a summons such of those named in the writ or added thereto as may be found in the county in which the writ issued and

(b) Where the sheriff has information that those named in the writ or added thereto or any of them may be found in any other county of this Commonwealth the said persons shall be served as in the case of a summons by the sheriff of the county in which the said defendants or any of them may reside he being deputized for that purpose by the sheriff of the county in which the writ issues and

(c) In case any of those named in the writ or added thereto cannot be found by the sheriff or their residences within this Commonwealth are unknown to him or in case they reside without the Commonwealth the said writ may be served by advertising a copy thereof or a brief notice of the contents of the same once a week for three successive weeks in one newspaper of general circulation in the county and in the legal periodical if any designated by the court for that purpose Provided however That any defendant may accept service of said writ in person or by counsel with the same effect as if duly served therewith by the sheriff

Where the said writ or the brief notice of the contents thereof have been advertised as aforesaid the same shall have the same effect as if the writ had been personally served and all those named therein or added thereto as to whom publication has been made shall file their affidavit of defence as required by the said writ within fifteen days after the date of the last weekly advertisment of the said writ and all those named therein or added thereto who have been served as in case of a summons shall file their affidavit of defence as required by said writ within fifteen days after such service Service of any such writ may be made at any time within three months from the date on which it was issued but it shall be served and returned at the earliest date possible and the plaintiff may require its return at any time whether or not it be actually served

Section 19 If no affidavit of defence be filed within the time designated judgment may be entered and damages assessed by the prothonotary by default for want thereof Such assessment shall include a five per cent fee for collection to plaintiff's attorney

If an affidavit of defence be filed a rule may be taken for judgment for want of sufficient affidavit of defence or for so much of the claim as is insufficiently denied with leave to proceed for the residue

The defendant may by rule require the plaintiff to reply under oath or affirmation to the statements set forth in the affidavit of defence and after the replication has been filed may move for judgment on the whole record

Section 20 Tax claims and municipal claims shall be prima facie evidence of the facts averred therein in all cases and the averments in both tax and municipal claims shall be conclusive evidence of the facts averred therein except in the particulars in which those averments shall be specifically denied by the affidavit of defence or amendment thereof duly allowed A compulsory nonsuit upon trial shall be equivalent to a verdict for defendant whether the plaintiff appeared or not If plaintiff recovers a verdict upon trial in excess of the amount admitted by the defendant in his affidavit of defence or pleadings he shall be entitled to an attorney's fee for collection equal to five per centum of such excess but not exceeding fifty dollars

Section 21 The judgment upon such claim may be revived by writ of scire facias in the following form The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to C D and E F

Greeting

Whereas A B claimant on the .....day of..... A D 1.....recovered judgment in the sum of.....dollars against you that the following described property be sold to satisfy the same

(Here describe property in full)

And whereas we have been given to understand that though judgment as aforesaid was rendered yet the amount thereof is still due and unpaid and remains as a lien against said property Now you are hereby notified to file your affidavit of defence to A B's claim upon said judgment if any defence you have in the office of the prothonotary of our said court within fifteen days after service of this writ upon you If no affidavit of defence be filed within that time said judgment may be revived against you for the amount set forth with interest from the time of its recovery and said property to be sold to recover the whole thereof

Witness the Hon.....President Judge of our said court this.....day of.....A. D. 1.....

But the parties to the judgment may agree upon an amicable scire facias to revive or to an amicable judgment of revival upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the same effect as if a scire facias in the form aforesaid had been duly issued served and returned

Section 22 Said writ of scire facias shall be served and the proceedings thereon shall be conducted as to persons who are found by the sheriff in the manner herein before provided for the original scire facias sur claim but in any and all events two returns of nihil habet to the writs to revive shall be equivalent to personal service upon the defendants The practice and procedure following said scire facias to revive so far as applicable shall be the same as in the case of the original scire facias to collect the claim

Section 23 All judgments for the plaintiff whether on the original scire facias or any scire facias to revive shall be de terris only and shall be recovered out of the property bound by lien and not otherwise but the costs whether as against the plaintiff or the defendant actually defending against the claim may be recovered by execution as in personal actions

Section 24 After the expiration of twenty days from the recovery of judgment whether on the original scire or any scire facias to revive except in cases where the property named is essential to the business of a quasi-public corporation the court shall upon the petition of the plaintiff appoint a sequestrator of the rents issues and profits of the property bound by the judgment unless in the meantime an appeal be taken and approved security given to operate as a supersedeas If the owner against whom the judgment is entered be in possession of the property sequestered or the party in possession refuse to pay a fair rent the court shall upon petition filed and served grant a rule and if it be made absolute award a writ in the nature of a writ of habere facias possessionem directed to the owner commanding him to deliver such possession to the sequestrator within fifteen days thereafter unless such property be occupied by the owner and his family for a home in which case he shall be entitled to retain possession for a period of three months from the time the petition was served upon him

Section 25 Every claim filed scire facias issued verdict recovered and judgment entered in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be docketed in appropriate dockets and except as hereinafter provided shall be entered upon the judgment index of the court When a claim is stricken off or satisfied the name of a defendant stricken out a scire facias discontinued or quashed or a verdict or judgment stricken off or satisfied a note thereof shall be made on such docket or dockets Provided however That in counties in which the filing of liens for county taxes was authorized by law prior to the passing of the act of one thousand nine hundred and one aforesaid the method of filing entering docketing and indexing liens for county road poor school borough school building township and other taxes assessed in boroughs and townships in such counties shall remain and be continued thereafter in the same manner and form as in use prior to the passage of the said act approved

June fourth one thousand nine hundred and one notwithstanding the passage of the same

Section 26 It shall be the duty of the prothonotaries of the courts of common pleas to keep a locality index in which shall be entered all tax or municipal claims hereafter filed and upon any written order therefor they shall give a certificate of search showing all the claims filed against any property For so doing they shall receive the sum of twenty-five cents and five cents additional for each claim certified and no more

Section 27 At any time before the property is sold approved security may be entered for a stay of proceedings until the expiration of one year after the date of filing the claim The entry of such security by the owner before the entry of judgment on the claim shall be equivalent to an admission by him that the property is liable for the claim After the stay has expired the claimant may proceed upon the claim and the bond given separately or simultaneously

Section 28 Execution upon any judgment recovered upon any such claim except where the property named is essential to the business of a quasi-public corporation shall be by writ of levari facias in the following form The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

To the Sheriff of.....County Greeting

Whereas A. B., claimant on the.....day of.....Anno Domini 1..... recovered judgment in the sum of..... dollars with interest from the.....day of.....Anno Domini 1..... and the costs amounting to.....dollars in our court of common pleas of said county of.....Term .....No.....M. L. D. against C. D. and E F that the following described property in your bailiwick be sold to satisfy the same namely

(Here describe the property in full)

Now this is to command you that you expose the said property to sale by public vendue and outcry after due advertisement according to law and that return of said sale with the moneys realized thereby and this writ you make to our said court on the.....day of.....Anno Domini 1....

Witness the Honorable.....President Judge of our said court this.....day of.....Anno Domini 1.....

Advertisement of such sale shall be made and the deed to the purchaser shall be executed acknowledged and delivered as in other real estate sales by the sheriff

Section 29 The plaintiff in any judgment recovered on a tax or municipal claim may upon paying the sheriff's costs fix an upset price to be realized at any sale under such judgment sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims and all accrued but unfilled taxes and claims in full No sale shall be made on a judgment recovered on a tax or municipal claim except for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims in full except as hereinafter provided and the plaintiff in such judgment may purchase the property at such sale for that sum if no one bids a higher price therefor

Section 30 Where judgment is recovered upon any claim the property named in which is essential to the business of a quasi-public corporation the claimant shall have execution thereupon as in other cases of judgments against such corporations Upon the distribution of any fund realized by a sale of the franchises and the whole or any part of the assets of the corporation the court shall determine the actual value of the property bound by the lien and the claim shall be preferred with such other claims to the extent of the value thus determined

The thirty-first section was read as follows:

Section 31 The lien of a tax or a municipal claim shall not be divested by any judicial sale of the property liened where the amount due is indefinite or undetermined or where the same is not due and payable nor shall the lien of a tax or municipal claim be divested by any judicial sale of the property liened as respects so much thereof as the proceeds of such sale may be insufficient to discharge nor except as hereinafter provided shall a judicial sale of the property liened under a judgment obtained on a tax or municipal claim discharge the lien of any other tax or municipal claim than that upon which said sale is had except to the extent that the proceeds realized are sufficient for its payment after paying the costs and expenses of the sale and of the writ upon which it was made and any other prior tax or municipal claims to which the fund may first be applicable On any such sale being made all tax claims shall be paid out of the proceeds thereof first the oldest tax having priority and municipal claims shall be paid next the oldest in point of lien having priority Mortgages ground-rents and other charges on or estates in the property which were recorded or created where recording is not required before any tax other than for the current year accrue or before the actual doing of the work in front of or upon the particular property for which the municipal claim is filed shall not be disturbed by such sale unless a prior lien is also discharged thereby

In case the property be not sold for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims together with the costs thereon the plaintiff in any such claim may postpone the sale without payment of costs and file his petition setting forth that more than one year has elapsed since the filing of his claim that he has exposed the property to sheriff's sale thereunder and was unable to obtain a bid sufficient to pay the upset price in full and if a municipal claimant other than a municipality that he will bid sufficient to pay the upset price and upon the production of searches or a title insurance policy showing the State of the record and the ownership of the property and of all tax and municipal claims mortgages ground-rents or other charges on or estates in the land the court shall grant a rule upon all parties thus shown to be interested to appear and show cause why a decree should not be made that said property be sold freed and cleared of their respective claims mortgages charges and estates If upon a hearing thereafter the court is satisfied that service has been made of said rule upon the parties respondent in the manner provided in this act for the service of writs of scire facias to obtain judgments upon tax and municipal claims and that the facts stated in the petition be true it shall order and decree that said property be sold at a subsequent sheriff's sale-day to be fixed by the court without further advertisement clear of all claims liens mortgages charges and estates to the highest bidder at such sale and the proceeds realized therefrom shall be distributed in accordance with the priority of such claims and the purchaser at such sale shall take and forever thereafter have an absolute title to the property sold free and discharged of all tax and municipal claims liens mortgages charges and estates of whatsoever kind subject only to the right of redemption as provided by law

Any person interested may at any time before the sale pay the petitioner the whole of his claim with interest and costs whereupon the proceedings on petition shall at once determine

For the purpose of enabling the petitioner in any such proceedings to give the notice required he may take the testimony of the defendant in the claim or of any other person whom he may have reason to believe has knowledge of the whereabouts of any of the parties respondent either by deposition commission or letters rogatory

Any county municipality township or school district being a claimant shall have the right and is hereby empowered to bid and become the purchaser of the property at such sale and while the said property so purchased is held and owned by either a county or a municipality township or school district it shall not be subject to tax claims unless it be redeemed by the former owner or other person having the right to redeem as provided by the act to which this is an amendment If however a county municipality township or school district shall become the purchaser at said sale the former owner or other person desiring to redeem shall pay all taxes and municipal claims accrued and chargeable against the property prior to the sale thereof together with the costs and interest thereon and also all taxes and claims whether filed or not which would have accrued and become chargeable against the property had the same been purchased at the sale by some party other than the county city or other municipal division

Upon the delivery by the sheriff of a deed for any property sold under a tax or municipal claim the judgment upon which such sale was had shall thereupon and forever thereafter be final and conclusive as to all matters of defense which could have been raised in the proceeding including payment and no error or irregularity in obtaining or entering of such judgment shall effect the validity thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 31, page 30, line 27 by striking out the following: "the act to which this is an amendment" and inserting in lieu therefore the word "law"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.

The thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth and fortieth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 32 The owner of any property sold under a tax or municipal claim or his assignees or any party whose lien or estate has been discharged thereby may redeem the same at any time within one year from the date of acknowledgment of the sheriff's deed therefor upon payment of the amount bid at such sale the cost of drawing acknowledging and recording the sheriff's deed the amount of all taxes and municipal claims whether not entered as liens if actually paid the principal and interest of estates and encumbrances not discharged by the sale and actually paid the insurance upon the property and other charges and necessary expenses of the property actually paid less rents or other income therefrom and a sum equal to interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum thereon from the time of each of such payments If both owner and creditor desire to redeem the owner shall have the right so to do only in case he pays the creditor's claim in full If more than one creditor desires to redeem the one who was lowest in lien at the time of sale shall have the prior right upon payment in full of the claim of the one higher in lien Within the year one who was lower in lien may redeem from one higher in lien who has already redeemed and the owner may redeem from him and so on throughout in each case by paying the claim of the one whose right was higher and one higher in lien may redeem from one lower in lien unless his claim is paid but in each case the right must be exercised within the year

Any person entitled to redeem may present his petition to the proper court setting forth the facts and his readiness to pay the redemption money whereupon the court shall grant a rule to show cause why the purchaser should not reconvey to him the premises sold and if upon hearing the court shall be satisfied of the facts it shall make the rule absolute and upon payment being made or tendered shall enforce it by attachment

Section 33 Any claim filed or to be filed under the provisions of this act and any judgment recovered thereon may be assigned or transferred to a third party either absolutely or as collateral security and such assignee shall have all the rights of the original holder thereof

Where the claim has been paid in full by one of several defendants therein whether originally named as such or allowed to intervene and defend it shall be satisfied of record as to him and marked to his use as against the other defendants pro rata according to their respective interests in the property bound by the claim

Section 34 Any claim petition answer replication scire facias affidavit of defense or other paper filed of record may be amended from time to time by agreement of the parties or by leave of the court upon petition for that purpose under oath or affirmation setting forth the amendment desired that the averments therein contained are true in fact and that by mistake they were omitted from or wrongfully stated in the particulars as to which amendment is desired Such amendments shall be of right saving intervening rights except that no amendment of the claim shall be allowed after the time for its filing has expired which undertakes to substitute an entirely different property from that originally described in the claim but the description of the property may be amended so as to be made more accurate as in other cases of amendment

The court may for cause shown and filed of record enlarge the time for filing the affidavit of defense answer or replication for issuing a scire facias or for entering security by rule or special or standing order and any judgment by default may be opened by the court upon cause shown by interveners or other defendants as in other cases but no enlargement of the time for issuing a scire facias shall extend the same beyond the time herein provided for preserving or retaining the lien thereof

Section 35 Any rule granted under the provisions of this act may be made returnable at such time as the court may direct either therein or by rule of court or by special or standing order All petitions answers and replications shall be under oath or affirmation Answers must be filled and served within fifteen days after service of the petition and rules and replications must be filed within fifteen days after service of the last of the answers Replications must be confined to a reply to new matter set forth in the answers

The facts averred by either party and not denied in the answer or replication of the other shall be taken as true in all subsequent proceedings in the cause without the necessity for proof thereof unless amended as herein set forth Any fact necessarily found by the court in finally determining a rule shall also be taken as true in all subsequent proceedings in the cause without the necessity for proof thereof unless either party by writing filed and served at least ten days prior to the time fixed for trial requires that it be submitted to the jury.

Section 36 Unless otherwise herein provided all notices petitions and rules shall be served upon counsel for the parties interested or upon the parties themselves in the manner bills in equity are served or upon the owner by leaving a copy with the party in possession of the real estate or in default of service in any of the methods stated then in such manner as the court shall direct

Section 37 Whenever security is required to be given in accordance with the provisions of this act it may be approved by the prothonotary subject to an appeal to the court as in other cases If thereafter the security be found to be insufficient new security may be required within a given time in default of the entry of which the cause may proceed with the same effect as if none had been given the sureties however remaining liable By agreement of the parties or upon approval by the court after notice new security may be entered in lieu of that originally taken and an exonerator entered on the first bond or the security given may be limited to a particular property if clear of incumbrances and if also the security be entered as a lien upon said property

Section 38 In cases where there is a use-plaintiff if the claim shall be paid or otherwise satisfied or discharged at any time before or after filing it shall be the duty of the use-plaintiff or his legal representatives at the request of the owner or of any other person interested by a statement in writing showing how the claim was paid satisfied or discharged and on the payment of costs if any be due to enter satisfaction on the record of such claim In such cases a refusal to satisfy the claim for a period of sixty days after notice so to do served upon the use-plaintiff or his agent or attorney shall subject such use-plaintiff to a suit as for penalty at the hands of the party aggrieved in such sum as the jury shall determine to be just but not exceeding the amount of the claim

Section 39 From any definitive judgment order or decree entered by the court of common pleas under any of the provisions of this act or from the refusal to open a judgment entered by default an appeal may be taken by the party aggrieved to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 701, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections ten and fourteen of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and eleven) entitled "An Act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" as amended by requiring all proceedings in civil cases before magistrates that are sought to be reviewed by appeal to be taken only to the Municipal Court transferring original jurisdiction in certain civil cases from the court of common pleas to said court providing that costs in all cases shall follow the judgment and that certain judgments shall be final

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section ten of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and eleven) entitled "An Act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" which was amended by the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and forty-three) entitled "An Act amending section ten of an act entitled 'An Act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof' approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and eleven) by changing the jurisdiction in civil actions" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 10 The said court hereby created shall have jurisdiction in all civil actions at law and in equity where the value of the matter or thing in controversy exclusive of interest and costs does not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) In all civil cases where the value of the matter or thing in controversy exclusive of interest and costs does not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars the action shall be commenced only in the municipal court or in a magistrate court In any civil action commenced in the said municipal court the costs shall follow the judgment as in the court of common pleas regardless of the amount claimed or of the amount of said judgment All proceedings in civil cases before magistrates that are sought to be reviewed by appeal shall hereafter be taken only to the Municipal Court created by the Act of which this is an amendment instead of to the Court of Common Pleas as heretofore practiced Save as aforesaid such review by appeal appeal shall be had in the same manner and subject to the same restrictions as provided by existing law The amount claimed by the plaintiff where the said claim is for a sum certain shall be conclusive as to the jurisdiction of the court in all civil actions brought for the recovery of money and in actions at law or in equity not involving any sum certain the plaintiff shall file with his statement a certificate as to the amount of the thing or matter in controversy The said court shall also have jurisdiction in any civil cases transferred to it by order of a majority of the judges of any court of common pleas of Philadelphia County

The said court shall also have authority with the consent of the court of common pleas to transfer to that court all suits wrongfully brought in the municipal court in excess of its jurisdiction

Section 2 That section fourteen of said act of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen as amended by section one of an act approved the tenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and fifty-seven) entitled "An Act to amend section fourteen of an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled 'An Act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof'" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 14 All parties believing themselves to be aggrieved by the decision of said Municipal Court may remove their case by appeal or writ of error to the Supreme or Superior Court as the case may be in accordance with the law now existing or which may hereafter be adopted and in accordance with the practice and procedure now existing or which may hereafter be adopted in perfecting appeals from existing courts in Philadelphia County This section shall not apply where the demand or sum in controversy does not exceed five dollars and thirty-three cents In such cases the judgment of the municipal court is final

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To bet ranscribed for a third reading.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, yesterday the House had an apportunity of listening to the reading of the last of a series of letters which have been passing between the Chief Executive and a member of the House. I find no fault particularly with the letter, but I think it should be followed up so that we may learn to what point such a letter might be leading. I personally do not approve of the work of the General Assembly being carried on like a correspondence school; nor do I even believe that the work of the legislature should be carried on by the Chief Executive taking into his confidence three or four men and leaving the rest of the House, two hundred and some members, to wait until some conclusion might be reached by them. But, casting that aside and putting it upon the ground, if you please, of a pubilc emergency which certainly has not been brought on by this House, we take the letter which was brought to our attention yesterday, in which the Chief Executive very kindly consents to the sum of $3,600,000.00 which we can distribute as the Chief Executive and his departments see fit. Personally I cannot see that this is helping us any nearer to a conclusion of the difficulties which seem to have been presented, but even assuming that there is $3,600,000, which he will let us deal with, at least on paper, I would like to be informed as to what steps will be taken by that department in distributing funds which have been allowed in House Bills 110 and 105, which were prepared upon the same theory, and upon the same basis of a lump sum to many institutions. House Bill 110 makes an appropriation to the Department of Public Welfare for the payment of the care of dependent children in various institutions, and House Bill 105 makes an appropriation to the Department of Public Welfare for the care of dependent adults. Now then, if the theory upon which that bill was written, to wit, that the various institutions would like to know the maximum upon which they can depend, is sound, how can they possibly, if they desire to be consistent, still maintain their position of a lump sum for 105 and 110.

I am not at this time raising here the question about the propriety or wisdom of a lump sum appropriation, but if separate appropriation bills are to be prepared for hospitals, which House Bill 109 is, why, if that is wise, why, if that is their read judgment, should not the same thing be done in 105 and 110. Personally, I don't know why the letter which was given to us yesterday was sent. I don't know whether it is because the Governor desires to hand a stop to the members of the legislature; I don't know whether it was sent to us because in the wisdom of the Chief Executive it was deemed that was the best way, but truly, if they arrive at some consistent proposition, if it is right in the one instance, it ought to be right in the other; if it is wrong in one it ought to be wrong in the other. I think we are entitled to this proposition that if they are going to change it in one instance because it is a good thing then it should be changed in the other.

We have a great many small institutions in this state for which the members have introduced separate appropriation bills, either for the care of the children or for the care of the adults. Surely the same procedure should be made here. Last session, six million and some dollars were appropriated for the care of the hospitals; Four million four hundred and ninety and some thousand dollars were actually appropriated, because some institutions were declared to be sectarian. Now, if it took five million last session to take care of the hospitals, I don't see how we can be performing our duty if we allow any other department of this government to say you can have $3,600,000 to take care of the same institutions. We have got to be bigger than that. The Chief Executive, when he spoke to us at the beginning of the session, declared that he felt that no additional taxes were necessary, that this state could be run on the amount of money which we could get. Now, that may or may not be true, but from utterances that I have heard, and from newspaper articles that I have read, coming from men who seem to know the financial condition of this state, it would indicate that we do need more taxes and that there is not sufficient money. Now, in face of that, it seems to me that the work of the general assembly should be left to the Appropriations Committee, and to the other committees in the general legislative trend of this body.

I do not think it is incumbent upon the Chief Executive to tell us how much money he is going to give us to distribute to institutions. I feel that we should make up our minds that we are going to take care of that end. We want to co-operate with every other branch of this government, I am sure. I am sure that every member of this House wants the co-operation of every other branch of this government, but I don't think any member of this House is willing to surrender his prerogative. I don't think it is incumbent upon the Chief Executive, if he feels that we have not sufficient money, and in putting it down on paper in dollars and cents, it shows we do not have sufficient money. I do not think the Chief Executive should continue in his attitude so far as this is concerned and say to us that if we cannot get along with what we have, if we think we should have more taxes, it is up to the General Assembly to do that and they must assume that responsibility. It is proper that the Governor should have in mind this: First, are we going to accept the report of the Budget Commission, and I say it in all fairness to that Commission, as to how much money we are to be allowed for specific purposes, and if in the particular instance 109 is to be withdrawn and specific bills are introduced, should not the same measure of action, should not the same procedure be taken with bills 105 and 110.

I have no ax to grind. I ask this primarily because I feel that the children and adults should be taken care of, and the insane and feeble-minded, and in view of the question of its constitutionality, I believe the procedure should be the same this session as it was last session and in the session before and the session to come, and I feel at least that we are entitled to some word as to whether we are proceeding in bills 105 and 110 contrary to the spirit of the letter sent yesterday and whether we would take the same attitude on those bills as we have taken on the others.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman on his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affimative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 612, entitled:

An Act authorizing the election of a solicitor of townships by supervisors of second class townsnips in county convention assembled defining the duties of said solicitor of townships regulating the salary and the manner of payment thereof to the solicitor of townships

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to the intention of this bill, I want to say to the members of the House that is is simply an enabling act and is not mandatory. It enables the supervisors in townships of the second class, in annual convention assembled by a majority vote, to elect a solicitor of townships for a term of two years. There are several reasons for the bill. One of them is this: That it enables the various townships joining together to employ a solicitor, to get expert advice on matters pertaining to road laws. Joined together they can pay a salary sufficient to the solicitor to make it worth his while to spend considerable time on the intricate questions of road laws, and the questions pertaining to the duties of the township supervisors. In this way they can get better service than they do by each one hiring a solicitor independent and alone. In the second place, it oftimes happened that the poor townships, and the smaller townships, have the most intricate questions to contend with pertaining to the construction of their roads. Alone they cannot afford to pay enough to a solicitor to make it worth while for him to spend the time that is necessary to give them the service that they demand. As I said before this is simply an enabling act, permitting township supervisors to join together and apportion the costs in such manner as they may desire in annual convention assembled, hiring a solicitor jointly instead of separately.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Bidelspacher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would like to ask the gentleman, the sponsor of this bill, if it would not be better to have a maximum salary instead of a minimum salary in this bill? In other words, as I read the bill, the salary shall not be less than one thousand dollars per annum, and yet on the other hand the sky is the limit. As far as this bill is concerned, would it not be better to have the maximum salary fixed rather than the minimum.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. My observation has been that township supervisors are very jealous in guarding the township finances, and I think there is no danger whatever that the solicitor will be overpaid.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this, of course, is a solicitor's bill, and you might suppose that I was more or less interested in the salary. It does not seem to me, however, the proper thing to fix a minimum salary but that in a bill where a salary is fixed it seems to me the maximum should be fixed. In other words, if we fix a maximum then the townships know the maximum they can give in fixing this salary. If the job is offered to some attorney at, say five hundred dollars a year, and he does not think that is sufficient, there is nothing in the law that compels him to take the job, and moreover that would give them the maximum here fixed rather than the minimum. That would give the conventions of the townships rather the option to get a good attorney at as fair a salary as possible. Therefore, I would suggest that unless the bill is amended to make a maximum salary rather than a minimum it should be defeated.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. In order to meet the objection of Mr. Alexander I am perfectly willing that a maximum salary shall go in the bill.

RECONSIDÉRATION OF VOTE.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 612, file folio 1181 be recommitted to the Committee on Counties and Townships for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 632, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and ninety-one) entitled "An Act restricting the appointment of corporate fiduciaries by testators or by any court or register of wills to corporations fully subject to supervision and examination by the Banking Department" by exempting certain corporations from the provisions thereof.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 632, File Folio 1183, be placed on final passage postponed calendar.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 557, entitled:

An Act relating to the assignment of rights to receive or recover a debt or money

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. McDaniel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McDANIEL. Yes Sir.

Mr. MARSHALL. Will the sponsor of the bill please state to the members of the House the purpose of the bill and the advantages to be secured by its passage?

Mr. McDANIEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is practically the same bill that I proposed earlier in the session. At that time, owing to a certain clause in the bill, the gentleman from Somerset objected to it. Since that time I have conferred with him and have taken from the bill the phrase that he objected to, which was "damages for a breach of contract". That has been taken from the bill and the bill was redrafted and is now submitted to you for final passage. The bill itself is designed to do away with the cumbersome method now used in the style of cases. When attorneys bring action against a defendant they have to use the names of all the parties in the caption of heir case, and they have to use a certain phrase, which is known to the legal people, "for the use of". This is designed to do away with that term. As it now stands whenever an attorney has a case he must use that form; when it goes to the prothonotary he must index it under those names, the writs are drawn under those names and the sheriff issues his writs of summons and his notices and must rewrite in the captian of the cause all of those names. As this bill does away with all this needless red tape, it seems to me that the bill is meritorious.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, the explanation that the sponsor of the bill has just given to the members is the very reason that I think this bill should not be passed. As he has stated to you, at the present time if a man has a claim against another man and he assigns that claim to a third party, and if the third party sues he sues in his own name, or in the name of the original obligee for use of the assignee, and suit is brought in that form, and when the papers are served he can tell from the from of the caption what it means and what constitutes the basis of the claim. If A owes B an obligation and B would assign it to C, C in bringing suit against A would bring it in the name of the obligee for use of the assignee against the obligor. The result would be that as soon as the served papers were served upon him he could determine the basis of that claim. Under this act if you eliminate that form of procedure, when a suit is started by a man on a claim which has been assigned, the obligor cannot determine what constitutes the basis of the suit. The suit may be brought by a stranger whom he does not know in any way. The only way he could possibly determine the basis of the suit started against him would be either by consulting the man who brings the suit or wait until the statement of claim is filed at a later date, which might bring out the statement of what constitutes the claim. For that reason I think the procedure, as it is outlined in this bill, is a very dangerous procedure to institute, and we ought to retain the procedure in use at the present time. It is not so cumbersome as it has been outlined to you because under the present law when suit is brought it is just brought in the name of the original obligator. For that reason I think we should vote this bill down.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McDANIEL. Mr. Speaker, owing to the objections raised by the gentleman from Beaver, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 645, entitled:

An Act to regulate the allotting or subdividing of land which includes the location of streets, lanes or alleys in counties of the second class, except land within a city or borough, by requiring the recording in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of a map or plat prior to the sale, conveyance or mortgaging of any part thereof, and providing penalties for the violation of the act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 563, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws eight hunded and ninety-nine) entitled "An Act regulating service of process from the courts of common pleas or other courts of record and extending the territorial jurisdiction thereof in certain cases" by authorizing the service of writs of summons in any county of the Commonwealth and to repeal section two of said act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. KUNKLE. By request, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 529, entitled:

An Act concerning aeronautics and to make uniform the law with reference thereto

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Blair, Mr. McCurdy, has directed my attention to one or two particulars in which this bill ought to be amended. I move, therefore, that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 606, entitled:

An Act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and thirty) entitled "An Act authorizing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to rebuild county bridges over navigable rivers and other streams which have been declared public highways by act of assembly where such bridges have been destroyed by flood fire or other casualty providing for the appointment of viewers and inspectors and the payment of the cost of rebuilding such bridges" providing for the rebuilding of decayed and unsafe bridges and certain bridges on State highways

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.
Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the Chair and the Chief Clerk to the fact that the sponsor of bill 606 appears to be Mr. Golder. I have had to confess my ignorance so often during the last week as to the purpose of this bill that I desire to have the Clerk correct the same to read, "Mr. Gelder".

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to assume responsibility for this bill because the bill will not require the money from the Commonwealth that the bill that Mr. Golder is interested in, and Philadelphia, will.

MR. ALEXANDER IN THE CHAIR.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILLEGE.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been asked so often this morning in regard to the appropriation bills that I believe an explanation is necessary. Yesterday I made the statement that it would not be necessary to introduce new bills for your hospital appropriations. After talking with a number of members of the House they all seemed to feel that it would help the work of the Appropriations Committee if uniform bills were introduced. We have decideld to try to get these ready for the members, and with the aid that has been given us by different departments, we will have enough blank bills ready by Monday so that each one of you can have bills for your separate institutions in your own territory, and all that will be necesary will be to fill in the name of the institution and the amount of the appropriation that you want. (I don't say that you will get it, but what you want.) I think this will help matters a great deal if you will do this. They will all be ready for you by Monday night.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 232, as follows:

An Act to amend chapter eleven article two of the Act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto"

NAYS—1.

Walker,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 382, entitled:

An Act relating to the leasing of real property making it unlawful to dispossess tenants or recover leased property except after thirty days' notice prohibiting the execution of leases containing waivers of the provisions of this act and voiding certain leases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. McDermott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McDERMOTT. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to ask the gentleman if he has considered the question of the unconstitutionality of this bill as to that part of the Constitution which prohibits the impairment of contracts.

Mr. McDERMOTT. I have considered that proposition, the proposed bill from that angle, and due to the fact that there is already a law on the statute books that requires a thirty days notice to dispossess a tenant, but which they have been able to get around by signing a lease, this bill is intended for that purpose. We are willing to take our chance along those lines.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Wouldn't that impair the contract or lease?

Mr. McDERMOTT. Not as I see it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, a man can enter today into an agreement or lease and agree therein for some particular reason known between the two of them at that time, for instance, I might say, that the owner of the property may have the property for sale, and therefore, in order that he might have possession within a few days after he has sold it, agree with the man who signed the lease that the lessee would give possession of that property upon ten days notice. This act would enable that man to violate his agreement and stay in for thirty days instead of the ten days, would it not?

Mr. McDERMOTT. Why, yes, in that particular case, but the case that this is intended to cover—I might cite an instance that this bill intends to cover. Last summer, on April 1st, as we all know, there was a general strike of the miners throughout the nation and in different parts of Pennsylvania, and there was a response from the miners in this section to a call issued by the United Mine Workers, and in these sections where the miners had no freedom these lessees agreed to vacate on a three or five day notice which was a condition of employment. When the strike took place the miners in those sections were thrown out in the storm, given no consideration whatever. I remember being through there in April and seeing people thrown out of their homes, homes that they had probably paid for two or three times, and no provision being made to take care of them. The United Mine Workers were called on and asked if they would not lend their hand and provide tents to take care of these people. Now, that is the condition that we are trying to remedy, to make that illegal, and this is the only way we can do it to make it illegal for those coal companies to throw people out of their homes in order to break the spirit of unionism that they may have. Is that all?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate that there have been a great many hardships. I appreciate the condition of the lessees in many instances. I do not think, however, that this bill affects that, although I think most likely it has been intended to affect just what the gentleman has stated, but the letting that he refers to is conditioned upon employment, and therefore, this lease in this bill does not affect that in the least. Where the letting is conditioned upon employment, immediately upon the ending of that employment, without any further notice, except it is taken care of by an Act of Assembly as to that kind of a letting, that letting ends with his employment unless restricted by an Act of Assembly. If that is what the gentleman desires in this bill, to restrict a letting conditioned upon employment and in the event that a man loses his position for some reason, it would give him some time or some notice to make his change from the habitation where he is at that time, I would agree to it, and I think it would be a proper bill under those circumstances. But I am opposed, as a general proposition, to permitting anybody, I don't care who, that has entered into a contract in writing—it is bad enough for them to enter into a verbal agreement, one agreement, of course, is just as binding as another—from entering into an agreement to do certain things and then after having entered into that agreement in good faith, to be permitted at any moment to break that agreement which he in good faith entered into, and I cannot vote for an act of legislation as a legislator, to permit that. No man, except the class to which he has already referred is covered by this class proposition, but this act is much broader than that, but to permit that man to enter into an agreement in good faith, and then the next minute break that contract, I think that is poor policy, notwithstanding the fact that I have great doubt as to the constitutionality of it.

As I just cited a while ago, and as I already said, I know there are hardships, I know you have lots of men today who are letting property, and that those landlords do not seem to have one grain of conscience. I agree to all of that. I agree to all those hardships, but there is another class who have conscience. You take the man, perhaps, who has a property, as I already stated in my inquiry, and he has that property for sale, and a man comes along and has no place to go, has no place to live, he has to move. He comes to me and he will say, "Mr. Alexander, I would like to rent that property. I have no place to go." And I will say, "I have that property for sale, and I may have to give possession." He says, "All right, I will agree in writing that on ten days' notice I will move." I enter into that agreement and you pass this bill, and such an agreement as that is made, and that is only one of many other kinds, that is practically along the same line, as that mentioned there. The next day, perhaps, I may sell that property, or may not sell it within two months. He can knock me out of a buyer, or a proper purchaser for the property by declining to move out of that for thirty days. I don't think it is proper for this Legislature to permit any man or any woman to violate a contract which he has entered into in good faith.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I tried to take care of that objection at the request of the real estate owners of Pennsylvania. They agreed to submit amendments and if agreeable they would be submitted to the bill. I postponed, or recommitted this bill for that purpose, and those amendments were prepared by the Reference Bureau, at the instigation of attorneys from Pittsburgh, and this is one of them.

"Who at the time of the execution of the lease or of the entering into possession of the leased premises or at the time of the attempted dispossession was or is an employee of the said landlord or of any person, association, co-partnership or corporation owning and leasing the said premises or who was or is an employee of the person, association, co-partnership or corporation actually owning or controlling either directly or indirectly the said landlord or employing him as agent or recovering or repossessing any leased premises from any such tenant for any purpose."

This was along the lines which the member just mentioned, a condition of employment, but I was also sent this letter:

"I am herewith enclosing amendments to the title and to sections one and two of House Bill No. 382 pursuant to a request received from Mr. William Jacoby of Pittsburgh.

"The amendments are made separately because it will be necessary to make the amendment to the title on the floor of the House. The other amendments can be made in committee.

"I feel that in submitting these amendments I should advise you that while there might have been some doubt as to the constitutionality of the act as prepared for and introduced by you, I am convinced that if amended as suggested the doubt would be entirely removed and that the bill if so enacted would be unconstitutional, as class legislation."

So you can see we have tried to take care of this case which has been cited, but it is impossible because you would kill the whole bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 380, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand seventy-two) entitled "An Act providing a method of establishing title to land acquired at a sale for unpaid taxes"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand seventy-two) entitled "An act providing a method of establishing title to land acquired at sale for unpaid taxes" is amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That in all cases where land has been heretofore sold or shall be hereafter sold for unpaid taxes and the same shall not have been redeemed within the time prescribed by law the purchaser at such sale or his successor in title may present his petition under oath to the court of common pleas of the county wherein the land it situate setting forth (a) the location of the lands by metes and bounds or if it be in a recorded plan of lots the plan number of the lot and the place of record of the plan (b) the names of the former owners reputed owners persons in possession or any other person having or claiming to have a right to interest in claim against said land if any there be and (c) that upon diligent inquiry no person has been found who has or claims to have any right title or interest in or claim against said land unless it be those named in the petition thereupon a rule shall be granted upon the persons named in the petition and generally upon all other persons not named in the petition who have or claim to have any right title or interest in or claim against the said land to appear within sixty days from the service of the rule and show cause why the title of the petitioner to said land should not be adjudicated and decreed valid and indefeasible as against all rights or claims whatsoever the rule may be made returnable to such term or return day as may be fixed by the court and shall be entered of record in the appearance docket of said court and duly indexed therein and also in the ejectment index of said court as to persons domiciled within the county the rule shall be served and returned as writs of summons are served and returned as to those persons who do not have their domicile within the county in which the rule is issued or those whose domicile is outside of the State the rule may be served by mailing a true and attested copy of the petition and rule by registered letter to his or their last known address if any

In addition thereto the court shall direct that notice by one advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the land is situated be given to all persons including those named in the petition to appear on or before the return day of the rule and show cause why the title of the petitioner should not be adjudicated and decreed valid and indefeasible as against all rights or claims whatsoever the advertisement shall be made at least sixty days before the return day of the said rule

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 — 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7 — HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1923. — No. 30.

SENATE

MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1923.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we do not forget the wondrous significance of the Holy week on which we have entered, the week that gathers about it so many hallowed memories and associations. We are very thankful that Thou hast been willing to part with Thine only and dearly beloved Son and that He was willing to come to this earth and dwell among men as a healer and a teacher and an example of high and noble living; and most of all are we grateful that He was willing to suffer and to die that we might live. Grant that we may think upon these things, especially during this Passion Week. O God, Grant that as the Lord, Christ gave his very best for us we may gladly give our best unto Him. May we follow in his steps, may we day by day honor and glorify Him and bless our fellowmen. Hear us in our prayer, in the Redeemer's name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President since the last session of the Senate I received a letter from the Governor which I would like to have read by the clerk at this time, for the information of the Senate.

(The letter was read as follows);

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Hon. Horace T. Schantz, Chairman, Appropriation Committee. The Senate, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Senator Schantz: I have given much consideration to the request that House Bill No. 109, making appropriation for State-Aid Hospitals, be replaced by separate appropriation bills for each hospital. Nothing has shaken my confidence in the constitutionality of the lump sum idea, or in the fact that it would be the most efficient and economical way to apropriate for these institutions, but in view of the strong desire of the beneficiaries to know the maximum on which they may depend, I am willing to have the lump sum of $3,600,000 provided for in Bill No. 109, allocated by maximum amounts to the State-aid Hospitals if the following principals to maintain efficiency and economy in the use of the funds appropriated are observed;

1. That the right of any hospital, whether appropriated for or not, to share in State-aid shall depend on whether it attains and maintains a standard to be fixed by law.
2. That, within the maximum appropriated, each hospital shall receive quarterly an amount based on the number of days of medical or surgical service it has given to indigent sick or injured patients.
3. That the per diem allowance for each service shall be determined for each hospital by its classification at the beginning of each quarter based on the number of beds for patients it maintains and its locality as to the population, as determined by law.
4. That the quarterly requisitions, computed on the basis of classification and service to indigent patients, shall be subject to the approval of the Department of Public Welfare.

I attach a suggested form for the individual appropriation bills, and have asked the Commission of Public Welfare to prepare a list of those hospitals which have already applied to that Department for State-aid, and also for a suggestion of how $3,600,000 might equitably be divided between these hospitals.

The standards Bill for hospitals will be ready tomorrow morning, and the Classification and Per Diem within two days.

If you desire assistance in rewriting or amending appropriation bills for State-aid hospitals, I am sure the Legislative Reference Bureau and the Attorney General's office will co-operate to facilitate the work.

Sincerely yours,

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I desire to state that the form of the bill attached is not the form that will be agreed upon and adopted finally. In consequence of a conference this afternoon. This form will be changed in at least two material points.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, will it be necessary to have new appropriation bills introduced in place of the ones that have been introduced.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, that will not be necessary.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DAIX, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 492 entitled:

An Act regulating the operation of billiard and pocket billiard establishments, and defining the persons who may be present therein.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

An Act to amend section one of an act approved April 13, 1873 (P. L. 21) entitled "An Act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth;" prohibiting the adoption of other standards of time.

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws twenty-one) entitled "An act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth" which as amended by section one of an act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and eighty-two) entitled "An act amending 'An act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth' approved the thirteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven so as to make the same uniform to the standard fixed by act of Congress" reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That on and after the first day of July Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven the mean solar time of the seventy-fifth meridian of longitude west of Greenwich commonly called eastern standard time shall be the sole and uniform legal standard of time throughout this Commonwealth and on and after the date aforesaid all days shall everywhere be taken to begin and end in accordance with said standard and every mention of or reference to any hour or time in any and all existing future acts of Assembly municipal ordinances and corporate by-laws in any and all existing or future rules or regulations adopted by any public officer or official board in any and all rules of the courts of the Commonwealth or any of them whether standing or special and whether now in force or hereafter to be promulgated in any and all orders judgments and decrees of said courts or any of them and judgments and sentences of magistrates pronounced or entered on or after date aforesaid in any and all contracts deeds wills and notices in the transaction of all matters of business public legal commercial or otherwise shall be construed with reference to and in accordance with the said standard hereby adopted unless a different standard is therein expressly provided for Provided however That this act shall not operate to impose upon any person any forfeiture of right or subject him to the consequences of any default by reason of any failure occurring prior to the date aforesaid to comply with the requirement of or do any act under or in pursuance of any law ordinance contract notice deed will regulation rule order judgment sentence or decree if such person shall before the said date have properly done the act or acts which would be requisite to save such forfeiture or prevent such default had this law not been enacted And Provided further That when the standard time shall be advanced for any portion of the year by an act of Congress now in force or hereafter passed the time so fixed by such act of Congress shall be the standard time of this Commonwealth for such portion of the year" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That on and after the first day of July Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven the mean solar time of the seventy-fifth meridian of longitude west of Greenwich commonly called eastern standard time shall be the sole and uniform legal standard of time throughout this Commonwealth and on and after the date aforesaid all days shall everywhere be taken to begin and end in accordance with said standard and every mention of or reference to any hour or time in any and all existing future acts of Assembly municipal ordinances and corporate by-laws in any and all existing or future rules or regulations adopted by any public officer or official board in any and all rules of the courts of the Commonwealth or any of them whether standing or special and whether now in force or hereafter to be promulgated in any and all orders judgments and decrees of said courts or any of them and judgments and sentences of magistrates pronounced or entered on or after the date aforesaid in any and all contracts deeds wills and notices and in the transaction of all matters of business public legal commercial or otherwise shall be construed with reference to and in accordance with the said standard hereby adopted unless a different standard is therein expressly provided for Provided however That this act shall not operate to impose upon any person any forfeiture of rights or subject him to the consequences of any default by reason of any failure occurring prior to the date aforesaid to comply with the requirement of or do any act under or in pursuance of any law ordinance contract notice deed will regulation rule order judgment sentence or decree if such person shall before the said date have properly done the act or acts which would be requisite to save such forefeiture or prevent such default had this law not been enacted And provided further That when the standard time shall be advanced for any portion of the year by any act of Congress now in force or hereafter passed the time so fixed by such act of Congress shall be the standard time of this Commonwealth for such portion of the year And provided That no county city borough town township or other municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth shall by ordinance resolution or rule adopt a different standard of time for any year or any portion of the year than that herein provided and all ordinances resolutions and rules heretofore adopted contrary to this proviso are declared to be void and of no effect

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, as amended, page 4, line 28, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "excepting counties of the first and second classes, and cities, boroughs, towns, townships and other municipal subdivisions within the same"

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to present the following petitions in favor of this amendment. I will not read the petitions but I would like to state that I have received in favor of daylight savings letters, petitions and post cards to the number of 9943 that I have received against daylight saving seven letters.

Mr. President, I do not propose to take up the time of the Senate, as the arguments have been made in committee pro and con on the question of daylight saving, and I do not propose to make any numerous remarks about the mule and cow or the farmer. This may be a joke in the country but not in the city. Unfortunately it is a line up between the country and the city. I wish to say only this, that the latest argument I have heard against daylight saving is one based on the welfare of the child, that the child will not sleep because of daylight. I simply wish to say this, that I have been interested in welfare a great many years and I have voted for welfare bills which have to do with children but I have never had the opportunity, until this amendment was offered, to vote on the welfare of adults. Perhaps my friends on the other side may say this does not apply to the adult female, but I take my stand that this amendment would be a great boon to the adult males, hard working adult males of the two great cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and I think it would be very refreshing if my colleagues would vote for this amendment in favor of those who want an extra hour for recreation in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, like my friend from Philadelphia I do not intend to take up the time of this body in arguing the question of daylight saving at length. There are, however, a few points that I desire to draw to the attention of the Senators before this vote is taken.

In the first place, I want to say that this is a law enforcement measure. We have heard a great deal lately about law and law enforcement. We have had the standard time law since 1887 and I want to say that this is not a bill against daylight saving, but rather a bill for the enforcement of standard time. In 1887 eastern standard time was adopted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the time of this state, and this is the only time that is mentioned in the provisions of that act. I have heard Senators on this floor say within the past two or three weeks that they would represent the State of Pennsylvania first and their district afterwards. I, for one, will represent my own district first and the State of Pennsylvania afterwards.

There is nothing in this bill to which any one should object. If the people in the city of Philadelphia, or in the city of Pittsburgh, or in the County of Philadelphia, or in the County of Allegheny, desire to have daylight saving we in the country districts do not object, but what we do object to is having a lack of uniformity throughout the State. If these amendments are incorporated in this bill I shall either vote against it myself or move to have it recommitted. To my mind it will absolutely nullify the intent and purpose of this bill.

In my judgment the amendment would make this bill entirely unconstitutional. The Constitution of this State provides that the laws shall be uniform throughout the State and if we are going to have one time in Philadelphia and another in Harrisburg there will be a lack of uniformity throughout the State. As I have said before, I do not intend to go into the argument for or against daylight saving, but I want to warn the Senators that there is a great deal of objection to this bill, not only in the country districts but I doubt very much if Philadelphia were to vote upon the subject, if there would be any more than fifty per cent of the people of that city, counting the women who now vote, who would vote in favor of daylight saving. I believe it is a misconception that there is anything like unanimity in the counties of Allegheny and Philadelphia upon this subject and I hope that this amendment will not prevail, and that when the Senators names are called they will vote "No" upon this amendment.

Mr. VARE. I am rather amazed at the statement of our distinguished colleague from Bucks County. True he has a law office in Philadelphia and he is there in his law office a few hours a day, but my distinguished colleague has not the slightest conception of what is in the minds of the great working people of that splendid city. Those who live among the working people and who mingle with them, are best qualified to judge of what the great masses of people of that splendid city want.

There are nearly two million people in Philadelphia and I have to hear the first resident of the city who is not for daylight saving. It seems to me if there is anything whatsoever in this principle of home rule this amendment is a good time for the citizens of Pennsylvania to express their opinion whether or not those who live in the country districts of the state and not having mingled with those who come from the great municipalities, it seems to me this is the time to show good faith in backing up the principle of home rule and I hope the amendment offered by my distinguished colleague from Philadelphia will prevail and that the two great cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will be permitted to open up the door of opportunity for the great masses of working people in the mills and the factories and who are so much benefited by the opportunity of having this additional hour of recreation in the afternoon.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong the session of the Senate tonight by a lengthly discussion of daylight saving. I do not live in the city of Philadelphia twelve months of the year, but I do live there three and one half or four months in the year and I am living there now. I am in a different position than the distinguished Senator of the First District, and I have heard a great deal of complaint by citizens of the city of Philadelphia relative to the fixing of the time of Philadelphia and adjacent territory. My attitude is a little different from that of the distinguished Senator from Philadelphia who first spoke. I, a country member of the Senate, have certainly had over a hundred letters from citizens of the city of Philadelphia protesting against the Daylight Saving Bill being passed. I have had it from the mothers, the wives of working men claiming that their rest is disturbed by having to get up an hour earlier and, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, after all what is the use of fooling ourselves with the thought that we get an hour more of daylight by turning our watches ahead an hour in the morning. We are on exactly the same time. Anybody who wants an hour more of daylight can easily get it by getting up an hour earlier in the morning and nothing is served except confusion by a continual discussion of daylight saving.

I live twenty two miles out from the city of Philadelphia and we have standard time. The government during the war period found it necessary to pass an act of the National Congress as a war measure, giving to the country at large the so-called daylight saving. Immediately after the armistice they repealed the Daylight Saving law. The State of New York and New York has daylight saving. The fact of one year after they had placed it on the statute books, they repealed it. The only thing urged here is the theory that the city of Philadelphia has to do business with the City of New York and New York has daylight saving. The fact of the matter is that there is nothing that would bring New York back to the standard time more quickly than if Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the cities doing business with the city of New York to stick to the standard time and very soon New York would come back to that standard time.

I am talking for an agricultural district. While I can see that the great city of Philadelphia, the beautiful city of Philadelphia, that I love, and in which I do business three hundred and sixty-five days of the year, and I love as dearly as the representatives from that city, I believe that the majority of the citizens of Philadelphia, if they had an opportunity to vote for or against daylight savings, would stick to the standard time. The people in the country, with a greater population by far than the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh combined, are practically a unit for standard time. They are the people from which the great cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are compelled to draw their supplies. The farmer wants standard time, the farmer needs standard time. The farmer to-day does not work as does the banker and the lawyer, eight or nine hours in a day, but he works fifteen, some of them eighteen hours of the day and at the present time they are compelled to rise at four o'clock in the morning, in order to get their milk prepared, so that the distinguished Senators from Philadelphia may enjoy fresh milk on the breakfast table. They are compelled, to get up, as I said before, at four o'clock. Push ahead their watches oue hour and they will be compelled to get up at three o'clock. If they are compelled to do that, why should not the citizens of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, who want the extra hour to play golf in the afternoon, get up an hour earlier. I have no criticism of the golf player. I am not a golf player myself but I play at it. I enjoy playing at golf just as much as the expert does, If I want to play golf, as we ought to do, in the morning, I get up an hour earlier and go to the golf course and bang the ball around before I eat my breakfast, and the citizens of Philadelphia can do the same thing by getting up an hour earlier in the morning if they want to. I sincerely appeal to the members of the Senate to be fair to the farmer, who provides for them everything that they have to eat and who now works longer hours than any other class of workers we find in the state of Pennsylvania. Give him some consideration, vote down the amendment made by the Senator from Philadelphia, because if you put that amendment in you nullify the bill and the bill is absolutely of no value to the citizens of the state of Pennsylvania with those amendments in.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I listened with quite a lot of interest to our other Philadelphia Senators, who, as I understand it, make their living in Philadelphia and reside in the country, and therefore are country Senators, and are so interested in their constitutents. Now if they have such a good time in Philadelphia and earn so much money in it, they should have some feeling for the Philadelphians. To my mind this is a battle of human beings against cows and bulls; of law enforcement, that is the bull, that is all bull; and the cow is the question of milk. They say that we cannot get our milk to the trains in time and we have to get an hour earlier in the morning. My opinion is that the milk they send in on that day is used the next day, so that we do not get that fresh milk they talk about the same day, we have to be satisfied to drink it the following morning, so they have that advantage of us, they get the milk first. If those Senators from the country who live around Philadelphia would investigate just what the people of Philadelphia want they will find that they want daylight saving, I want to say a few little things happened last week, when some men voted on the Dry Bill, and they were from the country, may be they were right, I am not saying they are not. One Senator said: "Will it protect the people from the selfish money-getters?", another one said: "There stands on one side business and profit, on the other side good government, manhood and womanhood."

That is this case. There stands on one side the farmer with his hunger and greed, desiring to save a few pennies on his farm, save a few minutes of sleep and to bring to Philadelphia their milk at their convenience. We on the other side are not interested in any golf players, we are not interested in any pastime, we are interested in the health of our community. We ask of those farmers who are trying to put the rope around out necks, as they do around the bull and the cow, to give us some of the privilege of enjoying that one hour extra recreation out of our lives. We are not asking it for the rich man. We do not ask it for the lawyer. We ask it for the millman, for the workingman, we ask it for the boy and girl growing up into manhood. The Director of Health in Philadelphia came here last week and stated his position as you all know, came here, and said as physician and former Director of Public Health in the City of Philadelphia, he said to you members of this Committee that "our people, the working people need this extra hour, give it to us."

Now we have Senator Woodward, who has been a man interested in the welfare of children of all ages for pretty near all his life, he does not need legislation for him to go out and play golf, he needs no legislation of any kind because I know that his time is his own, but he comes here interested in the citizenship of Philadelphia, the growing population, and Mr. Farmer throughout the State of Pennsylvania, who is so eager and so hungry for the almighty dollar, I want to call his attention to one man in this Senate who loses more by the passing of this daylight saving bill than any farmer of the State and that man said to me "while it is going to lose for me lots of money, I can not put my dollar against the growing boy and girl of this community, I think more of their welfare and more of their happiness than I do of any dollars that I own." That man is Senator Harris, the moving picture magnate of the City of Pittsburgh. Let them take a lesson from the man who is willing to sacrifice money and time for the benefit of the growing children. Mr. Farmer, you are not entitled to everything. Mr. Farmer, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton pay ninety per cent. of the taxes that support you and keep up your roads. Mr. Farmer, we are supporting you, if it would not be for us in the big cities you would have to go out and work twenty-four hours of the day. It belongs to us for we are supporting you, you are our dependents, so do not want everything yourselves, do not put your time and your paltry few dollars against the welfare, the happiness and contentment of the growing children and the working people of the municipality that work day and night to pay for your roads, and after all you are just a dependent and we have to support you and we can get along without your milk if it is necessary.

Mr. SPROWLS. Mr. President, with respect for the large cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Claysville, I want to say that the larger cities should try to find out what the smaller cities, boroughs and hamlets, who are their contributors and furnish a large part of their trade, want and try to give it to them. The smaller towns want Eastern Standard Time and we should try to give it to them if possible. I am in business myself and my whole thought and time is spent trying to find out what my customers want and give it to them. The larger cities know what the smaller towns want and it is up to them to give their customers and contributors what they want.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I ask the Clerk to read the amendments that Senator Woodward offered to the bill?

(The amendment was read as follows:)

"Amend section 1, as amended, page 4, line 28, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" "excepting counties of the first and second classes, and cities, boroughs, towns, townships, and other municipal subdivisions within the same."

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, due to the fact that I come from the great County of Allegheny, and being the only Senator from my county that takes the stand that there is a law on the statute books that makes any other time than eastern standard time illegal, I happened to see an editorial that said I was getting unmerited approval, something of that sort, for taking the stand for law enforcement, I take it for granted that the Act of 1887, passed April 13, 1887, is to-day a law on the statute books, at least a Judge of Allegheny County says that it is, and that was Judge Shafer. In the decision of Judge Shafer an ordinance passed by the City of Pittsburgh he said:

"By an Act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, approved April 13, 1887, P. L. 21, what is known as Eastern Standard time, that is, the time of the 75th meridian West of Greenwich, was declared to be the standard for computing time for legal purposes in Pennsylvania; it needs no argument and admits of no doubt that neither the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, nor of any borough in the county, nor the supervisors of any township have any power whatever to repeal or modify this law, and therefore to conclude that the ordinance complained of has no legal effect whatever."

Now if you will turn to Article 3, section 7 of the Constitution and take the portions of the Constitution that apply to this amendment, if this amendment were put in, it makes out that act a joke for the simple reason that the Constitution provides that the General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs or school districts, nor shall any law be passed granting powers or privileges in any case where the granting of such powers and privileges shall have been granted by the General Assembly.

Now that covers the proposition, it seems to me. I am not against daylight saving. I have never been against daylight saving, but if you want daylight saving why make a joke out of the act of assembly of 1887? If you want daylight saving, why do you not amend the Act of 1887 and simply say from the last Sunday of April until the first Sunday in October the standard time of the State of Pennsylvania shall be what you want to make it, one hour ahead of the eastern standard time. The very fact that you have Federal Reserve Banks that open their banks at 8 o'clock instead of 9, and close them at two instead of three does not make it right, for the simple reason that the Federal Reserve Banks are working under an Act of Congress, and the Act of Congress is eastern standard time the same as the State of Pennsylvania. If you have a note in bank and the bank closes at 2 o'clock, the banker will not send the note to protest. I will tell you what will be done, he will carry it over a day and you do not have to pay a dollar in addition to what you would pay if the bank had closed at 3 o'clock.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I make this explanation simply that my people back home may understand my position. First, I am not against daylight saving, second I am for the law as it stands, unless the Senate and House of Representatives, approved by the Governor, will change the law as it now stands, but until such time as the Act of Assembly governing the State of Pennsylvania is changed, I too stand for the Act of Assembly, I stand for law enforcement, just the same as I did for the law enforcement under the Woner Act, or the Snyder-Armstrong Bill, it does not differ a particle. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, is a good constitutional lawyer, and knows just as well as he is living that if you put this amendment in this bill, the bill is nullified and every other lawyer in the Senate knows it, and the bill will be a joke. Either you have to have the enforcement act of 1887 or you have to amend the Act of 1887 and give us a time that will apply to the entire State of Pennsylvania. That is what you have to do in order to make it legal, and there is not a lawyer on the Senate floor, who would deny it if it came down to brass tacks on the proposition. I just make this explanation in view of the criticism I have had back home of being against daylight saving, and again I repeat I am not against daylight saving, I am for law enforcement, as you find the law on the Statute books, and will stand there until the law is amended.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, there are certain matters pretaining to the question of the sentiment of Pittsburgh. I do not know whether the sentiment has been created by certain newspapers, but one of our evening papers has taken a very determined stand and blocked out on its front page a coupon to be sent to the different members of the county calling upon them to be for daylight saving. In addition to that they have written editorials and letters. Now so far as my position is concerned in receiving letters and coupons from this particular evening paper, I can say positively it has been one hundred to one in favor of daylight saving. I have not computed the hundreds and thousands of those coupons and letters and so on that I have received because I could not have done it and attended to my other business. I have tried in a sense to keep within my own mind as to the great number but I will say to you that these coupons calling upon me show the sentiment of Pittsburgh to be for daylight saving. I would say that I did not receive fifty letters nor a single petition in opposition to it. I did receive some few letters calling upon me to oppose daylight saving or to be for the Derrick Bill, but I think in view of this condition that we are confronted with that the most serious part, the part that means more to the State of Pennsylvania and to its business interests is the position occupied by the Empire State and in that great muncipality, the City of New York, that is taking the stand for daylight saving and if we do not the larger cities with the population we have in Pittsburgh, we are just going to be one hour behind them in our business. Now I am not here to defend the position of the banker nor for him to arrange his employees to open up his bank at 8 o'clock. I am not here to drum up any particular interest of business or the promotion of any great business enterprises. I am not here to tell the Federal Reserve Banks that they will be violating the national law. The Federal Reserve Banks in New York and Cleveland will be an hour ahead of us and the banking institutions of western Pennsylvania and eastern Pennsylvania will be one hour behind them, and if the banking institutions and the business interests and the welfare of people in large centers of population are not to be considered as to the future then what can we expect in the future if communities take advantages of it and have more healthful offspring and get more recreation? The best hour in the morning we all know beginning June, July and August we have daylight at four o'clock and if a man is used to getting up at six, he gets up at five, he gets up at daylight and he starts out in the morning and he has daylight until half past nine at night until the middle of August.

Now it is worth while for this Senate to consider that this is not a contest between the counties from which the Senators come where farming is the most valuable part of the interest of the community. I think there is a broader view, and that broader view is the proposition of the big interests that will be controlled and governed and any banker will tell you that the advantage of one hour over other business might run into the question of hundreds of millions in four or five or six months, not to any particular institution, but the institutions as a whole and our people of Pennsylvania should not be deprived of the opportunity to participate in the enriching of securities simply because the banking institutions have not opened up and they should not be forced either by the question of legislation when remedial legislation can be given to them to bring their employees to work for them at 8 o'clock in the morning and to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The question of a bank note going to protest; we know that under the legal interpretation a banker could not allow a note to go to protest under the standard time, but the average man who has a note to take care of is not waiting until the last minute to be there and take care of it and have it renewed. So I do not think it is necessary to enter into the question that will be involved in reference to banking, but we want to make sure that the sentiment whether it is brought about by the Evening Sun of Pittsburgh or not, in reference to the letters and petitions and coupons that I have received, they run into thousands, being one hundred to one in favor of daylight saving.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I feel it my duty to ask for one minute to make a few corrections. In the first place to correct the Senator from Washington to tell him that this amendment will not apply to Scranton or Lackawanna County. In the second place I would like to say I know more about the milk business than some of the Senators who have spoken, I have been a director of a milk company for fifteen or twenty years, a very prosperous company. We deliver the morning's milk for breakfast and when the Senator from Chester calls for a glass of milk at the Bellevue-Stratford for breakfast it is not that morning's milk that he gets but the day before. I also have an opinion of Judge Shafer that I would like to read, the final statement that he makes: "There is nothing unlawful or in violation of the Act of Assembly fixing the standard time for any individual or institution or the public generally to move back their activities an hour and to set their clocks forward accordingly. Whenever, however, any specific hour of the day is fixed for the performance of any legal duty it must be taken, of course to be Eastern Standard time.

It seems to me, therefore, that no action which the court could possibly take, and especially no injunction against either the city as a corporation or the members of the council could have any effect upon the situation".

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Buckman and Mr. Vare, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Aron,	Heaton,	Mansfield,	Smith,
Baldwin,	Huffman,	McClintock,	Stineman,
Brown,	Joyce,	McNichol,	Stites,
Daix,	Krause,	Patton,	Vare,
Einstein,	Leslie,	Salus,	Woodward,
Harris,	MacDade,	Schantz,

NAYS—26

Barr,	Culbertson,	Lanius,	Snyder,
Berntheizel,	Derrick,	Long,	Sones,
Betts,	DeWitt,	Miller,	Sprowls,
Buckman,	Eyre,	Norton,	Steele,
Christley,	Homsher,	Phipps,	Weaver,
Clark,	Jones,	Quigley,
Craig,	Kutz,	Schantz,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the question?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An act to amend section one of an act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws twenty-one) entitled "An act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth" prohibiting the adoption of other standard time

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 291, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and twenty-five) entitled "An Act providing for the payment of the premiums on bonds of county city borough school-district and township employes" extending the provisions thereof to officers

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and twenty-five) entitled "An Act providing for the payment of the premiums on bonds of county city borough school-district and township employes" which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That when any employe of any county city borough school-district or township of this Commonwealth shall be required to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties and such bond shall be required to be endorsed by a surety company it shall be lawful for such county city borough school-district or township to pay the premium on such bond" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That when any officer or employe of any county city borough school-district or township of this Commonwealth shall be required to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties and such bond shall be required to be endorsed by a surety company it shall be lawful for such county city borough school-district or township to pay the premium on such bond

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 1, page 1, line 9 by striking out the words "which reads" and inserting in lieu thereof: is hereby amended to read.

Amend section 1, page 1, lines 10, 11, and 12, by striking out the lines 10, 11, and 12, and eliminating them from the bill.

Amend section 1, page 2, lines 1 to 6, by striking out the lines 1 to 6, both inclusive and eliminating them from the bill.

Mr. STINEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-third day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seven, (P. L. 225), entitled "An Act providing for the payment of the premiums on bonds of county, city, borough, school-district, and township employes;" extending the provisions thereof to officers.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 292, entitled:

An Act to amend section ten of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An Act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties"

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section ten of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An Act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties" which reads as follows

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in the case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 444, as follows:

An Act authorizing the county commissioners and controller in third class counties to appoint a collector of delinquent taxes and defining his powers with regard to the collection of taxes returned by county tax collectors as uncollectible and for which credits have been claimed

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the county commissioners and controller acting as the salary board are authorized to appoint and to fix the salary of a delinquent tax collector The said delinquent tax collector shall give such bond to the county as the said board may require conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties It shall be the duty of such delinquent tax collector to carefully scrutinize the list of credits returned by the several collectors of county taxes at the time of making settlement of their respective duplicates and ascertain whether any of said taxes so remaining or reported as uncollected are collectible and in any case where he shall be able to locate the persons by whom such taxes were payable he shall proceed to collect such taxes together with penalties and interest due and pay the same into the county treasury giving the person paying the same a proper receipt therefor

Section 2 In the collection of such taxes the said collector of delinquent taxes shall have and possess any and all of the powers now conferred upon collectors of county taxes by the laws of this Commonwealth and no exonerations granted to any county tax collector exempting him from the collection of such taxes shall exempt any person from the payment of such taxes or prevent the collection of the same by the delinquent tax collector herein provided for

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Eternal and Almighty God, with whom there is no variance nor shadow of turning, while Thou canst not look with complacency upon our sins, yet Thou dost love us with an everlasting love; and Thou hast made the assembling of this House again, in this session, a possibility; and as the members of this Assembly, the Representatives of this people, gather again for another legislative session we pray Thy richest blessing to rest upon them. Enrich them, with an endowment of wisdom and knowledge, that will enable them to faithfully discharge the duties and responsibilities that rest upon them. O, Thou eternal God, endue the men and women of this House with that nobility of character, that sincerity of purpose, that clarity of vision that will enable them to play their part nobly, true to themselves and to the best interests of humanity and the furtherance of Thy cause in the kingdom of the earth.

We ask it in Jesus' name. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILLEGE.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, on March 14th, in the Senate Chamber, Senator Barr made a statement, in which he says:

"One thing more, in the hearing that was held in the House, where I thought as a member of that Committee there appeared there in the camouflage two labor leaders, Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Phillips. Mr. Ritchie said he represented the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, and the following day Mr. Phillips said he represented the Federation of Labor of Pennsylvania."

I hold here a letter from the American Federation of Labor, signed by Mr. Frank Morrison, secretary-treasurer, in the absence of Samuel Gompers, who has been in the hospital for some weeks. Mr. Morrison states that Mr. Gompers had refused to answer the letter.

"Dear Mr. Fowler: Your letter of March 19th, addressed to President Gompers has in his absence been brought to my attention for reply.

"Referring to Mr. Joseph Ritchie of 1211 Filbert Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, permit me to advise you that Mr. Ritchie is the official representative of the American Federation of Labor in Philadelphia, and when he appears before a committee in the Pennsylvania Legislature in behalf of pending legislation or in opposition thereto, he speaks as an official representative of the organized labor movement.

"President Gompers will appreciate your kind personal reference to himself. He is gaining every day and his physician expects him to be able to leave the hospital in the course of a few days. Fraternally yours, Frank Morrison, Secretary-Treasurer, American Federation of Labor."

I merely offer that, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, to show that Mr. Ritchie was within his rights as a representative of the American Federation of Labor when he appeared before this House. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

"Amend section 9, line 14, after the word "law" strike out the words "with or without warrant".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, section 9 of this bill involves one of the most fundamental rights of the people in our constitution. I have not offered this amendment in a frivolous manner, but I offered it for the purpose of perfecting, as far as I can, the provisions so that the same shall not come in conflict with the clear and obvious personal liberties of the people of our Commonwealth.

The section provides that:

"When any officer shall discover any person in the act of transporting in violation of this act intoxicating liquor in any wagon buggy motor vehicle water or aircraft or other vehicle or receptacle or otherwise it shall be his duty to seize any and all intoxicating liquor and container found therein being transported contrary to law with or without warrant" and after that it provides that the liquor in the vehicle shall be seized and the person shall be arrested.

Now, the constitution of the United States and the constitution of Pennsylvania, Article 4 of the United States Constitution, which is one of the amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and Section VIII, Article 1, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the two sections are identical, and both provide:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

That section, Mr. Speaker, has lent itself to a great many decisions of our courts, high and low, Federal and State, and it is to those decisions that I purpose to have recourse this evening, but before I proceed that far, I wish to call the attention of the House to one fact, and that is, that this section goes further than the corresponding section in the Volstead Act, for the Volstead Act does not convey the words "with or without warrant," and the lawyers who drew that Volstead Act realized that if they put a section of that kind in the act, they were putting in something that would not stand the test of either the Supreme Courts of the State nor of the courts of the United States. So, gentlemen, before I proceed to the authorities, I wish to say that I tried to find in the books of law, a legal definition for the word "discovery", and I could find no such legal definition. However, I did find the definition of "discover" in the Century Dictionary, and the word "discover" as defined in the Century Dictionary means to get first sight of or knowledge of something previously unknown or unforeseen; find out, or ascertain, to spy, specifically defined, to bring to the knowledge of the world, or to discover a principle, a cavel or a plot; to disclose, reveal, betray; to examine, explore. In other words, the word "discover" is a word of broad meaning, and in that connection, "with or without warrant" is going to convey to the minds of the constables, and to the officers of our Commonwealth, the belief and the understanding that they have a right to arrest on the highways of our Commonwealth any automobile that they might have the least suspicion contained something in violation of this act.

In other words, they could stand along the highway and subject to search motor car after motor car, or passenger after passenger, if they were searching for somebody who is carrying a package in violation of the act that we are now about to pass.

Now, if the House will bear with me, I shall read a few extracts from decisions that I found that relate to this question, and all these decisions that I am referring to are decisions that have been rendered since the passage of the Volstead Act and not before.

In Adams vs. Commonwealth, reported in 246 Southwestern Reporter, 788, January 12, 1923.

"Appellant Adams rode into county seat on horse. Officer noted suspicious bulge in saddle pockets. Officer followed him to blacksmith shop, then sent for a search warrant and discovered moonshine whiskey in bags. Warrant not produced at trial, nor its loss accounted for. Court in conclusion said: ' In the absence of a search warrant or a satisfactory showing of its loss and regularity, the Commonwealth is not entitled to introduce evidence in this case. There is no cause against the Appellant Adams.' "

Not that the violation was not clear, but that the court considered that the Constitutional provision should transcend the rights of the Commonwealth or of the State where it came in conflict with that great Constitutional provision.

In Price vs. Commonwealth, Court of Appeals of Kentucky, September 26, 1922.

"Nanny Price convicted of illegally possessing intoxicating liquors. Fined and imprisoned. On appeal, she was discharged because the search warrant was insufficient; the court stating that the affidavit presented to the court in this case did not state or show the required facts, but merely stated that the state's attorney was informed that the facts did exist. It (affidavit) does not give the name of the person furnishing information; makes no statement as to where or how the belief was obtained or on what information his belief was obtained. In a provision of the Constitution similar to section VIII, the Court says: 'The language of this section is clear and unequivocal and provides that no warrant shall issue to search a place or search any person or thing without probable cause supported by oath or affirmation.' In interpreting the Fourth Amendment of the Federal Constitution and similar provisions in the constitutions of the various states, it has been uniformly held, that the existence of probable cause is a question for the court and cannot be delegated to the accuser."

People vs. Margolis, Supreme Court of Mich., 190 N. W. R. 306, November 2, 1922.

"This court in a long line of decisions has recognized the constitutional right of the individual to be secure in his person, his house, his papers and his possessions from search except by search warrant based upon oath or affirmation describing the place to be searched and the things to be seized. The Supreme Court of the United States has likewise upheld such constitutional right of the individual. In this case, the officers without warrant entered the place of the individual and found intoxicating liquors. Defendants were discharged," because he was wrongly arrested without a warrant.

In Royce vs. Commonwealth, 239 Southwestern Reporter 795, the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, April 18, 1922.

"Where the possession of intoxicating liquors is open and obvious so that anyone within reasonable distances can readily and reasonably see it, no search warrant is needed and the evidence thus obtained may be reviewed upon trial of the accused."

That is, where a person discovers, or sees a person carrying intoxicating liquors.

Welchek vs. State, 247 S. W. R. 529, Court of Appeals of Texas, January 17, 1923.

"The right of the citizen to be secure in his house and private premises and possessions from unlawful and unwarranted search and seizure is as secure as the bill of rights can make it. It should be held sacred by officers and good citizens and infringement be defended against to the last limit. The man who so intrudes does so at his peril. This much is said in caution against misunderstanding."

There have been some recent decisions on the question of search and seizure and reported in annotations corpus juris, that other case I just referred to here. These opinions here, I shall just cite briefly.

Haley vs. Gardner, Florida 91 S. 376.

"Searching of premises and seizure of property therein without warrant is invasion of Constitutional rights."

"The finding of probable cause is judicial function and cannot be delegated by judge to accuser." United States vs. Kelih, 272 Federal Reporter 484.

"Search and seizure without warrant constitutes unlawful search and seizure," and there are many other cases.

Now, there is one case here, and I will be through with the reading of this case in just a minute, in Helton vs. Commonwealth, 243 Southwestern Reporter 918, September 22, 1922, I shall read this case, because I think it presents, or that it states the law as clearly as it can be stated. A deputy sheriff with two or three others were watching out for persons who might be transporting liquor. They met the appellant on the public highway, and he had something tied up in an apron, whereupon, he was arrested, and there was found wrapped up in the apron a quart jar of whiskey and another quart jar in his pocket. That the arresting party did not know what he had until after he was arrested and searched and none of them had a warrant for his arrest, or a search warrant to authorize a search of his person, and that he had not in the presence of the deputy sheriff or any of them violated any law. That defendant protested when he was arrested and demanded sheriff to show him authority, but sheriff had none, but arrested and searched him and then taken before a Justice of the Peace who issued a warrant.

Section 10 of the Constitution of Kentucky is same as provision in Pennsylvania Constitution. Under this section, this court has recently in two exhaustive opinions, held, that 'no search of the person or personal baggage or personal belongings where seizure of articles found on such person is authorized by law without a search warrant unless and until the offender has first been taken into custody by lawful arrest and that evidence obtained by such an unlawful arrest is incompetent against the person arrested in any prosecution against him. It was held, however, in the case of Royce vs. Commonwealth, 194 Kentucky, 480, 239 S. W. 795, that where the possession of the unlawful thing is open and obvious so that anyone within reasonable distance can readily and plainly see it, no search warrant is necessary and the evidence thus obtained may be received upon the trial of the accused. It is admitted in the brief of the attorney general that unless the quart jar tied up in the apron may be said to have been open and obvious to the officers within a reasonable distance and that they could have ascertained thereby that it was whiskey, they then had no right to arrest and search appellant without a warrant or a search warrant. The evidence in the case shows without contradiction that the officer and his party did not know what appellant had until they arrested and searched him and that one passing appellant on the highway could not have ascertained from observation what the package contained, and they did not and could not have known what was in his pocket. It is perfectly clear from the evidence that the officer and his party merely arrested the party upon their suspicion that he might have whiskey on or about his person and there was nothing so open and obvious to them as to authorize his arrest and search.

The rights of citizens guaranteed by our Constitution must be protected. The right of the citizen to protection against unlawful search and seizure was regarded by our forefathers in the formation of this government as one of the sacred things which would be vouchsafed to him at all times and there is no higher duty resting upon the court than the duty to enforce this Constitution provision, and thereby uphold the sacredness of one's person and security of one's possession. It takes no flight of imagination to picture what would happen if every petty officer clothed with some temporary authority might without restraint or hindrance at his will hold up a citizen on the highway for search or search his home in the effort to procure evidence against him. It results from what we have said that the action of the deputy sheriff and his party was wholly without warrant of law and the evidence thus found or disclosed to them was wholly incompetent against the appellant. The judgment is reversed with directions to grant appellant a new trial.'

"The Constitutional guarantee against unreasonable seizures and searches in purpose and effect forbids the legislature to enact laws that authorize unreasonable searches or seizures as well as forbids unreasonable searches and seizures by officers purporting to act under laws that authorize reasonable seizures and searches. No search or seizure is permissible under the law without a proper warrant duly issued search as a reasonable search and seizure may be allowed by law as an incident to a lawful arrest. Where an arrest without a warrant is allowed by law as for an offense being committed or threatened in the presence of an officer authorized by law to make arrest for such offense, a reasonable search and seizure that is properly incident to a lawful arrest may be made.

There was a recent Philadelphia case in which Judge Dickinson, of the United States Court of Philadelphia, very recently stated in a decision:

"The right of the people to be secure in their houses and effects against reasonable searches and seizures is not limited to dwelling houses. If the rule be not so, then not only a garage, a house, shop, store, an office and even a safe-deposit vault might be ransacked by officers under suspicion. Such is not the law. An unlawful search cannot be justified by what is found. A search that is unlawful when it begins is not made lawful when it ends by the seizure of liquor. It was against prying on the chance of discovery that the constitutional amendment was intended to protect the search. Neither is the discretion of the officer, however, good, a substitute in law for a search warrant issued by a proper magistrate. It is to the latter that the law has committed the discretion to say when a warrant shall issue and it can only issue on a probable cause supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized. Constant reiteration of these fundamental principles is warranted by the fact that they seem to be so frequently overlooked."

Mr. Speaker, I have perhaps become somewhat tedious in quoting authorities to this House, many of which, perhaps the men who are not lawyers do not properly comprehend, but in order that the statements that I make, and in order that the amendment that I offer may show upon its face that it is founded upon good law, it was necessary for me to quote those authorities.

Now, I will say this, and I will make a prediction, that if the House, or if the Legislature, does not adopt this amendment, the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania will read that amendment into this act. We are here a legislative body, we are responsible to the people of Pennsylvania for the character of legislation that passes through this Hall, and it should be our duty that when a piece of legislation as important as this section is, a section which involves, as I say, the personal liberties, the personal rights of the individual, that we should not pass a law with a provision in it that we know is violative of the fundamental provisions of our State and our Federal Constitution.

Now, I, a few moments ago, quoted you the definition of the word "discover." If instead of discover the drafter of that bill had said "see" or "perceive" it would have been more definite, but the word "discover" is positively indefinite as set forth in this act, and it acts as an invitation to any minion of the law to go out upon the public highway and subject any automobile that passes along the road, not that he has any knowledge or foreknowledge, that that man is violating the law, but in a vain attempt to secure somebody that he thinks may have violated the law, and that is the thing that we must defend the people of this Commonwealth against, because such a provision as that has no place in a free country, and the courts have so declared.

We have had instances of what I mentioned a moment ago in York County, I think it was only last summer, that I had reported to me on the most reliable authority that the State Police, stood at the Wrightville bridge, on the York County side, and they stopped automobile after automobile as it went by, and they searched into that automobile to find out whether that automobile had liquor in it. They had nothing to define that automobile, they had no seach warrant, they had no warrant of any kind, and yet they invaded the sanctity of personal rights on a mere suspicion.

Why, gentlemen, the liberties that this country possesses at the present time have come after eighteen hundred years of struggle. There was, away back in the German forest, a feeling of personal liberty among our ancestors, but the spirit of personal liberty, and the rights of the people, did not become articulate until the nobles of England forced King John to grant the Magna Charta, and upon that great charter of personal rights we founded our liberties, and they were built upon and built upon until the time of our Constitution, which was the true outgrowth of the Magna Charta, and the liberties that the people of England had been insisting upon and demanding from their rulers for century upon century; and when, finally the Constitution of the United States came for ratification there were a great number of the states of the Union that refused to ratify that constitution until it contained the Bill of Rights, and one of the most important features, in fact the keystone of that Bill of Rights is that amendment of it, which is section VIII of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. It has been said many times and oft, that "Necessity is the tyrant's plea," and that is true. We say that we must enforce a certain law, and that we are justified in doing that, justified in doing certain acts that are not right because it is necessary, but, sir, we should not attempt to enforce one section of the Constitution by violating another and particularly when that other relates to the rights and the liberties of the people of our Commonwealth.

It is for this reason, gentlemen of the House, that I have detained you. I believe that this section can be amended to correspondent with the Volstead Act without weakening that section. I have not read the section of the Volstead Act, but I have that section on my desk, and that section of the Volstead Act is identical with the section in this act with those words stricken out. Now then, if we are going to pass this act let us pass it in a form that does not violate the Constitution of the State; let us not pass it in a way that will be declared unconstitutional; let us not pass it in a manner that will harass our people; let us not pass it in a way that will give to our minions of the law, our State Police and our constables a misapprehension as to what the law is, that will invite them to violate the law in its enforcement, but rather let us take the responsibility to amend this act in such a way as will conform to the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States, and thereby we will pass an act that will at least show that this Legislature has not been asleep about the fundamental principles of law that it should have known.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill has been emasculated and has been amended up to date in such a manner that the father hardly knows his child. I would not like to be a party to disfiguring it any more, and I would ask this House to vote this and all other amendments down, as I don't think that any of the friends of the bill want any amendments in it, and I know the opponents neither want the bill nor the amendments, and I hope you vote it down.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
It was not agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?
It was agreed to.

The tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been passed had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Repealing Clause

Section 18 The following acts and parts of acts viz the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eight) entitled "An act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof" and its amendment approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and seven) entitled "An act amending an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven entitled 'An act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof' by prohibiting the manufacture sale offering for sale transportation importation exportation furnishing or possession for beverage purposes of anything determined and found to be intoxicating by act of Congress passed pursuant to and in the enforcement of the Constitution of the United States of America and by restraining and regulating the sale of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof fit for beverage purposes other than such as are from time to time determined and found to be intoxicating by any such act of Congress" be and the same are hereby repealed.

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed. The repeal of any such acts shall not operate to revive any act general local or special heretofore repealed or superseded

The title was read as follows:

An Act concerning alcoholic liquors; prohibiting the manufacture, advertising, furnishing, traffic in and possession of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, and articles and substances designed or intended for use in the manufacture thereof; defining intoxicating liquor; providing for penalties, forfeitures and the abatement of nuisances; and repealing existing alcoholic liquor laws and alcoholic liquor license laws.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was pending in the Senate a number of amendments were made, and it was their intention, so I am advised, to amend the title so as to clarify it by adding the words "search warrants" after the word "Forfeitures". I therefore now offer such an amendment for the purpose of clarifying the title only.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, line 7, by inserting after the word "forfeitures" the following: "search warrants."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER declared the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call on this amendment.

The SPEAKER. A roll call has been asked for.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be an amicable understanding between the friends of this measure and its opponents that it should pass second reading tonight without any amendments. Whatever is offered, I think we ought to keep good faith on all sides and I hope that the gentleman from Allegheny will withdraw his motion and let the title stand as reported from the Senate.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this amendment, as I stated before, is offered for only one purpose, that is, to clarify the title and to remove any question that there might be as to its constitutionality, and I know that every member of this House doesn't want to raise any such question. The amendments to this title were prepared at the Attorney General's office and it was thought wise only for a matter of clarity that this change should be made. Personally, there might be a question in regard to that conclusion but it seems to me it would be wise to remove any doubt as to the constitutionality of the title, and as the bill has already passed the Senate, if it is to be amended, it must be amended in the House.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STEEDLE. Did I understand, the Speaker of the House to say that the "noes" had it?

The SPEAKER. The Chair said that the "noes" appeared to have it.

Mr. STEEDLE. Then, if that is true, isn't it the custom that it should have unanimous consent?

The SPEAKER. Any two members can ask for a roll call.

Is the call for the roll seconded?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McVicar and Mr. Vickerman and were as follows

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL PLACED ON THE CALENDAR.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 29, file folio 1155, entitled:

An Act proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee on Constitutional Reform.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill which I have moved to place on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation is House Bill No. 29, file folio 1155. From the letters which I have received I am satisfied that the members of this committee have reported this out with a negative recommendation, must have had the same idea as those who are writing letters about it. Everyone seems to think that this resolution is a bill creating an income tax in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This is as far from the fact as it is possible for anything to be. Members of the House, this is an important matter, and I would like you to get what I am saying about it because it is important to all. As I said before, I believe that there is a misunderstanding about this resolution. This resolution was passed by the last House, and if passed by this House, it means a re-submittal to the people of the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania before the amendment can be made. Now, if you will look on the second page of this bill, you will see there that it provides that all taxes and this is the clause to be amended in the Constitution that all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and in the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected only under general laws; but subjects of taxation, and this is the amendment that is proposed, but subjects of taxation may be classified for the purpose of laying graded and progressive taxes, and in the case of inheritance income taxes exemptions may be granted. Now at the present time, there is not a thing to hinder this legislature, if it sees fit so to do, to pass an income tax. It doesn't mean any constitutional amendment to do that, but it does need a constitutional amendment to grade the inheritance tax, and if sometime in the future some legislature should see fit to pass an income tax, as they did some years ago to pass an inheritance tax, that legislature may at that time grade that tax. There is nothing incumbent upon that legislature by reason of this to pass an income tax. It only says in the event that happens it permits that legislature to properly grade that income tax. It saves the advertising and submission again to the electorate of the Commonwealth to say whether or not it shall be amended the second time. There is nothing in this clause whatever that affects the inheritance tax; nothing in this whatever, at this time, within the action of this legislature, but it refers the whole subject of this amendment to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If the people of the Commonwealth see fit to vote it down, that is their doing, but it seems to me that that clause of the Constitution should be amended, it should be amended so that the inheritance tax of today, so that the poor man who dies, leaving but $500.00 or $1000.00, should be permitted to have that tax either exempted entirely or be graded as inheritance taxes of the United States at the present time are. If you defeat this bill, I understand, of course, there is another bill at the present time relative to the grading of inheritance tax, but that means that if this bill is defeated, naturally, we will have to wait two years more before that bill is finally passed upon, before the people can vote upon it, and before we can have any relief in the grading and the exemption of inheritance taxes. And I say there must be some misunderstanding about this because anybody that is interested in this bill should see that there is no danger of an income tax by reason of this, and whether you have this bill or not, any legislature may pass an income tax later on, but they may not be permitted to grade that tax, which is the most important thing about it, and I would ask you to vote "aye" on this motion.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, the bill under discussion, for which a reconsideration is asked, is bill number 29. If my memory serves me correctly, the bill only was introduced on the 25th day of January, 1921. It was reported out of the committee on April 7 1921, but due t oconfusion at that time, the members of this House did not have the opportunity to study the bill. In some respects I agree with the gentleman from Delaware in regard to the first portion of this bill in regard to the inheritance tax. It is very meritorious and we at the present time have a bill before the House introduced by my colleague, Miss MacKiney of Butler, covering that feature of the bill. The other feature of this bill is very objectionable. The phraseology of this bill is couched in such language, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House, that it is very confusing. In the first place, it is the first step to burden the poor people of this State with a possible income tax, and I must concede to Mr. Alexander that he is anticipating, and his anticipations no doubt will be realized, if this blll s put back on the calendar for further consderation. I ask you gentlemen of the House to vote "no" upon the reconsideration of this bill.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, in rising to second the motion of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, I simply want to emphasize this one thing and that is, if this motion does not prevail we will have lost valuable time. A resolution of this kind was passed two years ago, a similar resolution, it is the identical resolution, in fact. If we pass this at this time then it is voted on by the people at the next election. If the motion is defeated and a substitute resolution is passed by this House, that substitute resolution must be passed again in two years from now and cannot be voted upon by the people until four years from this date. So far as the reference to the income tax is concerned, there is nothing whatever in this resolution that commits this general assembly or any subsequent general assembly to the enactment of an income tax. It simply provides that in the event at any time hereafter an income tax is passed by the general assembly that that income tax can be graded. All of you men of this House who are practicing attorneys know what a hardship the present inheritance tax works. Under the present law there is absolutely no chance to exempt any one from its provisions. A man may die and leave a large family with an estate of only one thousand dollars, so his family is removed but one step from absolute poverty, and yet we are helpless and that estate must pay two per cent. to the Commonwealth. I want to urge again the importance of having this motion prevail at this time, so that we may not lose valuable time.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I believe that this bill is a joint resolution which we should place before the members of this House. I was a member in 1917 when the inheritance tax was passed. I remember distinctly that we had counted on some other sources of revenue, for instance, the manufacturers' tax and several others, but it so happened they were defeated and towards the end of the session we were placed in the embarrassing position that we were compelled to vote for this inheritance tax or go back to our people without providing the money needed for our hospitals, our schools, our roads and other necessities. If there ever was a thing for which I was ashamed afterwards, it was the vote I cast for that inheritance tax, although I did cast it, as I said before under a sort of pressure. It so happened right in my own neighborhood, less than six months after, that several deaths, fathers dying leaving small estates, a poor widow and three or four children, yet the State cut into that very meager amount and took 2% away from them. I say to you, if there ever was a vote of which I was ashamed it was that vote, and I feel now that when we have the opportunity to give the exemption, which we should give to the poor families left in destitute circumstances, we should take advantage of that opportunity, and we should place this bill before this House, and pass it so as to give the people of Pennsylvania a chance to vote whether they want such a measure or not. I believe it is fair also in regard to the income tax provisions as well as the inheritance tax provisions, and I believe that here in Pennsylvania we have placed the burden of taxation continually on that class of people who can least afford to pay it. We have placed the burden on real estate and it has been passed on in rents and taxes and in other ways to the poorer class of people, while there are wealthy corporate interests in this Commonwealth that have never paid their just share of the taxes.

This is a just measure, and for the benefit, and in behalf, of the common people of Pennsylvania, I believe we should place it on the calendar, pass it, and then put it up to the people of Pennsylvania whether they want it or not.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, The objection to this bill, in my opinion, is because of its ambiguity. As the bill is now drawn, it would open up taxation, graded and progressive taxes, on everything. It would not only be limited to inheritance or income taxes, but would take away the restraint of equality of taxation, so that the Legislature could lay graded taxes on everything. Therefore, I say the bill is vicious and should be defeated in its present form.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not quite follow the gentleman when he says that no tax except the inheritance tax should be graded. The fact is that it is beneficial in all instances that we might grade taxes. Of course, I cannot understand just what is in his mind that should not be graded. My idea is especially at this time to grade the inheritance tax, I have in my mind at the present time, as my friend Mr. Sarig has already related, one or two instances; one of them the case of two sisters who died within a month of each other. One left her estate to the other and under the collateral inheritance tax, the state took 10% of it and in two weeks they took another 10% out of the same estate. With a resolution of this kind that could have been prevented. Surely we can leave it in the hands of the legislature to say what taxes should be graded. I have in my mind at the present time that under the United States Constitution and it seems to me we can make no mistake by amending the constitution of Pennsylvania to agree with that document, the Constitution of the United States which many of us believe was written by men who must have been inspired in order to write a paper of that kind, This simply follows in the line of that document and surely there can no harm come, there can be no benefit to anybody and that Constitution states that all taxes may be graded. who does not deserve, and should not have that benefit.

As has already been said, we lose about two years in passing a bill of this kind, when there can no harm come from a clause or phraseology of this kind in the bill. There is nothing in this that makes for an income tax. I want to say now that if I had any idea that this was the passing of an income tax, I would never move to put it on the calendar because I am absolutely opposed, especially at this time with our present system of taxation, to an income tax, and as I said, I feel sure that if that was the question at this time I would be one of the first to vote no on the question of an income tax.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to transcribe this bill for a third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WHITEMAN. It is not my intention to talk against the proposed amendment, but inasmuch as the gentleman did not hear the Speaker, it is only fair that he should have an opportunity to introduce his amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker announced, the "nays" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and one hundred and nine members, or more than a majority of the House, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to this bill on second reading be reconsidered.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the title be reconsidered.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to sections 501 to 1302, inclusive, be reconsidered.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section 501?

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 501, page 35, by striking out the following: "Male deer with two or more points to one antler: provided, a male deer with an antler eight or more inches long without points measuring from the top of the skull as the deer is in life, shall be considered legal," and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Male deer with two or more points to one antler: provided, a male deer with an antler four or more inches long without points measuring from the top of the skull as the deer is in life, shall be considered legal.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I fully appreciate the position in which the gentleman is placed in introducing this amendment. I think he is simply trying to interpolate into the code the sentiment of a certain part of his constituency. Now Mr. Speaker, I believe there is not a single member of this House who could not amend this code as prepared if he wished to please certain elements in his constituency. The code, however, represents the product of nearly two months work by the Game Committee. It has been prepared and amended and drawn in a form in which the committee has sought to please the state at large and the State as a whole, rather than any particular community. It has been in the crucible for nearly two months. The Senate is anxious to have the bill. The Committee on Game feels it has done the best it could. The committee heard the gentleman in regard to the buck law and its decision is now in the code, and the committee therefore feels that in order to expedite the bill, and in order to prevent the expense of reprinting at this time, that the amendment should not be inserted. The Game Commission is at the present time finding it necessary to get out its license tags, they must be printed soon in order to be available for the season, and for that reason the committee feels that it is inopportune at this time to amend the bill or attempt an amendment such as the one in question, and the gentleman will have his opportunity to insert such an amendment before the Senate Game Committee.

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, this bill to which the amendment has just been offered, is known as the proposed Game Code. It was before the Game Committee for six weeks and the Game Committee worked continuously with the help of the Game Commission, and this bill now is the product of careful study over a period of from ten to fifteen years by the sportsmen of Pennsylvania and the Game Commission. This bill as it now appears on the calendar was agreed to. Every section was taken upon one by one and agreed to by a majority of that committee. Of course there was something that this member of the committee wanted and something that another member wanted, so we just gave and took until we have what we think is a very good law. I hope that the members of this House will vote down this amendment.

Mr. IRVIN. Mr. Speaker, the Committee has been fighting over this bill ever since the beginning of the session and I think it would be better to turn the fight over to the Senate.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, it is not my office to antagonize the best thought of a committee, but I feel that some explanation is necessary before this particular part of the code, or the Game Law, is passed upon in the whole by this House. The law pertaining to spike bucks is the thing in question. The spike buck is determined by the code of 1921-1922 to comprehend a buck eighteen months old, practically a full grown deer. Now the code, or the proposed code, would increase the antlers to eight inches, and qualifies every thing, requiring two points to the horn of the antlers. Now my object in suggesting this amendment is projected from a group of hunters of the Seven Mountain section of the State of Pennsylvania, and the hunters of big game in those Seven Mountains are not contending that the spike buck should be slaughtered, but they are contending that there are several points that ought to be considered and understood before this law goes any further, so far as the length of the horn is concerned. In the first place, their argument is that there is no need in protecting the spike buck or increasing the length of the horn or having a forked horn, because in last season's shooting there were more bucks killed than any time previous in the records of the histories of Pennsylvania, and it is a fact known to the Game Commission and to all those conversant with the game laws and with big game that the does and bucks are causing a great deal of damage in some of our orchard counties. Now the fact that they are increasing is the cause of the trouble, but I want to qualify myself by saying that I am not in favor of shooting the doe, personally, nor are the men that I am representing, but we do object to having the length of the horns of the spike buck increased because it is not necessary, and because we feel that the larger buck is hindered in his process of procreation, because it is a scientific fact that the spike buck with the shorter horn drives away the larger bucks, and that is known to the old hunters of the State of Pennsylvania and you cannot place him in the same class as you can the stock on a farm, and it has nothing to do with the size and stamina of the young deer, because the spike bucks are protected, and before the season is on they have already performed their function, and then are shot, and the offsprings come along regardless of whether they stay there another year or not. The argument is brought out that most hunters want big heads, that they want a nice mounting, and by protecting the spike buck they could get a nicer mounting. I will cite the case of a young man who hunted deer in Pennsylvania for twenty-five years and never got a chance to shoot a male deer until last fall, when he shot a spike buck, and I want to say this, that while the majority of camps are not meathunters the spike buck is the best eating buck of the whole bunch.

Now in the second place I want to call your attention to the things these hunters are against. The spike buck with four inches is a difficult proposition, and if he has eight inches he may be a difficult proposition, or if he has two points it is a difficult proposition for a hunter in the brush, and I want to call attention to this point that a buck running through the woods or the brush of Pennsylvana careening his head, cannot be determined as to the number of points on his antlers. I say that as having had experience for twenty-five years hunting big game and shooting my quota of deer and bear, and I am right here to say in behalf of these amendments that I have not known how many points a deer had on the antlers until I walked up to them and saw them after I had shot them, and it is impossible to determine the number of points if you are going to qualify that to show they must have more than four inches on the horn. It puts the innocent hunter of jeopardy of breaking the law, and that is the thing we don't want. We do not want the innocent to suffer just because he is not able to determine absolutely until he shoots the deer what sort of a horn he has. I will cite you the instance of a man shooting what he thought was a fine deer because of the points on the horn. After it was shot he found it was a spikehorned buck. He would have violated the law had the law been in existence, and for that reason we do not wish to have this law imposed upon the big game hunters of the State of Pennsylvania. My third reason is this: It is an unpopular law among the big game hunters. Up to this time we have been able to impress them with this idea that they should look before they shoot, and if this law passes I am quite positive those men will shoot and then look, which we do not want. There is no question but that the sportsmen and the hunters of game in Pennsylvania do not desire that sort of thing, so I am asking you to amend the bill, first, because it is not necessary to protect the bucks with horns under four inches; second because it puts the honest hunter in jeopardy of breaking the laws because he cannot tell how many horns a deer has on his head or how many points he has, and it tends toward making the man who is respecting the law, making him break that law, and third, because it is an unpopular law, and therefore I call the attention of the House to it that they may consider it before voting on this bill. Then I feel that I have done my duty and have presented as best I could the thought of the men who have been the hunters of big game in the section which I represent.

Mr. BURCHINAL. Mr Speaker, the purpose of this act is to protect female deer and human beings. The gentleman just stated a few minutes ago that the principal is to look before you shoot, and I think it should be. If you incorporate this in the game laws you will make it necessary for the hunter to look before he shoots. A great many people were killed in this State last year for the reason that they did not stop and look but shot at a noise, and killed female deer and human beings. For that reason the Game Commision has incorporated this in the Game laws, and I am opposed to these amendments for the reason that the game law is for the protection of human beings, and that is the important thing.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was not agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?
It was agreed to.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1923. No. 31.

SENATE

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. T. L. Eyre) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this beautiful day and for all the blessings Thou hast bestowed upon us. While so many men in other lands are suffering for food and raiment and the other things needful for bodily comfort, Thou hast made full provision for us. We thank Thee for our health and strength, and we thank Thee for the privilege of living in this wonderful age when all the doors of opportunity are wide open, the opportunity for doing something in life that is really worth while. We pray Thee that we may be true to Thee and loyal to the highest and noblest ideals, and may we strive in all that we do and say and think to honor and glorify Thee. Bless, we pray, the Senate in the business that lies before it; be with the House in the very important matters that will come before that body. Bless our Governor, the President of the United States, our native land, and bless the whole wide world, for Jesus sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceeding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILLEGE.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The CHAIR. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Weaver, will state his question of personal privilege.

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. HARRY BAKER.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, this is a matter for which I do not feel called upon to make any apology, neither to this Senate nor to the State of Pennsylvania at large. I have been requested by the members of the transcribing force of the Senate to say a few words in honor of the 49th birthday of the Secretary of this Senate. The only mistake in this matter is that some other person was not selected to say these few words, some person more capable. However, I warm up to my subject for I remember that this presentation is to be made by the transcribing force of the Senate, not out of truculence, not out of adulation, not out of any desire to secure something of value out of downright admiration and love of these people for this man. It has always been a great pleasure to me, although I have had some advantages of school, some of those advantages coming rather late in life, it has always been a matter of very great pleasure to have been able to go along down through the years of history and discover here and there some man who, in spite of the fact that he has not received the scholastic advantages, the school advantages of other men, he has been able to rise to the height that the average man with scholastic attainments has not been able to attain. It is undoubtedly true that that is the one chief thing that makes us love Abraham Lincoln as much, or more, than anything else perhaps, and so we find men the whole way down the line and going back as we are reminded by the incidents of this week of that rugged character who sometimes in his impulsiveness stood straight on his feet and then, owing to too much impulsiveness, fell down for the time being, we are reminded of that character, Peter, who was not cultured like Luke, but who, notwithstanding some weaknesses had the greatest power and strength of the apostles, so much so indeed, that the Great Teacher himself felt called upon to say to him one day "Thou art Peter and upon this rock will I build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it". And so we have found these strong rugged characters all through history. This man, W. Harry Baker, familiarly known as "Harry" by all of us is perhaps the most versatile man I think in public life in Pennsylvania to-day. It requires a great deal of taste and tact to say something that will compliment a man and not at the same time offend, and in some instances outrage his sense of propriety. I am exceedingly anxious not to offend in this line, my friend and your friend. His graces are too well known to warrant me in standing before you now and enlarging upon them. Suffice it to say that we love him as much for what he is not as for what he is, because sometimes what a man is is almost wrecked or destroyed by what he is not. We love him because he is not indiscreet. We love him because he knows the value of silence when silence is the proper thing. We love him because he understands thoroughly that altho speech is sometimes silver silence is also golden, and we also know that he will never be charged with the offence of unwise talk.

I very often feel that when I make a break myself and when I sometimes hear my friends making them, since I am not the only one that makes them, when I see myself doing these things and see my friends also doing them, I am reminded of a very ridiculous thing that occurred one time when I was singing in a quartet, the soprano of which was the aunt of one of the present most noted musical composers in the United States. There was at the same time, in the same quartet, a young man singing baritone, who afterwards sang in Omaha and Chicago, and rose to some eminence in that line, but he had occassionally more zeal than wisdom. One day when singing an arrangement of Lang's —instead of waiting until the organist had made the modulation into a different key, he was a bit headstrong, he took the wrong key and persisted in it to the end. This woman stood beside me and I could hear her saying out of the corner of her mouth to me, "My God, listen to that fellow! Just listen to him." And so it is sometimes when we go wrong: I do thank the Lord I do not often have to say that about Harry Baker. Now this being his 49th birthday, his friends of the transcribing room have brought 49 beautiful roses here and asked me to present them to him. I am reminded of a rather rare piece of poetry that comes to me from somewhere, I have never been able to discover the author, if any person here can tell me I will be under obligation to him,—it is like this:

If the rose were born a lily,
And by force of art and eagerness for light,
Grew tall and fair,
It were a true type of the first fiery soul,
That makes a humble name honorable.
They who take it by inheritance alone,
Adding no brightness to it are like stars seen in the ocean,
They were never there but for their bright originals in heaven.

I am quite certain that Harry Baker himself is not shining with any foreign light. He is not reflecting the light of any person else, but all he is and all he does is within Harry Baker. Now at the end of this little informal talk let me as the representative of these people and as the spokesman for the members of this Senate say to him that we wish him at least 49 more returns of this happy day.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. President and members of the Senate, it is a very rare occasion when a person who is not a member of this body is permitted to address it, and I certainly appreciate your kindness in permitting me to say a few words of thanks to the boys in the transcribing room for this remembrance. There have been times in other years when I felt that something was going to happen on my birthday but this year my birthday does not fall on a day when the Senate will be in session, and consequently this beautiful basket of flowers came as a great surprise to me. Words cannot express how deeply I appreciate the kindly feeling of the transcribing force toward me. Oft times people get credit to which they are not entitled and frequently that applies to me. If we had not such an efficient force in the transcribing room many things would go wrong. I believe that few of the Senators fully realize how much work these boys do. They really do not start their labors until after the session closes and then they are here to stay night and day until the work is done. Their association has been most pleasant and I want to thank them sincerely for this beautiful basket of flowers that they have given to me for my 49th birthday.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure that the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Weaver, voices the sentiment of every member of this body in their appreciation of the service rendered to this body by its efficent Secretary.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 581, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten as amended, of an act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred and nine), entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any part thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 119, as follows:

An Act creating the office of controller in counties of the first second third fourth and fifth classes prescribing his powers and duties imposing certain duties upon such county commissioners and county treasurers and abolishing the office of county auditor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the office of county controller is hereby established in each county of the Commonwealth of the first second third fourth and fifth classes At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and every four years thereafter there shall be elected in each of said counties not having a controller and in each of the counties where the term of the county controller then in office expires on the first Monday of January next succeeding a controller who shall hold office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding such election At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and every four years thereafter there shall be elected in each of said counties where the term of county controller then in office expires on the first Monday of January next succeeding a controller for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding such election Whenever any county shall hereafter come within any of the classes of counties to which this act applies there shall be elected in such county at the first municipal election thereafter and every four years thereafter a controller who shall hold his office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding his election The controller of each county shall hold his respective term of office until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified if he shall so long behave himself well In any of said counties not having a controller at the date of the passage of this act and in any of said counties hereinafter coming within the provisions of this act the office of county auditor shall be abolished from and after the date when the controller herein provided for shall commence his term of office

Section 2 No person holding any office under the United States shall be eligible to the office of controller during his continuance in office nor until one year thereafter No county commissioner county treasurer prothonotary register of wills clerk of the courts recorder of deeds sheriff or district attorney or their chief clerks or deputies shall be eligible to the office of county controller until two years after the expiration of their respective terms of office but a controller shall always be eligible to re-election or appointment

Section 3 Before entering upon the duties of his office the controller shall give bond to the county in which he may be elected with at least two sufficient sureties or with corporate surety in the sum of twenty thousand dollars to be approved by the court of common pleas of said county conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and those of his deputies. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1923.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and eternal God, we come to Thee this morning with gratitude and thanksgiving for the manifold blessings which Thou hast bestowed upon us daily. We thank Thee for this day. We thank Thee that Thou hast created us rational beings and endowed us with the power of thought and reason. We thank Thee for the privilege of living, and we pray, our Father, that Thou wouldst help each one, from the least to the greatest, to realize that to discover Thy will, to live and think and act in harmony therewith, is to achieve the primary objective of life here and hereafter; and that to fail in its discovery—to live and think and act contrary, is to fail, in the saddest, as well as the most irreparable sense of the word "failure."

We pray Thee that Thou wouldst bless the members of this House, as their duties and responsibilities become more and more exacting, with that portion of Thy spirit and presence that will qualify them for every duty and every hour and every need. May Thy blessing rest upon the Governor of this Commonwealth, and the Speaker of this House, as well as all who have to do with the welfare of humanity and the glory of Thy name.

We ask it in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Miss MacKinney, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal approved.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

(SPECIAL ORDER.)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 11:30 A. M. having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the Special Order of the day set for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 809 (Senate Bill No. 99), entitled:

An Act concerning alcoholic liquors prohibiting the manufacture advertising furnishing traffic in and possession of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes and articles and substances designed or intended for use in the manufacture thereof defining intoxicating liquor providing for penalties forfeitures and the abatement of nuisances and repealing existing alcoholic liquor laws and alcoholic liquor license laws

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as sponsor for this bill I ask your indulgence for just a few moments before the roll is called. Few, if any, bills that have come before this House during my years of service have been more closely studied by the members and more thoroughly discussed than the one upon which we are about to vote. Whether we favor or oppose prohibition, none of us will deny that the American people were within their rights when they adopted the Eighteenth Amendment. Having adopted that amendment as a concurrent resolution, it became equally binding upon the Congress of the United States and the legislatures of the several states to enact legislation carrying into effect the will of the people. That is exactly what we are now trying to do.

Of necessity, all legislation of this kind is more or less in the nature of a compromise. There are radicals who would demand of us that we go beyond all reason, ignoring the limitations of the Constitution, and establishing a sort of inquisition for the suppression of the illegal traffic in liquor. But we must not allow ourselves to be governed by these radicals. On the other extreme there are those who would make a mockery of the law by refusing to adopt any enforcement legislation whatsoever. They would give free rein to vice and throw the mantle of protection around the bootlegger and moonshiner. With equal vigor we must resist a destructive policy such as that would be.

Therefore, it becomes necessary for us to study the question and find a conservation and safe act that will properly enforce our Constitution. We believe we have done this. We are very certain that the extremists, whether wet or dry, will find little satisfaction in this bill. But we are not legislating for them. We are making laws in the interests of the great mass of the liberty-loving, law-abiding citizenship of this Commonwealth. And I am convicted that in this bill we have the very best that we could hope for.

May I not take opportunity at this moment to thank the members of the House for the honest criticisms you have made of this measure and for the earnest efforts you have put forth to get it in the best possible shape.

I stand ready to give it my heartiest support, for I am convinced that its adoption will mean a more effective instrument for the suppression of crime. It will also create increase respect for law and order.

And now, finally, before the vote is taken I would like to read to you an extract from an address delivered by Abraham Lincoln before the Legislature of Illinois, of which body he was at that time a member:

"As the patriots of '76 did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and the laws let every American pledge his life, his property, and his sacred honor; let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges. Let it be written in primers, spelling-books, and in almanacs. Let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation."

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the more that I consider this bill, the more I am minded of a story, of a visitor to Harrisburg while the Legislature was in session. After he saw all the excitement here he asked what was the cause of it. Someone informed him that the Legislature was in session for the purpose of enacting laws. He said, "Why don't they pass one law to enforce all the rest of the laws that we have on the statute books and then go home?" And I think that applies to this law under consideration today and if our existing laws would be enforced as they snould be enforced, there would be no need for more enforcement laws. I think that the Brooks High License Law and the Woner Act, are better enforcement measures than the present measure under discussion. Only a few short weeks ago, the judge of Philadelphia Cou ty sat in the License Court, taking under consideration the licenses of that county, and refused to grant fifty licenses because they had either pleaded guilty or had been convicted in the federal courts, showing that we have ample laws to govern the so-called liquor traffic in the State of Pennsylvania but the song has gone forth to do away with the saloon. Under this act, gentlemen of the House, instead of doing away with the saloon, we create more saloons. In other words, you can't put a lock upon the saloons as they exist today. They are selling nothing but what the government of United States sells or said they shall sell. If they are found doing anything else, then the civic and federal laws will take care of them; and if this law passes, instead of paying a license fee it opens the door for everybody else that wants to put a counter or a table whichever it may be, in a cigar store, restaurant or wherever he wants, and start the sale of what they want to witnout paying the revenue to the State or city. At the present time the State very readily says that under the existing revenues we can't meet our expenses, but by one stroke of the pen, if you pass this bill, you will cut $5,500,000 off the State and Counties of Pennsylvania. I know myself, being a member of the Ways and Means Committee, that the State of Pennsylvania needs every dollar that it can possibly get; and the Chairman of that Ways and Means Committee has appointed a sub-committee to devise ways and means for gaining revenue for the State. Much has been said of this bill. I don't know how those gentlemen that came here at that public hearing can reconcile themselves to this bill, as it exists today. I sat in that open hearing of that Law and Order Committee and I saw and heard the Attorney General of the State saying, "Vote for this bill and vote it in its entirety." I have heard gentlemen of the cloth get up and expound this bill, expound the Governor of this grand and glorious state of ours, as being one of the most courageous governors that any state in the Union has ever had, a man that stood for his convictions and believed in those convictions, and that he had presented the State of Pennsylvania with one of the greatest law enforcement bills that was ever drafted in the United States. And what have we today? A bill that has been torn asunder leaving nothing in it, and as I said before, does nothing but do away with the revenue of the State and cities. And there is one clause in this bill to which I want to call the attention of the members of the House; namely, in line 12, section 1, it says "the word officer shall be and include all sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables, state and municipal policemen, county and city treasurers." That would be all right, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that takes in and includes every constitutional officer of the State and city also; but the bill goes further and says, "and any other persons authorized to serve warrants." What that added part means, I am at loss to understand unless, as it has been talked about, that the Attorney General is to receive an appropriation of $250,000 to swear in officers that he will have direct control of. That is the only interpretation that I can put upon that section of the act. But stress was laid upon the constitutionality of this bill last night, that we should pass a certain amendment to the title, which was very appropriately voted down by the members of this House. I, for myself, can't see how any lawyer of repute in this House can vote for this bill when it was told to us here on the floor last night that it will be unconstitutional. Also, I wish to call the attention to the important thing that has been said here by my friend Mr. Armstrong, Lincoln said at one time in coining a phrase, that "you can fool all the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time;" and I would like to know, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this thing of Lincoln's was put into effect as far as legislative bodies are concerned, or to think, when Legislatures of the country will legislature for the majority instead of the minority, and I can't conceive by any stretch of imagination why people who come here as members of the Legislature representing their districts, with the promise, probably, of something else that they might obtain, will go along and absolutely betray their friends ana constituents back home. And I say, Mr. Speaker, that they will not continue long, and will simply do away with members of that caliber, with members of that kind. And it is my understanding that all goods seized under this bill shall be turned into the district attorneys of the various counties. I cannot believe, in my talk with some of the district attorneys, but that that entails another added expense to the counties in which those seized goods will be taken. And the search and seizure clause of this bill has formed the whole bill. There has been nothing said as far as the bill is concerned about anything else, the most of it being "search and seizure." The search and seizure of this drastic bill has been so amended that they claim that it is almost null and void, and some of the members of this House take the stand that as long as the drastic feature of that search and seizure is taken from the bill that it is all right. Probably that may be a fact, but the fact still remains that the constitutional rights of each and every citizen of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, are endangered by such acts of the Legislature. As I said in my former remarks, there is enough legislation upon the statute books today, and if that legislation is enforced I don't know the reason why any more legislation such as this will be necessary; and I say with all frankness and all fairness to the Speaker, that if this bill is passed here today, which I hope and trust it will not be, it will be only two years hence before that great body of men, known as the Anti-Saloon League, will come forth with another bill and say this bill is a failure, the same as they say today that the Woner Act is a failure, which they were so anxious to have enacted into law. So, I hope and trust, Mr. Speaker, that each and every member here today will vote, will vote honestly and truly to his constituency and the home people; and I know that the majority voting in that spirit of fairness will wipe this bill off the books.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the question in this debate, as I understand the bill, is whether or not the Woner Bill or law shall remain on our statute books, or whether in its place, we shall have the measure which has come to be called the Pinchot Bill. It is our duty as legislators, representing our respective constituencies, to study whether or not the bill now being debated will more effectually bring about the result to be accomplished, whether or not the bill under debate it so drafted that it will for all times stand the test of judicial interpretation, because, as I understand it, enforcement of law is not dependent as much upon the letter of the law as upon the spirit of the law. I dare say that it depends more upon the spirit of those who go to judge such question than upon any other thing. It may well be doubted, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, whether the majority of the people in any of the states in this Union are in favor of such a measure as is here being debated. It may well be doubted whether any member of Congress or any members of any of the legislatures of these states or of this legislature of you men and women,—it may well be doubted whether, when applied to yourselves you seriously are in favor of a measure such as is now being debated. I have given some thought and some study to the Woner Bill, and to the Pinchot Bill, and since there will be many other speakers following, I want to touch on just a few of the high spots that I have been able to discover in the comparison of the two measures. We have been living under the Woner Act for two years, and if you will honestly look about in the various counties of this State and see what has been done under the Woner Act you will find that it has failed only to be effectual where the decision of twelve men, representing the opinion, the public opinion of this measure, have the decision in their hands. The district attorneys throughout the counties have been successful in prosecutions under the Woner measures. The courts have seen fit in passing upon license applications, to refuse where the applicants have been previously convicted, and generally speaking, the Woner Act has been very effectual. And then, coming to the comparsion of the deficiencies in the present measure, the virtues of the Woner Act stand out most strikingly, because, under it, you have the licensed saloon. Licensed to do what? To sell alcoholic beverages of a legal content, and nothing more. You have them where they ought to be. You have them under legal regulation. You have them under judicial supervision. There is no price so high to pay for taking off the Woner measure as will justify the indiscriminate sale of alcoholic beverages all over this great State, beside the churches, beside the schools, without any distinction as to the distance that may separate them, without any distinction as to what else may there be sold, in those stores, soda fountains, grocery stores, cigar stores, all sorts of stores. It will take legions upon legions of men and women even to give sufficient dignity to any enforcement measure as might be worthy of the name American and Pennsylvanian, if you take off of the statute books the present safeguard, given you, as I have just mentioned, by the taking away of the licensed saloon. Coming, then, to the bill now under debate, there are two great weaknesses as I have been able to discover them.

First, the double jeopardy feature, and for the benefit of those who may not understand the term "double jeopardy", I ask your indulgence for a second or two so that it may be explained. Under the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, section 10 of article 1, it is provided. "No person shall, for any indictable offence, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office;" then, "No person shall, for the same offence, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb," which means that, under our Constitution and under the Constitution of the United States the enforcement here sought, a man and a woman having once been charged and tried for a given offense, cannot for a second time be charged and tried for that same offense. The Supreme Court of the United States as held recently that conviction and punishment in a State court under a state law, for making, transporting and selling intoxicating liquors is not a bar to a prosecution in a Court of the United States under the federal law for the same act. In view of this decision, why should the State of Pennsylvania pass an act involving the use of its police power and the levy of the taxes to provide funds for the enforcement thereof, when the offender, after enduring the punishment provided for therein, and being sufficient by the Legislature, remains liable to be punished anew in a court of the United States for the same act? It is true that the act might be amended to provide that no one should be punished under its terms for an offense for which he had already been convicted and punished under the Volstead Act, but there is nothing to prevent the federal officers from securing his conviction and punishment under the Volstead Law after his conviction and punishment under the proposed state act, if passed, and the Supreme Court has specifically declared that such double punishment is constitutional. It may be true that while the Woner Act remains on the statute books, together with the Volstead Law, the same objection can be made to it; but there is at least this difference, that under the Woner Act, the holder of a license is punishable for violation of the terms of his license, which only permits him to sell malt, vinuous, spiritious beverages, containing less than one half of one percent of alcohol; whereas under the proposed act he is punishable for making, transporting, selling or possessing any intoxicating liquors, which offenses are those specifically forbidden and punishable by the Volstead Act.

Deputy Attorney General Campbell stated at the public hearing that the clause on search and seizure in this proposed measure now under debate was similar to that found in the Volstead Act. The correctness of this assertion may be easily tested by an examination of the Volstead Act and the Pinchot Dry Bill. On the question of search and seizure the Volstead Act, Section 25, provides for the issue of search warrants as provided in Title II of Public Law, No. 24 of the 65th Congress, approved June 15, 1917. By referring to this legislation (Barnes Federal Code, Page 2408, sections 10050 to 10069 inclusive) you will see there an elaborate and reasonable system is provided, by which to guard and protect the rights of persons accused before instituting a search of their homes or their business places, to be followed by a seizure of things therein contained.

Section 10052 provides that "a search warrant cannot be issued, but upon probable cause, supported by an affidavit, naming or describing the persons, and particularly describing the property and place to be search" In this section it is also provided that in all proper cases depositions should be taken of the complainant and other witnesses by the Judge or Commissioner issuing the warrant, and the depositions must be signed by the witnesses.

Section 10056 required the Judge or Commissioner to confine the search to the daytime, unless the evidence is positive that unlawful goods are on the premises in question.

Section 10057 requires that a search warrant must be executed and returned within ten days after it is made.

Sections 10065 and 10068 hold all persons strictly accountable for any perjury in the affidavit or testimony to support the warrant, or for issuance of a warrant with malice or without probable cause, subjecting such persons to fine and imprisonment.

Section 10067 provides for a sentence of fine and imprisonment upon any officer who willfully exceeds his authority in executing the warrant, or who exercises that authority with unnecessary severity.

This, Mr. Speaker and members of the House is the search and seizure clause as written in the Volstead Act, and I ask you and I ask the drafters of this bill now under debate to point to me and to you any provisions in this bill under debate which will pretend to approach that degree of positive protection that comes to American citizenry and American institutions. Examination of the proposed act shows that practically not a single one of these wholesome safeguards are provided for. It is true that the amendment adopted by the Senate apparently restricts the issuance of search warrants for private dwellings, occupied as such, to cases where probable cause is shown that liquor is being sold therein, but no such restriction applies to business places of any kind, nor is the power to issue search warrants restricted to Judges learned in the law, or to United States Commissioners, appointed by Judges, learned in the law, or similar officers, as in the Volstead Act. We have for many years listened incessantly to the demand for a restriction of the authority of the minor judiciary, especially in the great municipalities of this Commonwealth, and under this proposed act, you will be vesting in the authority of men, generally speaking, untrained, undeveloped and unknown in the law, such rights as only judges of the United States Courts appointed by such judges have a right to deal with. You will throw open especially in the crowded foreign sections and districts of this great State the people living there to the unscrupulous constable, the unscrupulous deputy constable attached to the magistrate's court and to the justice of the peace courts' opening the way to greater graft, to greater blackmail, to more bootlegging, all of which will result, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, not to the proper respect for the laws that we love, but rather for less respect, for less tolerance, and for less discretion in our conduct where such a law, which involves primitive instincts, is involved. But the point that I wish to call to your special attention is that the Volstead Act follows the hitherto universal practice of requiring before the issuing of a search warrant whether for a house or a business place or a vehicle, that some person shall be accused of a crime, and provides for the punishment of the accuser for perjury or malicious prosecution, and in the bill under debate, there is a total silence to the punishment of one who may commit perjury in taking an affidavit, that upon his belief there is a violation of the law. The bill under discussion is totally silent. That may be brought by someone who may be malicious, in the prosecution of another for a violation. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call to your attention the fact that under the Volstead Act it is necessary before a search warrant will go out that the affiant state facts, definite, specific facts, which, after stated, will permit a commissioner or a judge learned in the law, to determine whether or not there is probable cause. But under the bill now under discussion all that the affiant need do is to say that he believes there is probable cause. The weakness is apparent. The judge, the magistrate, unlearned in the law, will himself be unable, generally, to determine whether the probable cause is legal probable cause; then, it will be impossible, as I read the act, for the accused, if discharged, to prosecute the informant for perjury or for malicious prosecution, because all that he is obliged to do, is to state that upon his belief there is ground, there is probable cause for a search warrant.

Mr. Speaker and members of this House, if for no other reason a choice should be made between the Woner measure now upon our books and this proposed legislation; then the two reasons that I have just assigned, in my judgment, are sufficient reasons to choose that the Woner measure be permitted to remain on the statute books tried and tested as it has been by the Supreme Court of this State. No such safeguards of the rights of the citizens are to be found in the Pinchot Bill, such as I have described are in the Volstead Bill. Under it, I may obtain a search warrant for your office, for your factory, on mere showing of probable cause, to believe in the opinion of some magistrate, not learned in the law, that the liquor is being manufactured, sold or possessed therein, and in the case of a private dwelling, that the liquor is being sold therein.

I assume no responsibility and cannot be punished for perjury if I swear falsely or for malicious prosecution, if the accused should prosecute me for this offense; for it is established that no one can be punished for stating his belief that a thing is being done in a given place. There will be other speakers following me in opposition to the Pinchot Bill, that I am sure will touch upon the burden of proof. The incriminative evidence, and that point was so properly and splendidly raised by my colleague from York, Mr. Spangler, last evening, on section 9 of this bill. The point that I want to make in conclusion Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen is this: If it is our duty to choose between two measures, both of which are enforcement measures; if we are obliged as we are, to see to the proper endorsement of the law, is it not our duty to wisely and calmly study these two bills from the angle suggested? Is it not our duty to see which of the two measures will bring the greatest good to the greatest number? I submit to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that in my opinion after careful and conscientious study of both of these bills, I am satisfied that this great State will be better off, that its citizenry will have more protection, and that the morals of this great Commonwealth will move with proper progress under the Woner measure and not under the proposed Pinchot Bill which I ask you here today to defeat.

Miss MacKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, no subject of legislation which has been, or will be, presented at this session of the Legislature is of such vital importance to the women of this Commonwealth as the Enforcement Act now before us.

The saloon, which is abolished by this act, has deprived the women in the home, whether it be a hovel or a palace, of all sense of security, protection, or peace. The saloon has brought to her poverty, degradation of her loved ones, and untold heartache. She has seen her children deprived of all that she has hoped and coveted for them. Her mother heart has been wrung with anguish, as she unwillingly witnessed, and at the same time was powerless to prevent, her little ones being forced out of her home into the battle of life at an early age, because of economic necessity.

Children unfit physically, uneducated, and unprepared to enter life's arena, and all because the family purse was depleted at the neighborhood's saloon.

Every child has a right to be well born, properly fed, comfortably clothed, and adequately educated. Thousands and thousands of children in this great Commonwealth, have been deprived of this, their natural heritage, because of legalized liquor traffic.

Some have said that the 18th Amendment was hastily adopted, that we were not prepared for such a change. Hasty! The mothers of this country—The White Ribboners have been working for over one hundred years to destroy the liquor traffic and when the 18th Amendment was ratified, a peon of joy went up from the women of America, rejoicing that now children would never know the temptation of the open saloon.

Women of Pennsylvania came to the last session of this legislature asking the law makers of this great Commonwealth to bring the laws of the state into harmony with our federal law, abolish the saloon and make bootlegging impossible in Father Penn's state.

We asked you for bread and you gave us a stone. You legalized the liquor traffic in Pennsylvania because the revenue was needed and thus made our State for the last two years the "Happy hunting ground" of that pirate of our days, the bootlegger.

Then we entered the campaign last spring and supported with our ballots candidates for Governor and for the legislature who would pledge on every and all occasions to abolish the saloon and drive the bootlegger from our state.

The Senate has redeemed its pledge, our Governor is ready to keep his and the women voters of the state are asking us to keep ours.

When I say women, I mean the women of all state organizations, irrespective of parties.

I hold in my hand the legislative programs of six great state organizations of women; Women's Christian Temperance Union, State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, State Committee of Republican Women, State Committee of Democratic Women, Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teacher's Association. The vote must be unanimous before any subject of legislation is endorsed by the council of these six great organizations of women. It was by such a unanimous vote that the 200,000 women composing these great organizations decided to ask the legislature of 1923 for an adequate enforcement law, repeal all license laws and make bootlegging impossible.

This is what our program says:

"LAW ENFORCEMENT. There are three essentials in law enforcement: an adequate law, officials that are in full sympathy with the law, and patriotic citizens who will support and encourage faithful officials in the performance of their duties. Because these essentials have been disregarded, Pennsylvania has become the "happy hunting ground" for the bootlegger and his allies.

"Ability to enforce its laws is a test of the strength of any government. If our government cannot enforce its own laws, then democracy is a failure and we are following the trail of other republics in the past to the grave yard of nations. We can and will enforce this prohibition law, if the 1923 legislature will provide for the carrying out of the first two essentials, and the patriotic citizens of the Commonwealth will look after the third."

The women feel that the enforcement law that is now before us will accomplish that result, and are asking us to vote for this bill. They are asking us to vote for the home and against the saloon, to vote for the well-being of the children of our state and against the bootlegger.

There is absolutely no middle ground, my friends, Your vote, if registered for this law, is with the home and children; if against this enforcement bill, it must be for the present laws which legalize the saloons and make our dear old state a haven for that pirate, the bootlegger.

Which will you chose today, the home or the saloon; the children of our state, or the bootlegger? The women of your district are watching and praying that you will vote for this bill.

And now, before I am seated, may I answer at least one of the remarks of my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling? He said in his address that he doubted very much if in any state the majority of the people were in favor of the 18th Amendment. Our records show that three-fourths of all the counties in the whole United States had voted themselves dry by local option, before the 18th Amendment was passed and made a part of the Federal Constitution.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in asking you to vote against this bill today, I will not repeat what Mr. Spangler said last night with reference to Section 9, nor anything that has been said this morning by the preceding speakers, but I do want to supplement what Mr. Spangler said and what the preceding speakers said. I want to read for the information of the House, a part of the debate, and particularly a statement by Mr. Volstead, in support of his bill on July 19, 1919, in Congress, wherein he says in speaking of search warrants. "This writ is issued in strictest regulations that you can imagine. The power to issue this writ is under the espionage act. We purposely took out of the search warrant provision of that act, except as against persons who might be disloyal, every tooth that we could, because we were opposed to the granting of any broad general power to search anybody, except they were disloyal. If anybody gets a warrant not in good faith, he is subject to severe punishment. If the officer executing it exceeds the power given in the warrant, he can also be punished. In every way it is sought to be guarded. No justice of the peace can issue it. No one but a court of record or a United States Commissioner can grant one. You have got to go before a court and subject yourself to an examination before a judge or the commissioner will give you a search warrant."

Now, that is a statement by Volstead himself, made in support of his bill at the time of the debate in the House at Washington. Now, so far as section 9 is concerned, and supplementing what Mr. Spangler said last night, I want to read an excerpt of an opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Veeder against the United States made but a short time ago.

"No search warrant shall be issued unless the judge has first been furnished with facts under oath—not suspicions, beliefs or surmises—but facts which, when the law is properly applied to them, tend to establish the necessary legal conclusion, or facts, which when the law is applied to them to establish probable cause for believing that the legal conclusion is right. The invioliability of the accused's home is to be determined by the facts, not by rumor, suspicion or guesswork. If the facts afford the legal basis for the search warrant, the accused must take the consequences. But equally there must be consequences for the accuser to face."

And again, an excerpt from the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Gouled against the United States, decided in February 1921, Mr. Justice Clark, speaking:

"Searches and seizures are as unconstitutional under the amendment when made valid search warrants as they are unconstitutional, because unreasonable, when made without them."

Now, under the present act, as Mr. Sterling has pointed out, there is no redress against a malicious accuser who makes the affidavit required by the Pinchot Bill and gets a search warrant, Mr. Armstrong, in asking for your support for the bill, read an excerpt from a speech made by Lincoln, in which Lincoln said, "Some of our ideals should amount, or can amount, to a political creed or religion", and in that I fully agree for the history of the Anglo Saxon race from Runnymede in 1215, down to the present time, has been a reiteration by succeeding governments and succeeding legislative bodies of certain fundamental rights inherent in all free people. He also said, when asking for your support for the bill, that there are two classes interested—the liberals and the radicals, but from my study of the bill the radicals apparently prevail, for coupling his desire to follow Lincoln with the present bill, we find several radical differences from the existing order of things; and, mind you, the existing order has not been made in a day, but is the accumulative history of the present race. For instance, this burden of proof one of the greatest steps forward, given to man by the Magna Charta in 1215 was the fact that he must first be considered innocent and placed on trial in that status, and considered innocent until the Commonwealth or until the prosecutor has by a preponderance of evidence, established his guilt. And yet, under this act, we would go back almost eight hundred years to the time when man, certainly, had fewer liberties and was less to be envied than he is today. Another radical change and here again the radicals have prevailed, is contained in the first section, which provides that a criminal statute a penal satute must be liberally construed, a thing unheard of in the law in Pennsylvania today. It is the fundamental idea of American justice, that an accused shall be treated with the utmost consideration, and shall be given the benefit of every possible doubt until the Commonwealth again, by preponderance of evidence has established his guilt, and yet they would wipe that away. Another radical change in the criminal law is that provision that a search warrant may be issued by any justice of the peace or alderman, or magistrate anywhere. In other words a magistrate of Pittsburgh might issue a warrant to search my home in Philadelphia or the reverse. At the present time, the criminal law is fundamentally right. Warrants must be issued where the crime is committed, and in that way, the authorities who issue the warrant are answerable to those who elect them and if they do that which is not right, there is a remedy; whereas, under the present bill, if it passes, there would by no remedy for such a condition. The ardor of the proponents of this bill leads me to believe that some men must not be sincere in proposing it, for the reason that if they were sincere they probably would lose their jobs, and I find so many men infesting the halls of this House, and buttonholing the members that it makes me believe that legislation is agitated and proposed so that some particular men in favorable places may continue to draw fat salaries at the expense of the public, although not out of the public treasury.

The Woner Act was a regulatory measure, and it was an attempt to set up the machinery which would enforce the eighteenth amendment, and laws can only be enforced by men. It will do us no good to pass another law because it would not enforce itself if we can't enforce the Woner Act. In addition to that, the Woner Act regulates the sale of the liquor which is permitted to be sold, and by the way, this act doesn't give you permission to sell anything which you have not the right to sell today, but which they regulate today. The Woner Act permits a court to say wnether or not a particular man may or may not have a license. He is required to petition the court and to appear to be examined, and the court has ample power to refuse a license to an improper person or to a person who might be too liberal in his dispensation of liquor.

In the second place, the Woner Act regulates the person to whom the liquor may be sold. If the proposed bill would go through, this liquor might be sold to minors or anyone else; but under the Woner Act, that is forbidden.

In the third place, as Mr. Sterling pointed out, it regulates the place in which it may be sold, and in the residential communities of the big cities that is a very important factor.

In the fourth place, it regulates the periods of the day, the days of the week and of the year upon which liquor may be sold. It cannot be sold on election day. A saloon can't be open on election day. It can't be sold on Sunday. It must close at a certain time at night.

In the fifth place, if a man is improperly granted a license, the court, at the succeeding application for license may revoke it, and that gives the court a periodical absolute, complete regulatory power over the sale of the liquors provided for in this bill . There is a radical change in the fourth section entitled "burden of proof," to which I called the attention of Deputy General Campbell this morning. In that section it provides that it shall not be unlawful to possess intoxicating liquors for beverages purposes, provided liquors have been lawfully acquired prior to the act. Now, it apparently has been overlooked and isn't yet taken with any good grace that liquor may still be inherited and may be lawfully obtained even after the passage of this act. And yet the man or woman who would inherit liquor, if this act passes, will automatically, without any action on his or her part, become a criminal. There is no repeal and I wonder at this of the Act of June 9, 1891, authorizing the granting of liquor license by the quarter sessions courts, or the act of July 30, 1897, authorizing the granting of wholesale liquor licenses by the State Treasurer. There is absolutely no safeguard in the seventh sectin for the unwarranted attempt by anyone to evade what is alleged to have been a nuisance and the act even goes so far as to say that it shall not be necessary for the court to find that the property involved was unlawfully, but they can go right on anyhow and abate it.

In the last part of the 8th section, we have these words: "The right to a search warrant as provided for in this section shall be in addition to all other rights of search and seizure now existing under the law." The act almost seems to be a contradiction in terms; they admit in the act that there is ample provision at the present time for search and seizure; but, nevertheless they want an additional remedy, and instead of being an instrument for the prosecution it undoubtedly will become an instrument for the persecution of innocent people. In the latter part of clause (a) of section 11, it repeats an impossible provision of the Volstead Act, providing that if intoxicating liquor or property shall be seized, and is in the custody of the law, that no writ of replevin may be issued to gain possession of it. Now, it is very possible under the existing law and under the law which would be in effect if this bill were passed for liquor lawfully possessed to be unlawfully seized; and this act, if passed, would place the person who lawfully possessed liquor in the anomolous position of having to establish the right before the courts would cheerfully return goods which he lawfully possessed. There is no warrant in this state, nor was there any warrant in the United States for any such provisions. It would have been ample if the proponents of the Volstead Act and the proponents of this act had permitted a writ of replevin to issue for the recovery of the chattels unlawfully taken from you, because the instrument by which you would get the return of your chattels, is the same in that case as it is in the enforcement of this act namely the courts; and there is no reason at all why innocent people should be subjected to the unnecessary work and labor of asserting an inherited property right. There is some question in my mind as to whether or not the attempt to amend the title last night was not an attempt to make something constitutional which otherwise may not be. If you will remember, an attempt was made to add a word or two in the title. You will find in section 3 of article 3 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, that no bill except general appropriation bills shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. Now, there is nothing expressed in the title of this bill with reference to the search warrant, and that leads me to believe that there may have been some effort to get it in under section 3, but even then, it might not be constitutional, for still the search warrant is a subject apart from the regulation of the sale of liquor. What is true of that is true of revocation of automobile licenses. They are in no way related to the sale of liquor, are separate and to my mind are separate and independent subjects, and therefore unconstitutional under section 3 of article 3. There are numerous other objections, which I would heartily approve, but which I do not think there is time to talk about, because others will speak of them. But I want to say this in conclusion that if I had spoken first, I would have said just what the speaker from Philadelphia, Mr. Perry, has said, and what Mr. Sterling from Philadelphia has said, and my silence is in no way to be construed as not including those reasons with my reasons for voting against, and asking you to vote against this bill.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, prohibition is no longer an issue for prohibition has been written into the Constitution, and the question before us today is the question as to whether or not this is a law which should be enacted, as to whether or not it is a good law, and as far as I am concerned, Mr. Speaker, the thing before us to-day is the fundamental issue as to whether or not we are for or against, a feeling which we all recognize. The opponents of this measure to-day have gone at length into it in an effort to show that it would not be a good law. I have no disposition to inquire into the intricacies of this measure. As for me, Mr. Speaker, it is enough to know that men who are learned in the law, and men who are in favor of prohibition and law enforcement, are for this law, and that the men who are opposed to prohibition, who are opposing law enforcement are numbered amongst the opponents of this law. That, Mr. Speaker, is enough for me to take my stand upon this law. The opponents of this law have talked at length about search and seizure. Mr. Speaker, I am not afraid of search and seizure. No man who stands within the law need be afraid of search and seizure. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid of the evil which this law is intended to wipe out; I am afraid of the search and seizure embodied in that evil which goes into the homes and searches and seizes the money which that family needs for its support, which it needs for its bread, which it needs for the clothing and the attention of its children. I am against the search and seizure which goes into the home and takes out of that home its furniture and pawns it for the fulfilling of the indulgence of that evil. I am against the search and seizure which enters the brain and robs the brain of its responsibilities, and makes murderers of men; I am against the search and seizure, Mr. Speaker, which robs the man, enters the brain and searches out and seizes the responsibility of citizenship of man and robs him of his ability to function as a law abiding citizen.

Mr. Speaker, not more than a week ago I shook hands with a young man who eight years ago stood in the shadow of the gallows because he had killed a man while under the influence of liquor. He had been refined in the crucible of the law's reform, he came out again, and as I talked to him the question of strong drink came up, and I asked him if he thought that it would ever effect him or influence him again and he said to me, "Mr. Whiteman, I would not take all the liquor in the world for the kiss that I got from my mother when I came home." Mr. Speaker, I have not seen my mother, except in memory, for twenty years, but today I am going to cast my vote in the hope and in the expectation that some day I shall receive her approbation in that this day I have done my part and cast my vote to help save the sons and daughters of mothers.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on previous occasions I was considered to be representing labor on all measures. I have attempted to show in the last few weeks some underhanded work of those people who tried to discredit labor upon this very question. I have many friends in this House that will be for this bill today, that no doubt will be for labor, and I am not going to charge you with any crime against labor for your opinions here today, only so far as I shall defend the men who represented labor upon the floor of this House, and who were deliberately insulted as I said before. I appeared as labor's choice upon this floor, but from the accounts of the Harrisburg papers I am now quoted as the Reverend David Fowler. They said that I addressed a meeting in Harrisburg as the Rev. Mr. Fowler, so as Rev. Fowler I shall be wet today. Let me say to you that I shall be consistent today with what I did in past legislatures in this very room. I pointed out in the past sessions the evil of passing the Eighteenth Amendment at that time and I offer no apology for the stand that I took at that time, because it is absolutely proven that it has sent hundreds and hundreds of people to their graves. Much has been said here in the past about Barleycorn and my old friend who is not here this session, who opposed me upon this question in past sessions, said we were here to bury John Barleycorn, but today they have discovered that the ghost of Barleycorn is still walking about the earth and they are trying to throw a protection around themselves for fear his ghost will mop them up. Let me say to you that from propaganda that has been spread broadcast against the wet men in this House, why a good many people are of the opinion today that it is even sacreligious and un-American to oppose this drastic piece of legislation.

In 1898 in the Spanish-American war, I served my country in the Philippine Islands, and let me just say this, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for two years while we were serving in the Philippine Islands we were permitted to have the army canteen under proper regulations. For two years while the army canteen was in effect not one man out of our outfit went into the guard house for intoxication, and those fanatics who are now condeming us were in Washington then, as they were in this House, trying to abolish the cigaretts; and later in the next war they were around collecting them; they were in Washington intimidating the members of Congress to abolish the saloon in the armies so that our boys would be saved. While they were doing that they were carrying the demijohn into Congress to try to get votes for it. I don't need to say that, I can say this, that every time that I represented this issue with men here they were perfectly sober, and some men voted in past sessions here that cannot say that. Let me say that while they were passing this piece of meritorious legislation for the poor soldier boy they were mopping it up themselves, and I guess they were afraid that the soldier boys in the Philippines would get a little bit of it, and in their same cellers you will find it today, in a good many of them. Let me say to you that after the abolishment of the canteen our boys went over to Bolinao across to Manila Bay, and the first pay they received they came back home and they were fined $15.60, a month's wages, and deprived of their liberty for thirty days. That is what they did. They say they were doing it for the boys. My friends, we have had many panics in America. I can remember when a boy that we had the wagons going through the streets and they were passing out meat; the next panic came around and they were passing out soup; later on the coffee wagons were going all over Chicago, and the next panic came along and the bread wagons were out in New York. In these cities we have the meat wagón and the bread wagon and the coffee wagons and now we find the fanatics in this State coming in here with the water wagon.

Now let me say a word with regard to this bill. There is not much left for me because men of legal talent have thoroughly gone into the parts of this bill, but I have some views in regard to this bill of my own. They say the search and seizure has been eliminated but if you will look back into the pages of that bill you will find it is very much there. It reminds me of a man in our organization one time who was turning in his expense account, and in the expense account he had a suit of clothes for forty dollars. The secretary of our organization sent the bill back and said, "We are not paying for clothes, we are giving you hotel expenses, railroad expenses, etc.," so he sent him the bill back and when he got it back the total amount of the bill was exactly as it was in the first place, and he sent a little note with it in which he said, "The suit of clothes is still in there, but you cannot see it." That is the same thing in this bill, you cannot see it, some of us cannot see it. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have worked under similar bills in the southern coal fields of West Virginia. Let me say to you who are here preaching for law and order, who are out for the upholding of the Constitution, you completely shut your eyes at the murder in West Virginia and in other states, you shut your eyes to child labor. What have you got? You pass laws here for child labor and then you permit the work shop to be put in the garret of the home and you aren't doing a thing. Law and order, constitution, yes, every inch of it, not one paragraph, but from the beginning to the end. My friends, I saw women and babies shot down, while I was sent back to Colorado after the last session here, and I went in after our men had been shot by a thug system which this very bill creates. Detectives! I was sent in by General Bandolis to stop the march of the miners in West Virginia, and while we were there the detective army, employed under similar conditions as in this bill, were dropping bombs amongst us. Then our boys were dragged into Charlestown. I appeared as a witness in the Blizzard treason case, after they had tried to wipe out every defense that the working people ever had. The constitution wiped aside by injunctions! I say to you, if the constitution is to stand you must wipe aside the injunction laws with an amendment, set aside the injunction. Supposing we have a return to the conditions that we had last April in the Connellsville fields and in the Somerset fields of the State, the thug army has been created, men, women and children evicted from their homes and put into tent colonies. Let us take this act. Supposing, and it will be done, supposing that the evictions of five thousand miners and their wives and little children will take place again, what is going to happen under this bill? Under the nuisance clause they can place one of the thugs into their camps, place a still into the camp, make liquor and sell it, and then this law will empower the thug army to abolish the camp and send back the miners into the company houses for the purpose of breaking a strike. That was done in West Virginia. That was done, my friends, in West Virginia. I saw them do it. Not only that. I have here a man, a preacher—we talk about making liquor and you know the labor men are not always the violators of the law—let us see what this says: "Deputy Stat Police in Shine Raids. Gather in Much Mash. Several Stills, Many Containers and Several Prisoners. Rev. Eckels is Held on a Still Charge." So, we are not all bad fellows, you see there are others. I want to say that I know very wel that some who are camouflaging that they are here in the interests of the women and the little children have their little drop in the cellar too. My friends, they say that the woman's program, and that the women want this, and they are demanding it. Well, God bless you, I voted to give the women the rights in this House, but I have never voted to give them a threat that says unless I shall do what they say in the Republican Party I am going to be kicked out, I have the ten commandments of the woman's organization that were sent out, and they class me as a man that is violating a promise. I won't bother reading the ten commandments because they are practically the same as what my lady friend has read out, but this is what I told them: "Dear Madam: I am in receipt of your letter of January 29th, 1921, also enclosing legislative program of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women and contents noted. Permit me to say that if the contents of a bill were conveyed in the title it would be easy for me to answer the ten commandments passed by your association. When bills have been introduced I shall give them my earnest consideration," and I have done that. "Trusting that I have made myself clear and when your bills have been introduced I shall be glad for you to get in touch with me when I shall be in a position to give you my honest opinion." Is that violating a promise?

Governor Pinchot! I have never promised the Governor. I have nothing personal against the Governor, only that I wrote him from West Viginia that I would be glad to come back on his labor program, and he has not shown me any yet. I believe this bill provides for two things. Some of the newspapers claim that the Governor has ambitions to run for the presidency of the United States. Let us say that that is true, that that is his ambition, and I shall be with him if he will do certain things that he promised in my district. He didn't talk on the wet question or the dry question in my district. I don't believe he got me many votes in my district, I didn't need them, I had the prohibition nomination. But, he said, there, that I want, when I leave the Governor's chair, to have the working men and women and little children say, I have passed laws that will better your conditions in life. By heavens, if he does that, if he passes and puts as much effort behind Senator Vare's old age pension bill, and Doctor Steedle's old age pension bill, does something for those who have reached the winter of life, I think you cannot stop him from going to the presidency.

This is just a word for the women and little children. I believe I have done as much as the woman's organizations, I have attempted to try to do something for the women and little children. Where is an organization like the labor union? Was there an organization ever created that ever did more in the interest of women and babies. There are women who say they are the mothers of our State. God bless you, I have a mother too, and that mother when I was a boy nine years of age used to dress me up in an old cut coat of my fathers and send me down into the coal mine. You would see it then, I used to come home, and then you would say that because a man takes a drink of beer he cannot enter into the kingdom of heaven. I will enter there if you fellows have got a chance and don't you forget it. Let me say to you there was not a greater pleasure in my life than when I came home at night, and when we had but very little, how we sat there, mother and I, and father too, with a little bread and cheese and an onion, that was the miners diet then, and a nice cold glass of beer. Let me say to you, that man that says she is not decent, or is not as good a mother as any in this State has got me to whip.

This is a revenue getter. They forget that the other night they opposed a bill because it would reduce the revenue. Mr. Hazeltine favors search and seizures for what? He says in the enforcement of the Pinchot Bill it will add a considerable sum to the State revenue. An enforcement officer trying to build up the revenues of the state by throwing some poor fellow in jail. If that is the kind of legislation we must pass to enforce the law, then, gentlemen, I am for it. Much has been said about Abraham Lincoln. I do not want to be quoting Abraham Lincoln or Theodore Roosevelt. Some people have already taken all claim to Roosevelt, none of us believe in Roosevelt, only certain people. I have been an admirer of Roosevelt. I am also an admirer of old honest Abe Lincoln. Much has been said about him but let us see what he said. Abraham Lincoln said, "Prohibition will work great injury to the cause of temperance. It is a species of intemperance for it goes beyond the bounds of reason in that it attempts to control a man's body by legislation and makes a crime of things that are not crimes and prohibition will strike a blow at the very principles on which this government was founded." That is what Abe said. I wish he were with us now. Those splendid ideas. The question has often been asked, my friends, what good was to be derived from national prohibition? It has cost this government hundreds of millions of dollars, with a consequent increase of taxation upon the public. It has cost more lives to enforce it in proportion to the number of men employed by the government than the nation lost in the World War. It has transformed millions of formerly law abiding citizens into corruptors, bribers, bootleggers and law breakers. It has bred official corruption in our government. It has taken away from the people liberty and freedom and made us a nation of outlaws; it has taken away pure liquor and beer, and subtsituted it with poison and dope, and no one can deny that, because over two hundred died in three months as a result of poisoned booze. That is from an article dated March 26th appearing in a Philadelphia paper. Then, it has taught the people to make home brews, and no one can deny that. It is teaching the people to secretly drink behind closed doors, and when you pass that bill you don't eliminate the saloons, only the name of one, but you create distributing stations that innocent boys and girls will go into the candy stores and into the grocery stores and cultivate an appetite for liquor and beer. It is multiplying the blind by hundreds, it is creating thousands of dope fiends and I believe now that foreign nations who are planted the poppy fields to make dope in the past, believed that they that they can make this a dope country so they can go after us later on. It was said in the Senate chamber by a man whom I have the greatest respect for, that argument was entirely on the stars and stripes, and then he said the reason the German army was defeated was because they were drunk. Great God! That I would credit the American soldier with whipping a German army that was drunk. I tell you they can lick them sober. It has created diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys, eyes and heart, all due, my friends, to the consumption of home brew, that contains wood alcohol, fusil oil, copper and other deleterious materials, It has branded us as drunken criminals unfit for self-control.

Last, but far from being least, that is not a complete list of its full consequences. It has torn down the fortification of true democracy in this country and has enthroned the hypocrite, the fanatic, the grafter, thief, liar, bootlegger, smuggler and murderer. These, my friends, are not all of its evil consequences, but I venture this, it is more than sufficient as a comparison for any good the other fellow may ever claim for it. Let us do something that will bring us back. Let us get, my friends, to this position that a man will not be ashamed to take his wife and his little ones into the worshipping places without the fear that some fanatic might say, "He is a terrible man, he takes a drink."

You are chasing men away from your church doors. Make it a place we love to go. Don't make crimes, as Abe Lincoln said, of things that are not crimes, for I say to you, my friends, and particularly the women, and we need you, let us discuss laws that will bring sunshine into homes, let us take care of those who have reached the winter of life, let us cut out the poor farms, let us cut out the Marys and Johns that are walking arm and arm in lovers lane today, and going over to the poor house fifty years from now, let us stop the condition when Mary and John stand at the altar and the preacher, or priest, says unto them, "Let no man tear asunder." But still we have institutions in this State, poor farms, that when Mary and John step to the door of the poor farm, John goes into one building and Mary into another, violating the law of God, my friends, I say, let us do this, let us compensate the widows and orphans of this great State, let us make it that the poor old woman that has to go to the washtub now, and has to send her little boys into the coal mines, or cotton fields will be taken care of. I have a picture here of little children in this advanced age, in the cotton fields of the south, about seven years of age. Let us do this; Let us compensate those who have received injuries in the State, let us compensate those who become sick and cannot provide for themselves and their families, let us reconstruct and rehabilitate those whom we have crippled in the industries, making them useful citizens. This will crown you all, and send you back to this House of Representatives with credit.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I do not wish to take up any more time. I want to say to you that in the past I have enjoyed the friendship of many that are on the other side. I will retain that friendship, and I want to say to you that I trust, and I would not ask a man who went to the polls and declared himself a dry or a wet, but I will say if you all stand to your pledge to-day as you went before the people asking for votes and don't be a Judas Iscariot, and if you do that, this bill will meet its just defeat today. I thank you.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, you have reasons pro and con on this bill now under consideration. It has been said that we ought to consider this measure not from a prohibition standpoint.

The first thing which we as members of this House must get clearly into our minds is: That the measure before us is not a prohibition measure; it does not involve the question of wet or dry; neither does the principle of beer and light wines as against hard liquors enter into the merits or demerits of the bill now before us.

The question which must be decided and which decision rests with us, is "Law Enforcement". The bill before us is a law enforcement measure, purely and simply, and before we can intelligently vote upon the bill, we must in my judgment settle to our own satisfaction two questions:

First: Have we now sufficient laws upon our statute books to bring about a proper enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

Secondly: If we have not sufficient legal machinery on our statute books to enforce the prohibition against the sale and use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in our State, then will this bill bring home the bacon and permit the State of Pennsylvania to clean up the mess of lawlessness within our borders, and drive the rum runners and bootleggers from out fair State?

The answer to the first proposition is so plain as to need no further argument. It is frankly admitted by all, that under the present law in our State, the authorities are not able to cope with the illegal liquor traffic nor to curb the nefarious business of the bootlegger. The slogan of the opponents of this measure has been "that the Eighteenth Amendment cannot be enforced;" which is not only an admission of the inefficiency of our present laws relating to the liquor traffic, but is also an insult to the citizenry of our great State, by even intimating that the great State of Pennsylvania, of which we are all justly proud, is not big enough and courageous enough to cope with a handful of bootleggers and criminals and drive them and their nefarious business out of our fair State, I say to you that we are big enough and courageous enough to do this; and that we will do it, and furthermore, I say to this House that the bill before us at this time, if written upon our statute books will furnish the necessary legal machinery to do this very thing.

I hear the opponents of this measure say that it would take an army of men to enforce the laws against the liquor trade. My answer to this challenge is that if it will take an army to drive out the iniquitous saloon and the low down un-American bootlegger from our State, then let us mobilize such an army at once. The supremacy of the law ought to be our first consideration.

We hear much expertly prepared propaganda to the effect that the question of personal liberty is involved in this enforcement measure and that the Eighteenth Amendment together with the efforts upon the part of the various states to enforce this amendment is an undue interference with our constitutionally guaranteed right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The proponents of this argument are unmindful of the fundamental principle that with all liberty there goes hand in hand the obligation placed upon us, to so use this liberty so as not to interfere with the rights and happiness of others.

There was a time when our forebears, finding an abode or pasture more to his liking than the one he possessed, he by pure brute force drove away his neighbor who was in possession of the same, and took possession of the pasture or abode for his own. There was a time when a man desiring to take unto himself a helpmate, sought out a fair maiden, and taking her by the hair of the head, dragged her to his hovel without asking any man's leave. There was a time when the bartering in human souls was permitted in our fair land. There was a time when the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage was sanctioned by the laws of our land, and the purveyor of this poisonous stuff could debauch the homes of our people and pauperize the addicts to its use. The cave man and his tactics soon became a menace and law and order said he must cease. The ardent wooer and free love advocate became a scourge and he was restrained. Slavery became a curse in our fair land and was driven from our borders at the sacrifice of our nations manhood in a great civil war.

The traffic and use of intoxicating liquors became a cancerous growth eating out the very vitals of our moral, social and political fabric, and the sovereign people of these United States, through their duly approved representatives, wrote into our constitution the Eighteenth Amendment, prohibiting the manufacturing and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

All of these measures were abridgments of the personal liberties of certain classes of men who saw fit to enjoy them. Each abridgment, however, was accomplished on the principle of the greatest good for the greatest number and for the preservation of law and order. To abridge and curtail the rights and liberties of the few in order to safeguard the rights of the many is the fundamental principle and prerogative vested in the sovereign government. Someone has well said that "Liberty must be limited in order to be preserved."

Who are the "personal liberty" advocates who are finding fault with the Eighteenth Amendment and are opposing the bill? I venture to say that ninety per cent. of them are actuated by selfish motives or are directly interested in the liquor business. Are their motives pure and will they stand the light of day? Most of them are the band of personal liberty advocates who will concede to the beer drinker and the use of light wines his inalienable right to indulge his appetite, then will in the same breath say to the man or woman who likes their hard liquor or eye opener in the morning, "You must do without your whiskey; the law must forbid the use of such intoxicants."

We here another class of men, and maybe, some women, who are opposed to this bill, (gentle women and feminine men, perhaps,) not because it is an enforcement measure (they are in favor of law enforcement), but because of the fact that the bill goes too far. It does not give the criminal a chance. Why they never heard of a search and seizure being made to operate against a criminal; and the burden of proof, why impossible. Why, say they, they can search your house for contraband liquor and your house is your home, and your home is your castle; and mind you, say they, they can do this in the night time, when I am at a prize fight or prayer meeting and my wife is at home alone.

And what is more, if they find my cellar, they are permitted to take my liquor from there, and it will be "prima facie" evidence against me. Did you ever hear such shallow twaddle? A man once hired out to a Scotch farmer (with emphasis on the Scotch) as a farm hand. At breakfast there was placed before him a bowl with milk in it to be used with his porridge which was served from a container in the middle of the table. A pesky fly flew into the milk, whereupon the hired man began to laugh uproarously. The Scotchman inquired as to the cause of this unusual mirth, when the hired man explained: "I am laughing at that silly fly trying to swim in that bowl of milk when it could just as easily walk."

Now the arguments against this bill, because of the search and seizure and the prima facie evidence clauses are just as shallow as the milk in the Scotchman's bowl and just as silly to the hearers as the antics of the fly. These clauses are merely a reiteration of the federal law as written upon our federal statutes and to which we are now amenable.

We have on our books practically the same laws with reference to stolen goods, gambling devices, deadly weapons, smuggled goods and many others, and we hear no complaint about the hardships imposed by these laws by unscrupulous officers of the law or criminal imposters. And who are objecting to these so-called objectionable clauses? Are they not mostly those who are opposed to any enforcement measure against the illegal use of intoxicants? Are they using these objections as an excuse to oppose a bill for which they would not vote if these clauses were eliminated? Have you heard of any women's organization objecting to this bill because of the fear that they will be molested in the night time by criminals under the guise of enforcement officers? Have any of the adult bible classes sent you memorials protesting against the bill on this score? Have any of the civic bodies of your districts requested you to oppose this bill because of the search and seizure clause? Have you received word from the mayors of your cities protesting against the passage of this bill, because of any undue advantage may be taken of the law by the criminal?

An attempt has been made to draw labor into this mess, but I say to you that labor as a class and the rank and file of labor unionism is 100% American and stand four square on the question of strict law enforcement against illegal liquor or any other evil.

The trouble with some of us it that we are too solicitous to help, aid and abet the bootlegger and his damnable practices. We should remember that the function of the law-making body is to make it harder to break the law, rather than to make it easier for the criminal to escape his just punishment.

Another argument against the bill is that it takes away the licensed saloon. Since when did the saloon become an instrument of public benefaction? The saloon which has debauched more lives, ruined more homes and corrupted more public officials than any other institution in the State. Since when did it gain its reputation as a moral agency? It never has had such a reputation and never will. It is said that when the saloon is taken away, soft drink emporiums will spring up throughout the State like the ice-cream parlors in which near beer will be sold to our children. My answer is, that if these soft drink emporiums obey the law they will do no more harm than the ice-cream parlors, and furthermore, I say that this act will provide the necessary legal machinery to see to it that they do obey the law.

We are to be congratulated upon having a Governor in the executive chair who stands four square on law enforcement and the abolition of the saloon. A Governor who has the fear of God in his heart; a wholesome regard and respect for the law; an intelligent conception of the will of the people as expressed at the last election; and with all this he has the courage to do the right as he sees it.

It is the duty of this House to do our share in writing this enforcement measure upon our Statute books, and by so doing we will furnish Governor Pinchot with the necessary legal machinery to make good the mandate of the people of Pennsylvania with respect to the saloon and the liquor traffic. I say this is our duty and if we do this I am confident that the voters back home will see to it that the fear of the ballot, if not the fear of God, is instilled into the minds of our judges, district attorneys, mayors, burgesses and other peace officers, which fear of or respect for the ballot will bring about an honest enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the just punishment of all criminals.

We must meet this matter now before us conscientiously. We may by our vote fool the people back home; we may fool the Governor; we may fool our colleagues by our side; but cannot fool our own conscience. Let your conscience be your guide in your vote on this bill.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have taken a cold and my voice is not what it should be, but I will do the best I can. This reminds of a little chapter I once read in the Bible. A good many have been speaking, but I am one of the last ones, and I came to the conclusion that this was like Christ said when a man makes a wedding feast he first puts out the wine that is good, and then when men have well drunk, he puts out that which is not so good.

I don't expect to change the views of a single member with anything that I might be able to say. Wretchedness has killed the reason and fanaticism has tumbled their judgment aside. When I announced myself as a candidate for this office, I made no pledges. The drys started to write to me, the wets started to write to me, I refused to declare myself in one way or the other. After a time the wets stopped writing the drys kept right on. At first they requested that I declare myself, then they demanded that I declare myself, and then they threatened that if I would not declare myself they would put me down as a wet. They did so, and on that wet platform I was elected.

I am not going to erect a patriotic smoke screen, I am not going to use the stars and stripes as a wrapper for a bundle of bunk, I am not going to build any little red school house up along the creek, nor am I going to rattle the bones of the great men of this country. We are not voting today for wet or dry; we are voting for a principle, and this reminds of a little story:

An old Irishman died, and after his death the neighbors came in to console the widow, and one of them said, "And sure, Patrick Murphy was a fine man." Another one said, "And sure, Patrick Murphy was a good neighbor". Another one came in and said, "And sure, Patrick Murphy was a good husband and a good provider". And Mrs. Murphy said, "He was, he was". She says, "On every Saturday night, just as sure as the clock struck, Patrick Murphy put his pay envelope down on that table; of course, there never was a darn cent in it, but it was the principle of the thing". We are not voting wet or dry. The men that vote here today consider one of two things, and neither one of them is for the good of the people. Gentlemen, I bow my head in humble submission to the powers who have said that the 18th amendment is a law, but I deny it. It is not a law. No sage in law or wisdom can point his finger to a single syllable of the ten commandments, or one single feature in the law of nature, and show me that it can be used as a foundation for this insensate folly. There is nothing in the law of nature that prevents me from having any quantity of liquor in my possession, either large or small; there is nothing in the ten commandments or the 22nd chapter of Chronicles that prevents me from having any quantity of liquor in my possession, large or small, but there is that in the natural law that prevents me from drinking too much of that liquor and to become irresponsible for my conduct. That has always been regarded as a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment. We have a perfect right to codify all the violations against the law of nature, and to attach thereto pains and penalties; we have a perfect right to codify all the offenses against the ten commandments, and attach thereto pains and penalties, and in case of violation, inflict those penalties, but we have no right to attach shame and penalties to acts which are in themselves in their very nature innocent. You can attach anything to the constitution. It has been declared that this is a part of the constitution, and it must be enforced. What is there to prevent the introduction of a bill into the House of Congress what is there to prevent its passage; what is there to prevent the Senate from passing that same bill; what is there to prevent the President from signing it, and then have thirty-six states ratify it, trying to regulate the rainfall of this country, or the barber's itch? Absolutely nothing. It is a part of the constitution but it has no basis, and no foundation either in the natural or the moral law and cannot be enforced. The poor old constitution has suffered terribly. Once that constitution was a noble structure but one monstrosity after another has been grafted on it, until today it resembles the monstrous Harlequin of an unnatural political scientist. If you step back with me into the first decade of this present century, I will show you an element in the political life of this country that was both restless and radical, disgruntled Republicans who failed to hit the lime light under the old Republican banner then under the Bull Moose and Progressive standards they ran for office until George W. Perkins rounded them up and ran them for office until they were clean out of the political pasture their with their wind and their money gone, stayed outside until the 18th amendment offered fertile opportunities and they became ultra-prohibitionists for no other reason than to get into public office.

You cannot change human nature, by any means of legislation; human nature is the same today as it was in the garden of Eden and the minute that you change it, then it is no longer human nature. I stood one day in a famous art gallery and looked at the work of a great master, the picture of an Egyptian queen the wife of Amenophis the 4th. The queen who lived 1300 years before Christ, out of a costly frame, rich with gilt she peered back at me with a supercilious look and had it not been for the intense olive of her complexion and her peculiar head-dress I would have thought that I was looking into the eyes of a highly cultured woman of the present day, around her lips curled the smile of Mona Lisa with all your legislation with all your civilization, when I walk down the street today I meet the prototypes of Judas Iscariot, of Benedict Arnold, of Pontius Pilot, the Mary Magdalenes, and the Neroes of Prohibition who still sit and fiddle on their favorite strings while the rest of the nation is being consumed with the fires of anger and resentment. I am just as sorry for the man who falls for drink as any man dare be; I am sorry for the fellow that drinks in secret. Think of the poor fellow who has chewed up three carloads of cardamon seeds, thirty barrels of cloves and several tons of cinnamon bark, trying to disguise his breath and to appear respectable. I am sorry for the brilliant fellow the man that is actually worth while who once in a while joins a party of friends where, the wine is a little too red, or is poured a little too freely and he becomes intoxicated, not for what he does to himself, because that is easily remedied, but for the opportunity that his folly presents to the cad, to the unworthy, to the mediocre, to make a handle out of it to ruin his reputation, a lever with which to crush him utterly. I have never yet seen the time when these rats did not take the opportunity of doing that. I am also sorry for the poor fellow that fritters away his opportunities through drink. Of course, you may say that the vilest sinner can turn back at any point, but back to what? Back to shattered health, back to a father, gray-haired and bowed in sorrow; back to a mother broken-hearted and in her grave; back to a wife damned through all eternity by his thoughtless brutality; back to the little children who do not dare to go out on the street for fear their father would come down the sidewalk drunk and covered with the filth of the stable and the gutter. I am sorry for the garden of his days in which he should have planted the seeds of and loving kindness, overgrown with weeds that blossom in his patches and his rags, his twisted lips, his quailed and knotty fact that no one lives, but sorry as I am for the gray-haired father, sorry as I am for the heart-broken mother, sorry as I am for the disgraced wife and children, I cannot vote for so pernicious a bill as this; for a bill with such vicious provisions as this one has, and I want to warn you gentlemen, members of this House, right here and now that we cannot permit this bill to pass this House because if we do, we open the door of the White House to the most dangerous man in the political history of this county. I thank you.

Br. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the greatest opportunity that God has given to man is that of service. Service not for self, not for riches, not for personal aggrandizement, or for any other selfish purpose, but a service of love to God, to country, to fellowmen.

I am profoundly grateful that I am a citizen of a country whose call for service has never been unheeded in time of great national need. In 1861, the call was made for the preservation of the union, the constitution and the flag. The response came from hundreds of thousands. In 1898, a call was made to aid the oppressed on a neighboring Island. The same generous response was made. Again in 1917, the call came to leave our own country, to travel over perilous waters, into an unknown land. Again the same generous response came from the north, the south, the east and the west.

But let us remember that it is not only in time of war that our country needs our service. In times of peace, when the sky is clear and the sun is shining brightly, there may be a cloud arising in the west, so small that it is apparent to but only a few, and yet it is certain to bring disorder and havoc unless the cause for its appearance is made to disappear.

No thoughtful or observant American can help but discern that the constitution of his country is being violated with impunity by the high and the low, the rich and the poor, the public official and the private citizen. "A house divided against itself cannot stand". Neither can the constitution of a nation permanently endure with half loyalty and half disloyalty thereto. Daniel Webster gave his life in support of the union and the constitution. Abraham Lincoln gave the last full measure of devotion to the union and the constitution. Theodore Roosevelt, a one hundred per cent American, always was prepared to support and defend the union and the constitution. Shall we be content with a lower standard?

The question today is not whether we are wet or dry, but the question is—Shall we support the Constitution of the United States? To that question there can be but one answer. In its consideration, we should not permit our minds to be confused or perverted by any specious reasoning or sophistry that this bill in some of its parts is defective. Remember that we have people wise enough today to criticise the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer. But rather let us ask whether the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should have a part in finishing the work which the nation thus far has so nobly advanced. Whether this bill is an honest and intelligent effort to put our State in a position where it can co-operate with the United States in enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, there are two clear and distinct calls which we hear today. One is the call of selfishness, greed and personal liberty, to vote against this measure for many reasons, none of which is altruistic. The other is the call to vote for this measure and thereby render a service of love to God, to country, to our homes, to our families and posterity. Which call shall we heed.

That we may be inspired to do our duty in this important matter, I conclude by quoting a verse of poetry which a very honored and revered jurist (who has fallen asleep) is said to have repeated every day as an inspiration to duty. It reads:

"I live for those who love me,
For those who know me true,
For the heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit too;
For the cause that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that I may do."

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, as I sat here this morning and heard the arguments for and against this bill, and I have looked over this House, I have concluded there is no man sits here and looks into the faces of the members of this House as I have but can be moved as I have been moved. I see from the expressions of the members of this House that their minds are as my mind, that the only fear about voting, of each and all of you is the fear of doing wrong.

My friend from Armstrong, Mr. Armstrong, has well said, and it has been reiterated by a number that have followed, that the issue is not here as to what we believe as to prohibition, what we believe here as to the right of suppressing our liberty, or whether the eighteenth amendment was properly passed, neither has it to do with the suffering in the past of the women and the children around the firesides caused by the demon rum, it is as far from that issue as anything can be. So we clear our minds of all of that, let us clear our minds of the prejudice of the one side and the prejudice of the other. I will simply speak of that. I am not unmindful of the many letters that you have received, and which I have received. In my hand I hold the letters, all the letters that I have received from those people favoring the passage of this bill. In this hand now I hold the letters of all the people that have written me concerning the defeat of this bill. To me, however, that is insignificant, as you must see that is a very small proportion of the people of this Commonwealth and mostly they are from my district, people from that district who are vitally interested in the purposes of this bill. Every one of these letters received favor the passage or the defeat of the Pinchot enforcement bill I have looked through my files but I have been unable to find anywhere in those files a bill that to my mind is an enforcement bill I am inclined to think that this is a misnomer, that this bill that we call an enforcement is rather a bill of relief. In other words, it relieves every hotel man in this State from paying a license, and that is all it does do. I resent the thought that has been given here on the floor of this House that the opponents of this bill are those who are opposed to the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. The eighteenth amendment, I want to say, as solemnly as I can say anything, is a part of the constitution of this grand country of ours; it is just as important as any other part of that constitution, and it is the duty of every man in this House, and every man on the outside, and every man inside of the boundaries of this country, to enforce the eighteenth amendment to the limit. I want to say to you that I stand now ready with any man or any woman to see that the eighteenth amendment is enforced, and I want to say further than that, that we have a bill that is a real bill on the statute books of this State that will enforce, and the only thing you need is honest men in office that will enforce it. I say this very seriously. In the County of Delaware, where I live, I have the honor and have had the honor for a number of years of being solicitor to the sheriff of that county, and during the year 1922, the sheriff of that county prosecuted, or rather arrested, forty-two men for violating the Woner Act. We only had two out of that forty-two that escaped. The other forty men were convicted. In Delaware County, the district attorney, William Taylor, has enforced the Woner Act, and I defy any man or woman to say that he has not. We have jurors in Delaware County, who according to their oath when the evidence so warrants it, convict a man for selling or manufacturing or possessing liquor, and during the year 1922 the district attorney of Delaware county prosecuted one hundred and sixty-two violators, and out of those one hundred and sixty-two there were but five men acquited. Don't tell me the Woner act cannot be enforced. The Woner act further than that is a regulation. Repeal if you will by this bill the Woner act, which is an amendment of the Brooks high license law, and as has already been said, when you do you take away all restrictions from the sale of this lower content liquor. The Brooks high license law is a real law. I say now that if the eighteenth amendment had not been conceived in hypocrisy, it perhaps would have been a decent law and a law that we would have known what we are talking about like the Brooks high license law. What is the eighteenth amendment? It prohibits the manufacture, the sale, the transportation, the possession, etc., of intoxicating liquors, and then it leaves to Congress to say what intoxicating liquors are. Not so with this bill that you are asking to repeal. The bill which you are asking to repeal, passed thirty-six years ago, prohibits without a license the sale or manufacture of vinous, spiritous, malt or brewed liquors, or any admixture thereof. It does not take any judge of any court to define what that means. It does not need any act of Congress to tell you what that means and yet that is the bill that you are going to wipe off your statute books. You are going to leave open the right to every Tom, Dick and Harry throughout the Commonwealth to sell lower content liquor wherever he pleases, whenever he pleases, on Sunday or any other day. I say to you beyond any question there can be no doubt of it that the Woner act today as it stands, an amendment of the Brooks High license law, is a good sound law. I say again, and reiterate, if you place honest men at the head of it, they won't be coming and making footballs out of you every time you are running for office and asking you to vote for some other bill. I cannot blame these good people, I don't blame them. They see on every side of them the evil; they see the jails and penitentiaries being filled with crime today such as has never been known before, and they wonder many times, and no doubt on bended knees they ask God to show them why it is. Then somebody who wants to use the party and use the thing for political purposes, tells them, "You want a new law. Go to your legislature and get a new law." That is not what they want, this is what they want, place honest officials at the head of it, take this thing out of politics, stop bothering us every time we come here, and there won't be any question about the law's being enforced.

Now then, this bill, and I want to refer to just one thing, this is the first chance that I have had to answer some of the accusations. I have been accused of breaking a pledge. It has been said in some of the newspapers, as coming from the Governor of this Commonwealth, that I have broken a pledge. They say that I promised the Governor in the last campaign that I would support his platform, and to that indictment I plead guilty, just as solemnly as I vote against this bill today. But, let us look into this indictment and see what it was. He told you one of the many things that he was going to do was to clean up the mess. Every body in this House knows that I have fought for two years to help him do that. He tells you that he is going to run the saloon out of business. I hope he does, that is, the illegal saloon, and he said he is going to run the bootlegger out of the State. I am with him through all of it and will go out at nights and help him do it if he says so, and then he points to this act, and another thing he said in the platform, repeating and referring to that grand man whom we all love, the following motto, "We should all live for high ideals, but these high ideals must be practiced in a practical manner," and to that I say Amen, and I am with him. But this bill that is presented to this House today is neither practical, sensible nor anything else, and if I today would vote for this bill just because somebody tells me that I had entered into a conspiracy or I agreed rather to follow it, I would feel as if I had been guilty of a conspiracy to deceive the people of this State, of a conspiracy to take from this State two millions of dollars at this time. Now, at this particular date, when just now we have an appeal from the Governor asking for additional funds, which means you and I must vote for additional taxes upon the people of this Commonwealth, the people of this Commonwealth that are burdened with taxes more than they can bear—yes I did offer a luxury tax bill, with the hope that if anything was needed, that might be the thing that would help, but I have been in the past working as every other member of this House has been working with the hope that no other taxes would be necessary, that we would be able to gather enough money somewhere or spread the deficiency along for a certain period, whereby no extra burden would come, but we cannot do it if we are going to throw two millions away so lightly and for no purpose whatever. Absolutely none. I say now, and I say with those members who have already spoken, that if it was a question of dollars and cents, as far as the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment is concerned, I would shut my eyes to the two millions, and I would say, it is well spent if the eighteenth amendment can be enforced. But my friends, I am just as sure as I am standing here today that this bill that we have rather than help enforce it, will do anything else. Don't tell me a hotel with its sign out on that corner, it is harder to control his selling with a license than it is to take his sign down and leave him go up some dark alley somewheres where it takes four or five detectives to find him. Why, it is the most absurd proposition that I have ever heard of. In the City of Philadelphia two weeks ago those judges sworn to do their duty, refused the licenses of 49 men because they had violated the Woner Act. Pass this bill, let the Governor sign it today, and tomorrow morning those 49 men will open up their doors, and you cannot shut them, under any law under the sun. In our part of the country, in Delaware County, two men were refused in the last term because they had violated the Woner Act. Pass this bill, sign it by the Governor, and the moment it becomes a law, both of those men will start into business again, and there is no law on the statute books to stop them. Tell me this is an enforcement act? Tell me if you will, after you look at it. I want to say now there in no man in this house has been more desirous of following the governor than I have, but threats or promises or innuendos is no way to make me follow any program.

I am mindful of that saying of the Bard of Avon, "First to Thine own shall be true, and hence it must follows as the night the day Thou canst not be false to any man." It is my belief that the supreme thing for us to do is to be true to ourselves be true without thinking of the consequences, whether reward or profit, whether honor or power, whether disgrace or poverty is as a dream of dreams, this is my high ideal of duty.

Now, let us see for just one moment as we refer to this bill in one particular that has not been referred to, there is in this bill a most revolutionary clause. In the first place, or rather before I turn to that I want to turn to another thing which shows just why I cannot understand why this was placed in a bill of this kind: it prohibits the manufacture of non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in the private dwelling. I don't see why they did not prohibit the farmer from drawing water from his well or his spring. Where is there one of these things prohibited by any law, and if it is not prohibited, or permitted in any law why is it in this except perhaps to pull the wool over some one's eyes and get their vote for this bill. Look at section four, "it shall not be unlawful, however, to possess intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes in one's bona fide private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling only provided such liquor was lawfully acquired prior to the passage of this act." Does that mean to say that if you lawfully acquire liquor after the passage of this act that you are going to be punished for a lawful acquisition after the passage of the act? If not, why was that clause placed in there? Then, we do go on down further, and notwithstanding it says "it shall not be unlawful" for a man to possess liquor in his own house, "proof of the possession of such intoxicating liquor shall be prima facia evidence that the same was acquired, possessed and used in violation of this act". Now, we are told that there is nothing new in this prima facia feature, we have been told that that is in some of the fish laws, the gunning laws, we are told that that is also in the law as to stolen property, we are told that it is in a number of other laws, the automobile act. I defy anybody, I defy the man who wrote this bill, I defy anybody on the floor of this House to point out to me one law which tells you that it shall be lawful to do a thing, and then puts the burden on you to show that you are not doing an unlawful act. Every one of the acts that have been referred to on this proposition are acts which in the first place start out and say it shall be unlawful to do certain things. And so they said in the hearing before the committee that it was in the Woner Act. It is no such a thing. They say it is in the concealed deadly weapon act, there is no such a thing in it, but there is another thing in those acts today, it says from the fact that it is possessed the jury may infer, and when I went to the Governor, and went to the man who wrote this bill, he argued with me that prima facia meant nothing more than inference. I said if that is all it means then write it in English in the bill so we will know. You and I differ. The Supreme Court of the United States differs. They say that, or rather the courts in many of the states have construed this so that in criminal law prima facia means proof beyond a reasonable doubt. And every man who knows anything about criminal law knows that that is the highest degree of proof that the Commonwealth is called upon to prove. The presumption in every land, just as we have in the case of Coffin vs. the United States in commenting upon this principle says that every code of law that has reason, that has religion, that has humanity as its foundation must have this law written into it and this presumption it is presumed, and this rule should be indelibly inscribed upon the hearts of every judge and every jury that this presumption can only be overcome by such positive evidence that would carry to the mind of the jury a degree of conviction short of absolute certainty. Why this principle can be traced back as far Deutoronomy. The book of Moses gives this principle. It is handed down from the old Roman law,and one of the best examples of that is an account we have of Numerinus being charged and brought before the Emporer Julius contended himself with a simple denial. There was no proof against him, and his advisory, a passionate man, could not restrain himself any longer and cried out Oh, illustrious Caesar if it sufficeth to deny what in the future is going to become of the guilty. To which the Emperor Julius replied, "If it sufficeth to accuse what is going to become of the innocent." And, after all that is the foundation of every law. Our law has not been passed for the purpose of punishing the guilty, the purpose of the laws is that we should deter other men from committing some crime, hence we have the old rule that is as old as law itself, "That better ninty-nine men escape punishment rather than one innocent man be condemned. That is for the reason that the law is not, as I said before for the purpose of punishing the guilty, but the law of every land is for the purpose of protecting the innocent. Then, wherefore, is written into this this revolutionary thing, for the purpose of enforcing a misdemeanor. Calling upon every man, all you have to do is show a bottle of whiskey that he got out of his house, lawfully there, mind you, because the bill says it shall not be unlawful for him to have it, and yet all you have to do is to go into a man's home where under this act it is not unlawful for him to keep it, you can take that bottle, set it up before a jury and the buden is on him, notwithstanding the Fifth Article of the Constitution which is just as sacred as the eighteenth amendment. He is bound to go on that stand and refute it, he is bound to take the stand, as I say, notwithstanding the Fifth Article of the Constitution. I say this is revolutionary. It is not necessary, and as I have already said, the Woner Act does not have it in there. Are you therefore going to write in this law that revolutionary clause today taking away that presumption, and if there is anything in the world today, if there is anything place that that presumption should stand and last to the end, it is in such a place as this where the act itself makes it unlawful for him to have the thing, and yet puts the burden of proof on him that it is lawful, for the act says so. It is the most ridiculous and absurd proposition that I have every heard put to any sensible man, and asking you to make it a law of this great Commonwealth of ours.

Now, then, I am not going to take up any more of your time, ladies and gentlemen, for you are not going to be moved by either fear or by threat or by recompense or by reward. You know the oath you took, you know your duty to that oath, to your God, to your country and to yourself; you are men and women that are responsible for that oath, without fear or without threat. I resent this thing of telling you if you don't do so and so such and such will happen, and especially to any man and woman as the men and women of this House are just as conscience of their oath as any other officer of this Commonwealth. You hold that sacred oath, an oath just as sacred between yourself and your God as any other man and any other woman, and I ask you now as a most conscientious body of men and women that ever sat in this House, you men and women who are able to judge for yourselves, you men and women who don't have to go into a anti-room and be advised as to what is right and wrong, it is only the insane that you have to do that to, I say it is an insult to your intelligence when any man stoops so low as to tell a sane body as this what is right and what is wrong.

You are the keepers of your conscience, you are men who have sworn according to the dictates of your conscience to believe what you believe is right and I appeal to you as good thinking conscientious men and women that now when the time comes to take that vote that you listen to nothing except that you raise your eyes to Almighty God and ask him to guide you, to see what is right, and as your conscience within yourself directs as to how you shall vote here, so I ask you to vote.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for three hours I think we have listened in good humor and good will to the arguments which have been presented by the men and women, arguments pro and con have been presented. I hesitate to think what would have happened had our friend from Northampton had his usual voice and his Greek vocabulary, because if with his present difficulties he can floor our brother from Lycoming I wonder what he could have done with the rest of us in normal form. I want to say also that this is not the first time that the chairman of the Appropriations Committee has been floored this session.

Much has been said out of this chamber, very little in it, about fanatics, about patriotic and unpatriotic service. I start by conceding that any man or woman in this body has a right honestly to disagree with me, and if such person disagrees with me I am not going to raise my hand to high heaven and yell, "Oh, you are not patriotic." That is not the way to discuss matters in an assembly of this kind. I want simply to say this is not a question of whether a man is a Republican or a Democrat, it is not a question of whether a man came here pledged to support the administration or not support it, but just as has been said the gentleman from Delaware county, each man is here to fight this thing out as he sees the light and in no other way. I found a man out here on the outside who was walking up and down incessantly repeating twenty or twenty-five times, "Year by year, with weakened beer, I am growing drier and drier." I have been receiving literature since I have been here, starting in witn two black bottles at the top. It makes me think of that song we used to sing as children about ninety-nine black bottles hanging on the wall. Since the advocates or local option began they knocked out one by one of the bottles until the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act came along, and we came down here at the beginning of the session with only two black bottles left hanging on the wall. Then the other day the man who has been getting out that paper admitted that one of the black bottles had gone, and he set his picture on the other side and there was only one black bottle hanging on the wall, and we are going, by our vote today, to take the other black bottle off the wall, and when we pass this bill we are going to show the picture of the same man facing the other way.

I want to say to the members of the House here that much has been said on the legal points, and I am very much embarrassed by what my brother from Philadelphia, Mr. Perry, said when he didn't see how any lawyer of repute could see any good in this bill. I want to tell you, it embarrassed me very much because, if forsooth, I find anything in this bill that looks good to me I fall within that indictment, sir, and I am not a lawyer of good repute, and say what you like I hope I may leave the House and carry away with me whatever little reputation I brought here with me. Sometimes some people are not so sure what that was. I got a letter the other day which said, "My dear Mr. Ludlow: I was not here at the last election in your district but I am now one of your constitutents. There are two things you have got to vote for or else I will vote against you at the next election." He is talking about the next election and we have not yet finished this job. "First I want you to be for daylight saving," so I have got this as a secret which I will whisper to Philadelphia people, I have got fifty per cent of his support. Then he said, "If you vote dry, I am against you." Now if I do this thing, which I intend to do and should purchance come up again two years hence for reelection which does not worry me at all, I do not know how that man can vote under the Vickerman bill and cast a fractional vote for me. How can he vote a half vote for me on the daylight savings question and vote half against me on the Pinchot Dry Bill? So I have got to work my way in fear and trepidation. But that is two years from now and in the meantime my better half is holding down the job at home with five little reasons for my voting "aye" on this bill Mr Speaker and members of the House, I wonder whether with this indictment stairing me in the face about the repute of the man who can address himself to any points of merit in the bill, whether I can, without wearying you and very briefly, seriously show you the error of some of those views. First of all, because it was said the first shall be last and the last shall be first, our brother from Delaware County has said that he cannot find any justification anywhere in the law of Pennsylvania for this burden of proof I am going to refer him to just one decision of the superior court of Pennsylvania, where Justice Keller decided that all of this presumption as to the burden of proof would be decided without showing it to be unconstitutional and still reserving to the defendant every right that is properly his, and if he cares to look at Commonwealth versus Berryman 72 Pennsylvania Superior Court, page 479, he will have the answer in far better language than I can express it here. Much has been said about search and seizure in condemnation of it, and if you think that is something new let me tell you they have been doing it since 1860. If something sixty-three years old is something new, let us go on putting in something new. We have had it time and again not in one act, but in act after act, and I will cite you quickly just the names and the titles of the acts without a citation of the opinion; Animals kept for baiting or fighting, Act of April 3, 1872; apparatus or instruments in regard to opium, Act of June 10, 1885; explosive in Philadelphia, Act of March 20, 1856; gambling implements, Act of March 31, 1860; obscene books, Act of May, 12, 1897; stolen goods, Act of March 31, 1860; bottles, etc., bearing registered names or trademarks, Act of June 15, 1911; diseased live stock, Act of July 22, 1913; inspection of employment agencies, Act of June 7, 1915; game and fish laws, Act of June 3, 1919, about which we heard something quite early this morning. And so they go, again and again, the power to search and seize. And then last night our friend from York got up and in trying to amend, I think he made a mighty good argument, but I am at this time not like the lawyer but like the man on the jury, I do not have to agree, but he made an argument about the use of the word "discovery". After I heard his speech last night I went back to my room and re-read my history and came to the conclusion that Christopher Columbus did not discover America, he only suspected it, and when he went back home, Queen Isabel conferred upon him that order, that new order, the order of Suspicious Explorers. Now that is facetious, but let us be serious on that point. The circuit court of appeals of the United States, just a few months ago in a case out in the west,in the ninth circuit decided that this much mooted search and seizure clause, which mark you, must only be reasonable, there is nothing against a reasonable search and seizure, it only says it shall not be unreasonable search and seizure, and the court held there under the amendment, when you construe that, you have the same rights that you have at common law, and it is notorious in Pennsylvania that we practice common law except where we modify it by statute, and as long as we are modifying it by statute, the words, "with or without warrant", were put in there particularly to meet the Pennsylvania rule without creating a breach of the peace, and under the common law you may see something that is, but unless there is breach of the peace committed you cannot take the goods. Hence those words and hence the use of the word "discover". I discover in the word "discover" that when I see a thing I discover it, and yet when I go around with my nose up in the air and scent it. I suspect it. I think we can leave that to the rule of the distinction between reasonable and unreasonable action. You have heard about the Woner Act, and you men and women coming from Philadelphia, don't you know that by the time you pay that great big license fee and by the time you pay your rent, and by the time you pay your big overhead and get a reasonable profit, you cannot do it on light wine and near beer, and you know it, and I know it, and what is the use of fooling ourselves about it. I think that the licensed saloon under the Woner act is a saloon with a revolving door. The first thing you meet going in the door is one-half of one per cent, but as you revolve it is one per cent then one and a half to two per cent, then two to two and a half per cent, then two and a half to three per cent, and before you get very far you are inside under the license at about three or three and a half per cent, as my friend Chaplin tried to read into the bill last night. Under the Woner act in Philadelphia that is done and every one knows it. What is the use of fooling ourselves about it. Now then as to the question of double jeopardy. My friend Mr. Sterling, in a very concise and lawyerlike way, talks about the danger or risk to the man who is accused under the double jeopardy clause of the Constitution which says that no man can twice be put in jeopardy for the same offence. But it is not same offense and the Supreme Court of the United States has so construed. When we pass this law it will be an offense under our law, and why should we be so blamed considerate of the man who has violated this clause. If he is guilty let him take the consequences. Let us face the music, and if a man is guilty let us make him get the full effect. When you are shooting certain kinds of birds why not use a double-barreler shot gun?

Now, Mr. Speaker, two years from now a lot of people will forget many of us, and I am afraid from the batch of letters that I have received that they have started to forget me already, but I am not a bit afraid about the people back home two years from now, what I am concerned with just now is my vote this morning, and my reasons for it. It really is the afternoon, but I think up until luncheon, we may say it is still morning. I am concerned with my reason, but I am concerned far more with another thing, and that is that twenty years from now they wont have the slightest idea who Ludlow is, or who somebody else is, but I must not mention any other names, but they will know that the Legislature back in 1923 tried to put teeth into something which up till that time was toothless, that in 1923, when the lid was almost off the Legislature tried to get its bearings again and put the lid back on. The eyes of the country are on us to-day, not yesterday, or last week, but right now, right at this hour, the eyes of the whole United States are upon us. David Lawrence, in one of those articles of his written back in February, said that Pennsylvania, was the object of every ones' gaze all over the country to see how we were going to act. This is one of the big states, and one of the states that is reported strongly the other way, not dry, so to speak. This is our chance to go on record, and it may not be a bad idea for you to know how Pennsylvania went in 1919 and how she went the other day: On February 25, 1919, the 18th Amendment was voted for as follows: 29 Senators in the affirmative, and 16 in the negative. In 1923, when the vote was taken on this act there were 30 Senators in the affirmative and 15 in the negative. Think that over. Over in Jersey, where they say they never agreed to the 18th Amendment, they only lacked a constitutional majority but listen to the vote n New Jersey. The vote there was in the Senate 10 for the amendment, and 8 against; in the house 52 for and four against the amendment. The only thing in Jersey to-day is this: They have not got very much over in the Senate, but over in the Governor's office by a slight transposition of one letter they got one single thing under the Volstead act, their Seltzer. It seems to me now is the time to stop, now is the time to take our vote, now is the time to go on record, not for to-day or tomorrow, or next year, or two years from now, but now is the time to go on record for twenty years from now, and I cheerfully take my responsibility on that.

I want to read just one thing that you read in this morning's papers that our clear thinking Junior Senator of Pennsylvania, with the clear thinking Senior Senator from Pennsylvania said over in Reading yesterday. He said, "The 18th Amendment is here to stay and it is senseless to believe that it can be done away with. As it stands we can do one of three things: we can enforce it as it is; we can leave it on the statute books unenforced, or we can modify it to make it practically effective. But since the law is the law, I believe it should be enforced. If it cannot be enforced then let us face the issue like men and modify it."

I agree with him, but let us start from the beginning. There are three things we can do. The second is unthinkable, and that is not to enforce it, and that leaves us with the first and third, and the first is, let us try with all the powers we have got to enforce it, and if backed up by all the power, and with the co-operation of that very efficient district attorney, who we understand you have in the neighboring county, backed up by the power of public opinion in the clubs, dance halls, and the colleges and schools, we will stop making a farce out of the 18th amendment. Let us stand up like regular Americans and say we are for this thing, we are going to give it a square deal. Try this thing out. If it is not a square deal, some of you will be back here two years from now, who are against this thing today, and who are saying, "Don't let us change this thing now". Take the thing as Senator Reed has said, let us take the amendment just as we find it, and let us try in an honest manner under our Constitution to enforce it. That is personally why I am going to vote for the bill, and I hope you will do the same.

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to no one in loyal, patriotic support of the Constitution and laws of the United States, and of this Commonwealth.

In vigorously opposing the passage of this bill, I am doing so from no ulterior motive whatsoever, but wholly because I believe I am casting my vote honestly and according to the dictates of my own conscience. Also, let me say this that I, personally, am absolutely dry and that I have never in any way, shape, or form violated any of the provisions of the 18th Amedment or the Volstead Act.

Let us first of all remember that we are discussing this bill; not a moral issue, nor a wet and dry issue. To my mind this is not a wet and dry issue, regardless of how much the organizations favoring the passage of this bill are trying to make it that. That issue is settled; the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act closed the book. Concurring with the provisions of the 18th Amendment, the Legislature of 1921 passed our state enforcement measure, the Woner Act. That Legislature must have believed that that act was in accordance with the mandate of the Federal Constitution. Now we are being led to believe that the act is a failure. I personally do not believe that there has ever been any determined effort to enforce the provisions of the Woner Act, until the new governor was inaugurated. With his sincere determination and the tools he now has at hand, he seems to be doing exceptionally well.

Section 3 of the National Prohibition Act provides that the Act shall be liberally construed "to the end that the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage may be prevented." In Pennsylvania it has always been held that penal statutes, imposing fines and penalties, "are to be construed strictly as penal, and not liberally as remedial laws." Of course, a penal statute is not to be so strictly construed as to defeat the action. Our judges have been wise in holding that "no man incurs a penalty unless the act which subjects him to it is clearly both within the spirit and letter of the statute imposing such penalty."

Why should not the Legislature in the framing of a penal act say clearly what is meant by the Act instead of putting in a provision, contrary to our decisions, that the Act shall be "liberally" construed? By so doing there is an invitation to read into the act the vagaries and individual opinions of those who are charged with its enforcement and interpretation.

In Section 4 of the proposed act the burden of proof is put upon the possessor of intoxicating liquors "to prove that such intoxicating liquor was lawfully acquired, possessed and used." The inevitable conclusion concerning this Section is that wherever the question arises any individual, who has in his home intoxicating liquor, may be called upon to establish that such liquor has been acquired lawfully. This clause would subject many innocent people to great dangers. It is commonly known that before July 1, 1919, many large stocks were laid in. Wholesalers went out of business in 1919, records were lost and destroyed, and not one person out of ten thousand would have the means now, of establishing in a court of law the evidence showing how possession was acquired. In many cases barrelled liquors have been bottled by the owners. In many cases the original wrappings and containers have been destroyed, and this section would, without doubt, lead to great persecution and perjuries and also blackmail. The burden of proof should never be placed upon the defendant in any penal case. The Commonwealth in all cases should be obliged to prove the guilt of the defendant. The wise policies of our laws should not depart from that, the Commonwealth must not only prove the guilt of a defendant but must prove that guilt beyond any reasonable doubt, and particularly should this be so with regard to a sumptuary law, which is in derogation of the natural rights of the individual.

The most serious crime upon our statute books is murder. It carried the most serious penalty. Murder in the first degree is punished by death, yet a murderer is given the benefit of a reasonable doubt. The burden is never cast upon him, and never shifts from the Commonwealth. The fanatical idea of this act is that a bootlegger is in a class by himself, committing a crime more serious than murder and is required to assume the burden of proof and prove his innocence.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, is guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States as well as by the Constitution of Pennsylvania, it being specifically stated in both documents that "no warrant to search any place or to seize any person or things shall issue without describing them as nearly as may be, nor without probable cause supported by oath or affirmation subscribed to by the affiant." The Act of Congress of June 15, 1917, sets forth under what conditions search warrants may be issued. It is interesting to compare this Act with the proposed Act of Assembly and to note how zealous was Congress to hedge about the issuance of search warrants with certain restrictions and limitations, the majority of which are omitted entirely from the Act under discussion. Under the act of Congress a search warrant cannot be issued but upon probable cause, supported by affidavit, naming or describing the person and particularly describing the property and the place to be searched.

The judge or commissioner must, before issuing the warrant examine on oath the complainant and any witnesses he may produce, require their affidavits or take their depositions in writing and cause them to be subscribed by the parties making them.

The affidavits or depositions must set for the facts tending to establish the grounds of the application or probable cause for believing that they exist. If the Judge or Commissioner is thereupon satisfied of the existence of the grounds of the application or that there is probable cause to believe their existence, he must issue a search warrant.

The judge or commissioner must insert a direction in the warrant that it be served in the day time, unless the affidavits are positive that the property is on the person or in the place to be searched, in which case he may insert a direction that it be served at any time of the day or night.

It will be observed that under the Act of Congress search warrants are applied for before judges or commissioners. United States Commissioners, as is commonly known, are invariably trained in the law, lawyers being appointed to that position. They are "an adjunct of the Court". In all cases they weigh the evidence with the caution, and often with the wisdom, of judges of the bench. Therefore, in Federal cases, one can rest assured that search warrants will only be issued where evidence is produced of such character as is reasonable within the meaning of the Constitution.

In our proposed act the issuance of search warrants is not carefully restricted. An individual can go before an alderman, a justice of the peace, a magistrate, ninety-nine percent of which have no training in the law and upon baldest affidavit of probable cause obtain a search warrant. If one alderman in a city refuses to issue the search warrant there are a dozen others who can be influenced. There are notoriety seekers among alderman. There are ignorant justices of the peace. Any justice of the peace in a county can act. If the alderman of a city refuse to act under this section the affidavit can be made before some remote justice of the peace in the country. Any lawyer who reads the provisions of this act will give it as his sincere opinion that a search warrant can be obtained in any given case under our system in Pennsylvania.

The Federal government maintains one Commissioner in a district, usually, as stated, a lawyer and usually also a lawyer of standing and responsibility, alive to his relations to his government, his people and the courts. It is not easy to influence him to act in any case unless there is evidence produced which he can weigh and measure. The average justice of the peace or alderman neither tries to, nor can, judicially weigh evidence produced before him. His impulse in civil cases is to give judgment for the plaintiff; in criminal cases, to bind the defendant over for court. His desire to do justice usually is subordinated to the desire to secure the payment of his fees. He makes the adminitration of his office not a judicial but a business matter. Yet this act intends to commit our rights, secured by both Federal and State constitutions, into the hands of irresponsible, unlearned and usually quite pliable justices of the peace and aldermen.

It is of particular interest to note section 20 of the search and seizure clauses of the Volstead Act. It provides that 'a person who maliciously and without propable cause procures a search warrant to be issued and executed shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars or imprisoned not more than one year.

The Bill under discussion makes no penalty provision of any kind for false swearing in order to procure a search warrant. If any property is seized, although the owner of that property did not know it was used, or being used, in violation of the act, the burden is cast upon him to show that it was being unlawfully used without his knowledge or consent. How can that burden be met in many cases excepting only by simple denial, and simple denial would not seem to be sufficient to overcome the presumption that is set up against the claimant by casting the burden upon him.

Under section 13 where a person is shown to possess intoxicating liquor, that fact shall be taken to be prima facie evidence that the possession was unlawful.

Frankly, what does the proposed law do? It takes away five and one-half million of dollars of revenue from the state, counties and municipalities. It does not fulfill the Governor's pledge as it will not drive one single saloon out of business. One county in Pennsylvania had approximately 375 licensed places in 1920. The judges refused to grant any licenses the next year and now they have about 600 places selling liquors. This bill paves the way for hundreds of blind tigers and I am firmly convinced that the brewer and saloonman want the bill to pass. It will remove the cost of the license and will give wider distribution to the brewer.

The question today is not law enactment but law enforcement. Along the line of enforcement just listen to this clipped from a newspaper several days ago: "Miss Georgia Hopley, the only general prohibition agent of her sex in the Federal service explained today, her favorite method of picking up evidence of bootlegging was listening in on conversation of the men into whose company she might be thrown while riding on a train or traveling otherwise in pursuance of her duties. Usually from behind the pages of a magazine, I am listening to all that may be said by the men riding near met, she said. I often hear conversation that furnishes me a tip regarding some violation of the law."

Germany was condemned for all times in the eyes of the world for conducting such a system upon those whom she considered were her enemies. Shall we as liberty-loving people endorse a spy system of this kind upon our own folks?

We must never forget that the duty of every legislator is to insist upon the passage of only such laws as are wise and proper and which represent the wishes of the majority of the people. Legislation is only an effort to put into force the will of the majority. In so doing, however, we must remember there are some things, which no matter how good they may be in themselves, the majority has no right to inflict upon the minority. "The chief object of a Constitution is to limit the power of majorities."

Majority rule, unlimited, would be the most grinding of tyrannies the minority at times would be mere slaves whose right to life, liberty and comfort no one who choose to join the majority would be bound to respect.

It is childish to imagine that every law, no matter what its nature, can command respect. Nothing is more attractive to the benevolent vanity of men than the notion that they can effect great improvement in society by the simple process of forbidding all wrong conduct, or conduct which they think is wrong, by law, and of enjoining all good conduct by the same means. The principal danger lies in the attempt often made to convert into crimes, acts regarded by large numbers —perhaps a majority—as innocent.

Quoting from the pamphlet of the Women's Legislative Council, under the heading Law Enforcement, they say: "There are three essentials in law enforcement: an adequate law, officials that are in full sympathy with the law, and patriotic citizens who will support and encourage faithful officials in the performance of their dutiy." Further on they say, "We can and will enforce the prohibition law, if the 1923 Legislature will provide for the carrying out of the first two essentials, and the patriotic citizens of the Commonwealth will look after the third."

The first essential we can do. I still believe, however, that in the Woner Act we have that law. The second, we as a legislative body have no control over. It is presumptious to assume that we have any control over the judges, district attorneys, and other enforcement officers.

Relative to third essential, we may delude ourselves, upon the subject if we can, but there is no evidence that in Pennsylvania the majority favor stringent legislation as provided in the act. No law can be enforced that does not have the moral support of the people behind it. It does not pay to goad the people too far and this Act, in its present form, taking under consideration our system of justices of the peace, aldermen and magistrates, with irresponsible constables and detectives, would be a great agency of oppression and in a short time the people would be so aroused to injustices that an attempt to enforce its provisions would be met with force. It is useless to call for an observance of the Constitution and the statutes of any state or government, when the natural rights of the people are invaded.

In forcing upon the people a measure of this kind we indeed make vain the sacred labors of the Founders of the Republic. Have those men who sought in anguish and toil to establish forever in this land the doctrine of the rights of the individual man laid their foundations upon a bed of sand —pervious at last to the ever present pressure of intolerance?

This, my friends, is the age of intolerance. The bigots and fanatics are saying to us, "If you do not believe as we do, you shall be politically and spiritually damned. I say to them that unless they change their attitude that this glorious Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will eventually be crucified upon the cross of intolerance, and for that crucifixion there shall be no Easter Morn.

Under our Constitution, we have three branches of government, the executive, the legislative, and the judicial. Each separate and distinct unto itself, and when anyone attempts to usurp the power of more than one of these branches he exceeds the authority vested in him by the Constitution.

Frankly, I do not like the methods that have been used to force this bill through the House. Members of this House have been coerced and intimidated. It is rumored that they have been threatened with the loss of patronage. An attempt has been made to discredit certain legislation before their constituents by publishing a fictitious list of so-called pledges to this act. It has been said that a vote for the bill is a vote for the Administration; a vote the other way, against it. I say a vote against the bill is a vote against fanaticism, a vote against un-American legislation. A vote against this bill is a vote to show the people of Pennsylvania that the law-making body of this state can still function. I could not stultify my manhood by voting for this bill and I would far rather be retired by my constituents to innocuous desuetude than be afraid to vote and voice my convictions.

The poem of J. G. Holland is very apropos of the occasion:

"God give us men! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands.
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy!
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking.
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog in public duty and in private thinking.
For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds;
Their large possessions and their little deeds
Mingle in strife, lo! Freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land and waiting justice sleeps."

The Roman never despaired of the Republic, and we need have no misgivings as to the destiny of this State so long as we are men of the Oak instead of the Willow.

I call upon you to have the courage of your convictions and vote accordingly.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the hour is growing late and I think every man and woman in here is well informed on this subject. I therefore move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following: Messrs. Haws, Dunn, Bidelspacher, Edmonds, Aston, Fratt, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Blair, McCurdy, Horne, Golder, Bluett, Baldi, Dilsheimer, Bromley, Joshua Evans, Jefferson Smith, Conner, Howard Smith, Burns.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I vote in the negative for the reason expressed by me at great length on the evening of Monday, March 26th, when the bill, Senate Bill No. 99, was on second reading. Had the House accepted my amendment, which would not have weakened but strenugthened the bill, I should have voted for the bill.

Miss GRIMES. When Governor Pinchot interrogated me in the fall campaign, I told him that I did not believe in bootlegging and that I thought the saloon was an archaic institution that has passed. I told him further that I was not dry, and that I believed in light wine and beer, although I realized that such a change was not a matter of state action but must be brought about by Federal legislation. The Governor said, "Bully for you", and his secretary, Mr. Stahlnecker, wrote down what I had said.

Since that time a lot of pressure has been brought to bear on me by advocates of this bill, even amounting to threats that I would not be returned unless I voted for the bill. I have been accused as having been sent here as a tool by the wet interests of my district and having accepted bribes from them. There has been absolutely no coercion of any sort brought to bear upon me by the wet interests of my district. The only efforts at coercion have come from the other side. I have thought this matter through to the position I now take, which is based upon my conscience and the sentiment of my district.

I would rather have the wet label on me than the label of the hypocrite.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, the following telegram explains my vote on this bill:

Wilkes-Barre, Penna., Mar. 25, 1923.

Hon. Lorenzo Thomas,
House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pa.

At meeting of the Republican Women's organization of Luzerne County held at the Woman's Club House, March twenty-fourth, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, that telegrams be sent to our representatives endorsing the enforcement bill now before the legislature and the entire program as outlined by the Governor.

Mrs William S. Tompkins, Secretary.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I vote "aye" on this bill for the following reasons:

First, I vote for this bill because it will tear the mask of legal pretense from the near-beer saloons in this state.

Second, I vote for this bill because it will put real power into the arm of the law to lay hold upon the bootlegger, bring him to account and vindicate the law.

Third, I favor this bill because it is based upon the principle that honest laws shall be hard to evade and easy to enforce.

Fourth, I favor this bill because it interprets the eighteenth amendment to mean just what it says, that "the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes" shall be prohibited, not merely driven out in one place to be allowed to flourish in another.

What is Function of Government?

Let us be frank and honest with ourselves and with our government. Do we mean to give the handicap to the lawbreaker and the bootlegger, or are we ready to write into law through this bill, the highest indisputable principle, enunciated by William E. Gladstone, that the chief function of government is to make the way of the transgressor hard?

We talk much of human rights and justly so. But when we fail to make laws that deny the right to do wrong we are failing of our duty.

Shall we Get Rid of License?

If this bill did nothing else save help rid us of the licensed near-beer saloon, it would be worth while.

License for non-intoxicating beverages is not wrong in a moral sense, because all agree that the thing licensed is not wrong, but it gives legal status to an institution which leads to a train of evils.

I have no apology to make for sponsoring the present law which carries license for non-alcoholic drinks.

We accepted it as the best enforcement plan we could obtain in 1921. But at once after the adjournment of the Assembly I began a campaign for the enforcement principle in this present bill.

Courts throughout the state have had much to say about license for non-intoxicants. Some have been biased in views against the plan of the Brooks Law. Others have declared it bad policy to continue license with the Eighteenth Amendment a part of the Constitution. I quote from Judge George W. Maxey of Scranton, who, in denying all license in Lackawanna County in March 1922, said:

"We were persuaded to refuse to grant any retail licenses in this county because we believe that in too many instances our retail liquor licenses were being used merely as badges of respectability for "hootch" emporiums, that is for establishments where vile, deadly and illegal liquor is sold. We believe it almost physically impossible for our enforcement agencies, unless their personnel is vastly augmented, to adequately supervise the seven hundred retail saloons in Lackawanna County and to secure a due compliance with the national and state laws regulating the sale of beverages. Some drinking places may continue to be lawless whether licensed or unlicensed, until the law's heavy hand falls upon them, but it is against the public policy of the state to lend its license for use merely as a window-dressing for bootlegging parlors."

Is Burden of Proof Unfair?

In this bill the definition of the crime and the penalty is much the same as in the Woner act.

There is much ado about a thing of little consequence in this fuss about the burden of proof, which is much the same as in the Woner act.

When the law interpreting the Eighteenth Amendment, states clearly that it is unlawful to manufacture, sell, offer for sale, furnish, possess, transport, import or export, intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes, it is clear anyone found violating the provision has done so with full knowledge of the laws and, as the lawful uses to which such intoxicants may be put are also plainly set forth, the case with which it may be shown that such use or posession of liquor was lawful, leaves little or no burden upon an alleged act.

The burden of proof is on the point as to whether the liquor was for beverage purposes or not beverage purposes. Is this point often a puzzling one?

Are Our Rights Invaded?

No one's right is invaded by this bill.

The right to search is well restricted and if we oppose a reasonable, properly guarded search clause, we may as well oppose the purpose to honestly enforce the Eighteenth Amendment.

If officers are to be denied power to enter places where the law is being violated, then we are limiting the province of the law and extending the domain where men may do as they please in spite of the law.

Do we want to save the lawbreaker from his just penalty, or do we want to bring him to justice?

Real Question At Issue.

Finally, this is not a question of wet or dry. It is a question of the reign of the bootlegger, or the triumph of the basic law of the land.

It is not a question of the right or wrong of booze. It is a question of obedience to law, or defiance of law.

It is a question of making it easy, by a weak law, to trample upon the constitution, or making it hard, by a strong law, to get away with a riot of rum.

The greatest need of this hour, in this state, is courage to help build up honest government authority and power to make that authority felt by every breaker of the law.

This need will be met, in a great measure, by the passage of this bill.

The eyes of the Nation are upon Pennsylvania.

The eyes of the Nation are upon this House at this very hour.

If we defeat this bill, it will be heralded as a drastic setback for forward-going work for the supremacy of the law.

If we pass this bill, we give notice to the people of America that the great Keystone State has thrown the dynamics of its virile moral force back of the sweeping movement to lift humanity to a higher level and usher in the triumph of the fondest hopes of all the ages, human good through sober, sane, self control and obedience to the sacred laws of man's best endeavor.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 51, as follows:

An Act providing for the construction of certain bridges on State highways and providing for the apportionment of the cost damages and expenses of construction of such bridges and the maintenance thereof between the State the County and any railroad company or companies whose tracks are crossed by such bridge

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That when a state highway crosses a creek rivulet or river which is the boundary line between two boroughs or two townships of the first class or between a borough and a township of the first class and over which creek rivulet or river a bridge has heretofore been erected so as to avoid crossing at grade the tracks of any railroad company or companies on either or both sides of said creek rivulet or river and it is necessary for the safety and convenience of the traveling public that a new bridge be erected it shall be the duty of the Commonwealth to construct said new bridge under the direction and supervision and upon such location as may be approved by the State Highway Commissioner

The plans and specifications for said bridge shall be prepared by the State Highway Commissioner and be submitted by him to the proper county authorities and to the railroad company or companies for their approval

In the event that the State Highway Commissioner the county and the railroad company or companies cannot agree upon the plans and specifications submitted by the State Highway Commissioner the Public Service Commission upon application of any of the said parties after public hearing shall adopt plans and specifications for said bridge making such change or changes therein as to them may seem just and proper whereupon it shall be the duty of the Commonwealth to construct said bridge in accordance with said plans and specifications

Section 2 When the plans for said bridge are completed it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner to endeavor to agree with the County Commissioners of the county in which said bridge is situated and the railroad company or companies owning or leasing the track or tracks over which said bridge crosses as to the portion the State the county and railroad company or companies shall pay of the damages cost and the expenses of the construction of said bridge and the portion of the cost of maintenance thereof

Section 3 In the event the parties cannot agree as provided for in section two it shall be the duty of the Public Service Commission upon application of any of said parties after hearing to proportion the costs damages and expenses of the construction of said bridge and the future maintenance thereof among the State county and railroad company or companies in such proportion as said Commission may deem just and proper

Section 4 The findings determiniations or orders of the Public Service Commission relative to the approval of plans and the allocation of costs damages and expenses made under the provisions of this act shall be subject to appeal to the Superior Court in the same manner and to the same extent as is now provided by law for other findings determinations or orders of such commission The compensation for damages which the owners of adjacent property taken injured or destroyed may sustain in the construction of any such bridge (for which compensation the said owners are hereby invested with warrant of authority upon appeal from the determination of the commission to sue the Commonwealth) shall after due notice and hearing be ascertained and determined by the commission with the right of appeal to the proper court of common pleas as is now provided by law for other similar determinations of such commission If the said county railroad company or companies fail or neglect to pay said amount within ninety days after the completion of said bridge the Attorney General shall bring suit against such delinquent county or railroad company or companies to recover the amount due in the same manner as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

record and charge the costs upon such claim to the plaintiff in the claim filed

Where such appeal is discontinued the court in which such municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order fixing the undetermined amount claimed at the amount of the original assessment which shall bear interest from the date that such assessment was originally payable and thereafter the amount of such claim shall be the sum thus fixed

Section 10 Said claim shall set forth

1. The name of the municipality by which filed
2. The name of the owner of the property against which it is filed
3. A description of the property against which it is filed
4. The authority under or by virtue of which the tax was levied or the work was done
5. The time for which the tax was levied or the date on which the work was completed in front of the particular property against which the claim is filed or the date of completion of the improvement where the assessment is made after completion or the date of confirmation by the court where confirmation is required done
6. If filed to the use of a contractor the date of and parties to the contract for doing said work and
7. In other than tax claims the kind and character of the work done for which the claim is filed and if the work be such as to require previous notice to the owner to do it when and how such notice was given

Said claim must be signed by the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant and in the case of a use plaintiff must be accompanied by an affidavit that the facts therein set forth are true to the best of his knowledge information and belief

Section 11 The property described in tax claims shall include the whole property against which the tax is levied The property described in municipal claims may include the whole contiguous property or it may include only the lot in front of or upon which the work is done or to which service is supplied of such depth as is usual in properties of the same kind or character in the particular neighborhood No municipal claim or tax claim shall be invalid by reason of including therein property to a greater depth than as above provided but the court in which the same is filed may at any time prior to judgment thereon but not afterwards upon it appearing that such claim includes property to a greater depth than is hereby made subject to such claim limit the lien thereof to the proper depth Where any owner or owners of property abutting on a highway conveys a strip of land abutting on said highway which strip is too narrow to be used as a site for the smallest width dwelling allowed by law to be erected thereon such conveyance shall be deemed to be made for the purpose of evading liability for the municipal improvements made or to be made in such highway and in such cases the assessment may be made at the option of the municipality against the lot as it existed before the division and the lien may be filed against the entire lot as thus assessed joining the owners of both the rear lot and the said strip in the claim In all cases where a tax is levied on or filed against separate and distinct properties in one amount covering all the proper public authority shall if tendered with all costs if any accept payment of the portion of the whole amount of said tax chargeable upon each or any of the separate and distinct properties so charged together according to the tax rate and assessed valuation thereof and payment and satisfaction of any one portion may be made with out prejudice to the claim against the remainder

Section 12 Any person having an interest in the property whensoever acquired may after ten days' prior notice in writing by leave of court intervene as a party defendant and make defense thereto with the same effect as if he had been originally named as a defendant in the claim filed And the claimant may by writing filed at his costs strike off the name of any defendant therein and may substitute as a defendant and issue a scire facias against any person who may have any interest therein as owner or who is the personal representative of an owner who has died either before or after filing the claim but such substitution shall always be without prejudice to any intervening rights

Section 13 In all cases where a tax or municipal claim is levied on or filed against separate and distinct properties as one estate it shall and may be lawful for the proper public authority either before or after filing a claim therefor to apportion the same ratably upon the separate and distinct properties so assessed together And the court in which the claim is filed on proof that the properties were separate and distinct at the time the tax was levied or the work was done shall at any stage of the proceedings apportion the charge against such properties When apportioned they shall be treated and considered in all respects as if separate and distinct claims had been filed and payment and satisfaction of any one portion may be made without prejudice to the claim as against tne rest

Section 14 Any defendant named in the claim or any person allowed to intervene and defend thereagainst may at any stage of the proceedings present his petition under oath or affirmation setting forth that he has a defence in whole or in part thereto and of what it consists and praying that a rule be granted upon the claimant to file an affidavit of the amount claimed by him and to show cause why the petitioner should not have leave to pay money into court and in the case of a municipal claim to enter security in lieu of the claim whereupon a rule shall be granted as prayed for Upon the pleadings filed or from the claim and the affidavit of defense and without a petition where an affidavit of defense has been filed the court shall determine how much of the claim is admitted or not sufficiently denied and shall enter a decree that upon payment by such petitioner to the claimant of the amount thus found to be due with interest and costs if any thing be found to be due or upon payment into court if the claimant refuses to accept the same and upon payment into court of a sum sufficiently to cover the balance claimed with interest and costs or upon the entry of approved security in the case of a municipal claim that such claim shall be wholly discharged as a lien against the property described therein and shall be stricken from the judgment index Thereafter the material disputed facts if any shall be tried by a jury without further pleadings with the same effect as if a writ of scire facias had duly issued upon said claim to recover the balance thereof but the jury shall be sworn to try the issues between the claimant and the parties who paid the fund into court or entered security and verdict judgment and payment or execution shall follow as in other cases The same course may be pursued at the instance of any owner where the claim has not in fact been filed and if in that event the petitioner complies with the decree made the money paid into court or security entered shall stand in lieu of the claim and the latter shall not be filed and if filed shall be stricken off upon motion

Section 15 Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said properties until fully paid and satisfied Provided however That either a suggestion of non-payment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed in cases of tax claims either before or after judgment on the scire facias and in cases of other than tax claims after judgment on the scire facias or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scire facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of non-payment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and avertment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And now .....the claimant by.....his solicitor suggests of record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for non-payment thereof The prothonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and avertment on the municipal lien or the proper docket of the claim and also to index it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and avertment must be signed by the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and avertments directed therein and for such services shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim The filing and indexing of such suggestion and avertment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scire facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing of any prior suggestion and avertment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purposes of continuing and preserving the lien of the claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment or judgment of revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levari facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levari facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continued by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and avertment of default the claimant may at any time within five years therefrom issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and avertment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

If a claim be not filed within the time aforesaid or if it be not prosecuted in the manner and at the time aforesaid its lien on real estate shall be wholly lost

Section 16 Any party named as defendant in the claim filed or admitted to defend there against may file as of course and serve a notice upon the claimant or upon the counsel of record to issue a scire facias thereon within fifteen days after notice so to do If no scire facias be issued within fifteen days after the affidavit of service of notice is filed of record the claim shall be stricken off by the court upon motion If a scire facias be issued in accordance with such notice the claimant shall not be permitted to discontinue the same or suffer a nonsuit upon the trial thereof but a compulsory nonsuit shall be entered by the court if the claimant does not appear or withdraws or for reason fails to maintain his claim

Section 17 The claim shall be sued by writ of scire facias and the form thereof shall be substantially as follows The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to (names of the parties defendant) Greeting

Whereas The (city borough or other municipality as the case may be) on the.....day of.....A D 1.... filed its claim in our court of common pleas of.....county at No .....Term 1..... (SEAL)

The claimant when he files his praecipe for the writ of scire facias may direct the prothonotary to add and insert the names of any persons whom the claimant may know to have an interest in the premises and the scire facias shall be issued containing such additional names But the parties to the claim may agree upon an amicable scire facias upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the same effect as if a scire facias in the form aforesaid had been duly issued served and returned or the defendants or any of them may waive the issue of a scire facias and appear with like effect as if the scire facias had been issued and served

Section 18 The sheriff to whom the scire facias is given for service shall add to the writ as parties defendant all persons other than those named therein who may be found in possession of the property described or any part thereof and in case no one is found in possession by the sheriff he shall post a true copy of the writ on the most public part of said property and he shall add to the said writ the names of any persons not already named therein whom he may ascertain to have an interest in the property described or any part thereof which writ shall then be further served as follows

(a) By serving as in the case of a summons such of those named in the writ or added thereto as may be found in the county in which the writ issued and

(b) Where the sheriff has information that those named in the writ or added thereto or any of them may be found in any other county of this Commonwealth the said persons shall be served as in the case of a summons by the sheriff of the county in which the said defendants or any of them may reside he being deputized for that purpose by the sheriff of the county in which the writ issues and

(c) In case any of those named in the writ or added thereto cannot be found by the sheriff or their residences within this Commonwealth are unknown to him or in case they reside without the Commonwealth the said writ may be served by advertising a copy thereof or a brief notice of the contents of the same once a week for three successive weeks in one newspaper of general circulation in the county and in the legal periodical if any designated by the court for that purpose Provided however That any defendant may accept service of said writ in person or by counsel with the same effect as if duly served therewith by the sheriff

Where the said writ or the brief notice of the contents thereof have been advertised as aforesaid the same shall have the same effect as if the writ had been personally served and all those named therein or added thereto as to whom publication has been made shall file their affidavit of defence as required by the said writ within fifteen days after the date of the last weekly advertisement of the said writ and all those named therein or added thereto who have been served as in case of a summons shall file their affidavit of defence as required by said writ within fifteen days after such service Service of any such writ may be made at any time within three months from the date on which it was issued but it shall be served and returned at the earliest date possible and the plaintiff may require its return at any time whether or not it be actually served

Section 19 If no affidavit of defence be filed within the time designated judgment may be entered and damages assessed by the prothonotary by default for want thereof Such assessment shall include a five per cent fee for collection to plaintiff's attorney

If an affidavit of defence be filed a rule may be taken for judgment for want of sufficient affidavit of defence or for so much of the claim as is insufficiently denied with leave to proceed for the residue

The defendant may by rule require the plaintiff to reply under oath or affirmation to the statements set forth in the affidavit of defence and after the replication has been filed may move for judgment on the whole record

Section 20 Tax claims and municipal claims shall be prima facie evidence of the facts averred therein in all cases and the avertments in both tax and municipal claims shall be conclusive evidence of the facts averred therein except in the particulars in which those avertments shall be specifically denied by the affidavit of defence or amendment thereof duly allowed A compulsory nonsuit upon trial shall be equivalent to a verdict for defendant whether the plaintiff appeared or not If plaintiff recovers a verdict upon trial in excess of the amount admitted by the defendant in his affidavit of defence or pleadings he shall be entitled to an attorney's fee for collection equal to five per centum of such excess but not exceeding fifty dollars

Section 21 The judgment upon such claim may be revived by writ of scire facias in the following form The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to C D and E F Greeting

Whereas A B claimant on the .....day of..... A D 1.....recovered judgment in the sum of.....dollars against you that the following described property be sold to satisfy the same

(Here describe property in full)

And whereas we have been given to understand that though judgment as aforesaid was rendered yet the amount thereof is still due and unpaid and remains as a lien against said property Now you are hereby notified to file your affidavit of defence to A B's claim upon said judgment if any defence you have in the office of the prothonotary of our said court within fifteen days after service of this writ upon you If no affidavit of defence be filed within that time said judgment may be revived against you for the amount set forth with interest from the time of its recovery and said property to be sold to recover the whole thereof

Witness the Hon.....President Judge of our said court this.....day of.....A. D. 1.....

But the parties to the judgment may agree upon an amicable scire facias to revive or to an amicable judgment of revival upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the same effect as if a scire facias in the form aforesaid had been duly issued served and returned

Section 22 Said writ of scire facias shall be served and the proceedings thereon shall be conducted as to persons who are found by the sheriff in the manner herein before provided for the original scire facias sur claim but in any and all events two returns of nihil habet to the writs to revive shall be equivalent to personal service upon the defendants The practice and procedure following said scire facias to revive so far as applicable shall be the same as in the case of the original scire facias to collect the claim

Section 23 All judgments for the plaintiff whether on the original scire facias or any scire facias to revive shall be de terris only and shall be recovered out of the property bound by lien and not otherwise but the costs whether as against the plaintiff or the defendant actually defending against the claim may be recovered by execution as in personal actions

Section 24 After the expiration of twenty days from the recovery of judgment whether on the original scire or any scire facias to revive except in cases where the property named is essential to the business of a quasi-public corporation the court shall upon the petition of the plaintiff appoint a sequestrator of the rents issues and profits of the property bound by the judgment unless in the meantime an appeal be taken and approved security given to operate as a supersedeas If the owner against whom the judgment is entered be in possession of the property sequestered or the party in possession refuse to pay a fair rent the court shall upon petition filed and served grant a rule and if it be made absolute award a writ in the nature of a writ of habere facias possessionem directed to the owner commanding him to deliver such possession to the sequestrator within fifteen days thereafter unless such property be occupied by the owner and his family for a home in which case he shall be entitled to retain possession for a period of three months from the time the petition was served upon him

Section 25 Every claim filed scire facias issued verdict recovered and judgment entered in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be docketed in appropriate dockets and except as hereinafter provided shall be entered upon the judgment index of the court When a claim is stricken off or satisfied the name of a defendant stricken out a scire facias discontinued or quashed or a verdict or judgment stricken off or satisfied a note thereof shall be made on such docket or dockets Provided however That in counties in which the filing of liens for county taxes was authorized by law prior to the passing of the act of one thousand nine hundred and one aforesaid the method of filing entering docketing and indexing liens for county road poor school borough school building township and other taxes assessed in boroughs and townships in such counties shall remain and be continued thereafter in the same manner and form as in use prior to the passage of the said act approved June fourth one thousand nine hundred and one notwithstanding the passage of the same

Section 26 It shall be the duty of the prothonotaries of the courts of common pleas to keep a locality index in which shall be entered all tax or municipal claims hereafter filed and upon any written order therefor they shall give a certificate of search showing all the claims filed against any property For so doing they shall receive the sum of twenty-five cents and five cents additional for each claim certified and no more

Section 27 At any time before the property is sold approved security may be entered for a stay of proceedings until the expiration of one year after the date of filing the claim The entry of such security by the owner before the entry of judgment on the claim shall be equivalent to an admission by him that the property is liable for the claim After the stay has expired the claimant may proceed upon the claim and the bond given separately or simultaneously

Section 28 Execution upon any judgment recovered upon any such claim except where the property named is essential to the business of a quasi-public corporation shall be by writ of levari facias in the following form The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

To the Sheriff of.....County Greeting

Whereas A. B., claimant on the.....day of.....Anno Domini 1..... recovered judgment in the sum of..... dollars with interest from the.....day of.....Anno Domini 1..... and the costs amounting to.....dollars in our court of common pleas of said county of.....Term .....No.....M. L. D. against C. D. and E F that the following described property in your bailiwick be sold to satisfy the same namely

(Here describe the property in full)

Now this is to command you that you expose the said property to sale by public vendue and outcry after due advertisement according to law and that return of said sale with the moneys realized thereby and this writ you make to our said court on the.....day of.....Anno Domini 1....

Witness the Honorable.....President Judge of our said court this.....day of.....Anno Domini 1.....

Advertisement of such sale shall be made and the deed to the purchaser shall be executed acknowledged and delivered as in other real estate sales by the sheriff

Section 29 The plaintiff in any judgment recovered on a tax or municipal claim may upon paying the sheriff's costs fix an upset price to be realized at any sale under such judgment sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims and all accrued but unfilled taxes and claims in full No sale shall be made on a judgment recovered on a tax or municipal claim except for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims in full except as hereinafter provided and the plaintiff in such judgment may purchase the property at such sale for that sum if no one bids a higher price therefor

Section 30 Where judgment is recovered upon any claim the property named in which is essential to the business of a quasi-public corporation the claimant shall have execution thereupon as in other cases of judgments against such corporations Upon the distribution of any fund realized by a sale of the franchises and the whole or any part of the assets of the corporation the court shall determine the actual value of the property bound by the lien and the claim shall be preferred with such other claims to the extent of the value thus determined

Section 31 The lien of a tax or a municipal claim shall not be divested by any judicial sale of the property liened where the amount due is indefinite or undetermined or where the same is not due and payable nor shall the lien of a tax or municipal claim be divested by any judicial sale of the property liened as respects so much thereof as the proceeds of such sale may be insufficient to discharge nor except as hereinafter provided shall a judicial sale of the property liened under a judgment obtained on a tax or municipal claim discharge the lien of any other tax or municipal claim than that upon which said sale is had except to the extent that the proceeds realized are sufficient for its payment after paying the costs and expenses of the sale and of the writ upon which it was made and any other prior tax or municipal claims to which the fund may first be applicable On any such sale being made all tax claims shall be paid out of the proceeds thereof first the oldest tax having priority and municipal claims shall be paid next the oldest in point of lien having priority Mortgages ground-rents and other charges on or estates in the property which were recorded or created where recording is not required before any tax other than for the current year accrue or before the actual doing of the work in front of or upon the particular property for which the municipal claim is filed shall not be disturbed by such sale unless a prior lien is also discharged thereby

In case the property be not sold for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and municipal claims together with the costs thereon the plaintiff in any such claim may postpone the sale without payment of costs and file his petition setting forth that more than one year has elapsed since the filing of his claim that he has exposed the property to sheriff's sale thereunder and was unable to obtain a bid sufficient to pay the upset price in full and if a municipal claimant other than a municipality that he will bid sufficient to pay the upset price and upon the production of searches or a title insurance policy showing the State of the record and the ownership of the property and of all tax and municipal claims mortgages ground-rents or other charges on or estates in the land the court shall grant a rule upon all parties thus shown to be interested to appear and show cause why a decree should not be made that said property be sold freed and cleared of their respective claims mortgages charges and estates If upon a hearing thereafter the court is satisfied that service has been made of said rule upon the parties respondent in the manner provided in this act for the service of writs of scire facias to obtain judgments upon tax and municipal claims and that the facts stated in the petition be true it shall order and decree that said property be sold at a subsequent sheriff's sale-day to be fixed by the court without further advertisement clear of all claims liens mortgages

charges and estates to the highest bidder at such sale and the proceeds realized therefrom shall be distributed in accordance with the priority of such claims and the purchaser at such sale shall take and forever thereafter have an absolute title to the property sold free and discharged of all tax and municipal claims liens mortgages charges and estates of whatsoever kind subject only to the right of redemption as provided by law

Any person interested may at any time before the sale pay the petitioner the whole of his claim with interest and costs whereupon the proceedings on petition shall at once determine

For the purpose of enabling the petitioner in any such proceedings to give the notice required he may take the testimony of the defendant in the claim or of any other person whom he may have reason to believe has knowledge of the whereabouts of any of the parties respondent either by deposition commission or letters rogatory

Any county municipality township or school district being a claimant shall have the right and is hereby empowered to bid and become the purchaser of the property at such sale and while the said property so purchased is held and owned by either a county or a municipality township or school district it shall not be subject to tax claims unless it be redeemed by the former owner or other person having the right to redeem as provided by law If however a county municipality township or school district shall become the purchaser at said sale the former owner or other person desiring to redeem shall pay all taxes and municipal claims accrued and chargeable against the property prior to the sale thereof together with the costs and interest thereon and also all taxes and claims whether filed or not which would have accrued and become chargeable against the property had the same been purchased at the sale by some party other than the county city or other municipal division

Upon the delivery by the sheriff of a deed for any property sold under a tax or municipal claim the judgment upon which such sale was had shall thereupon and forever thereafter be final and conclusive as to all matters of defense which could have been raised in the proceeding including payment and no error or irregularity in obtaining or entering of such judgment shall effect the validity thereof

Section 32 The owner of any property sold under a tax or municipal claim or his assignees or any party whose lien or estate has been discharged thereby may redeem the same at any time within one year from the date of acknowledgment of the sheriff's deed therefor upon payment of the amount bid at such sale the cost of drawing acknowledging and recording the sheriff's deed the amount of all taxes and municipal claims whether not entered as liens if actually paid the principal and interest of estates and encumbrances not discharged by the sale and actually paid the insurance upon the property and other charges and necessary expenses of the property actually paid less rents or other income therefrom and a sum equal to interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum thereon from the time of each of such payments If both owner and creditor desire to redeem the owner shall have the right so to do only in case he pays the creditor's claim in full If more than one creditor desires to redeem the one who was lowest in lien at the time of sale shall have the prior right upon payment in full of the claim of the one higher in lien Within the year one who was lower in lien may redeem from one higher in lien who has already redeemed and the owner may redeem from him and so on throughout in each case by paying the claim of the one whose right was higher and one higher in lien may redeem from one lower in lien unless his claim is paid but in each case the right must be exercised within the year

Any person entitled to redeem may present his petition to the proper court setting forth the facts and his readiness to pay the redemption money whereupon the court shall grant a rule to show cause why the purchaser should not reconvey to him the premises sold and if upon hearing the court shall be satisfied of the facts it shall make the rule absolute and upon payment being made or tendered shall enforce it by attachment

Section 33 Any claim filed or to be filed under the provisions of this act and any judgment recovered thereon may be assigned or transferred to a third party either absolutely or as collateral security and such assignee shall have all the rights of the original holder thereof

Where the claim has been paid in full by one of several defendants therein whether originally named as such or allowed to intervene and defend it shall be satisfied of record as to him and marked to his use as against the other defendants pro rata according to their respective interests in the property bound by the claim

Section 34 Any claim petition answer replication scire facias affidavit of defense or other paper filed of record may be amended from time to time by agreement of the parties or by leave of the court upon petition for that purpose under oath or affirmation setting forth the amendment desired that the averments therein contained are true in fact and that by mistake they were omitted from or wrongfully stated in the particulars as to which amendment is desired Such amendments shall be of right saving intervening rights except that no amendment of the claim shall be allowed after the time for its filing has expired which undertakes to substitute an entirely different property from that originally described in the claim but the description of the property may be amended so as to be made more accurate as in other cases of amendment

The court may for cause shown and filed of record enlarge the time for filing the affidavit of defense answer or replication for issuing a scire facias or for entering security by rule or special or standing order and any judgment by default may be opened by the court upon cause shown by interveners or other defendants as in other cases but no enlargement of the time for issuing a scire facias shall extend the same beyond the time herein provided for preserving or retaining the lien thereof

Section 35 Any rule granted under the provisions of this act may be made returnable at such time as the court may direct either therein or by rule of court or by special or standing order All petitions answers and replications shall be under oath or affirmation Answers must be filled and served within fifteen days after service of the petition and rules and replications must be filed within fifteen days after service of the last of the answers Replications must be confined to a reply to new matter set forth in the answers

The facts averred by either party and not denied in the answer or replication of the other shall be taken as true in all subsequent proceedings in the cause without the necessity for proof thereof unless amended as herein set forth Any fact necessarily found by the court in finally determining a rule shall also be taken as true in all subsequent proceedings in the cause without the necessity for proof thereof unless either party by writing filed and served at least ten days prior to the time fixed for trial requires that it be submitted to the jury

Section 36 Unless otherwise herein provided all notices petitions and rules shall be served upon counsel for the parties interested or upon the parties themselves in the manner bills in equity are served or upon the owner by leaving a copy with the party in possession of the real estate or in default of service in any of the methods stated then in such manner as the court shall direct

Section 37 Whenever security is required to be given in accordance with the provisions of this act it may be approved by the prothonotary subject to an appeal to the court as in other cases If thereafter the security be found to be insufficient new security may be required within a given time in default of the entry of which the cause may proceed with the same effect as if none had been given the sureties however remaining liable By agreement of the parties or upon approval by the court after notice new security may be entered in lieu of that originally taken and an exonerator entered on the first bond or the security given may be limited to a particular property if clear of incumbrances and if also the security be entered as a lien upon said property

Section 38 In cases where there is a use-plaintiff if the claim shall be paid or otherwise satisfied or discharged at any time before or after filing it shall be the duty of the use-plaintiff or his legal representatives at the request of the owner or of any other person interested by a statement in writing showing how the claim was paid satisfied or discharged and on the payment of costs if any be due to enter satisfaction on the record of such claim In such cases a refusal to satisfy the claim for a period of sixty days after notice so to do served upon the use-plaintiff or his agent or attorney shall subject such use-plaintiff to a suit as for penalty at the hands of the party aggrieved in such sum as the jury shall determine to be just but not exceeding the amount of the claim

Section 39 From any definitive judgment order or decree entered by the court of common pleas under any of the provisions of this act or from the refusal to open a judgment entered by default an appeal may be taken by the party aggrieved to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases

Section 40 This act shall apply only to claims wherein the right to file a lien accrues after the date of its passage and to tax claims for the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and to municipal claims heretofore lawfully imposed or assessed within six months before the passage of this act and not liened at the time of its passage but the rights of other claimants under existing laws shall remain unaffected by its passage and all claims properly filed thereunder are hereby validated Provided however That all tax and municipal claims filed under any prior act of assembly or directed to be filed under any such prior act or acts including the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and sixty-four) may hereafter be revived continued and collected under and according to the procedure and provisions of this act

Section 41 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to repeal or affect the validity of any other acts of assembly providing other methods or remedies for the collection of taxes and municipal claims municipalities and use claimants shall have and retain the right to proceed to collect such claims by assumpsit distraint or under the acts relating to the collection of taxes upon seated and unseated land or in any other way or by any other method authorized by law as though this act had not been passed If any clause phrase section or part of this act is held to be unconstitutional it shall not affect the validity of the remaining or other portions of the act

All acts or parts of acts of assembly of this Commonwealth general special or local including those relating to the redemption of property from sheriff's sales on tax and municipal claims appertaining to the subject matter covered by this act and inconsistent herewith shall be and the same are hereby repealed it being intended that this act shall furnish a complete and exclusive system in itself so far as relates to tax and municipal claims except as hereinbefore set forth Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to repeal or to affect the validity of the act of Assembly approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and sixty) entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled 'An Act providing for the return of taxes on seated land in counties poor districts boroughs incorporated towns and townships for county poor borough town or township taxes respectively and providing for the sale of such lands for taxes so as to include school taxes

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 515, entitled:

An Act limiting rent as a preferred claim

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Horne, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HORNE. Yes, sir.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is a bill which reduced the period of preference for a landlord's claim from one year to three months. That might be for a period of rent in arrears or it might be for a period of rent on a contract in advance or a time in which the receivers claims were made. Those familiar with the renting of property are aware that in some proceedings the arrears to rent are for a period of one year, and why a man renting property should be given a year over other creditors is hard to perceive. It is a very unfair law, and I think there is nothing fair in the proposition of reducing the period to three months. I might also say that this bill has the approval of the credit agencies of the State, men collecting claims for merchants and others.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Horne, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HORNE, Yes, sir.

Mr. OGLE. Does your bill specify the period of three month preceding the date of the sale, or what three months does it cover?

Mr. HORNE. In my bill, rent in arrears might be by contract over any time.

Mr. OGLE. It seems to me it would be a wise thing to refer this bill to the committee for the purpose of amendment. Labor claims that are preferred must be for labor done witin three months from the date of sale. In this bill the three months is so indefinite that no one can determine for what three months that period covers. The bill is allright, the principle of it is allright, but I think it is defective in not specifying the three months that must be covered. I hope the gentleman will consent to refer it back to the committee for amendment.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaksr, not wishing in any way to take advantage of any person who is not familiar with the provisions of this bill, should it become a law, I am perfectly willing to postpone action on this bill, and I therefore move that further consideration of the bill be postponed.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 582, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seventy-nine), entitled "An Act providing for the better management of the jails or county prisons in the several counties of this Commonwealth of the third and fourth classes by creating, in such counties, a board to be known by the name and style of inspectors of the jail or county prison, with authority to appoint a warden of such prison, and by vesting in said board, and the officers appointed by it, the safe-keeping, discipline and employment of prisoners and the government and management of said jails or county prisons"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 692, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act, approved the sixth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and two (Pamphlet Laws, two hundred sixty-five) entitled "An Act authorizing the sale of Provisions, Vegetables and Fruit in the markets of any city, borough, or corporate town within the Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finaly?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, a number of members have asked me what this bill is. This bill, appears from what they tell me in the Department of Agriculture, to be an obsolete bill. The bill provides that it shall be lawful to sell, produce, and soforth, cities, boroughs and towns, provided that that produce and fruit has not been purchased in the same city, borough or town. For instance, as an example, if a man was to go to the wharf in the City of Philadelphia and purchase produce he could not sell it in the markets of Philadelphia, he would have to take it outside of the City of Philadelphia to sell it, therefore, the Department of Agriculture has asked to have this bill repealed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
